

STRIKERS STONE OTHER MACHINISTS

SEVERAL INJURED BEFORE POLICE QUELL DISTURBANCE

Militia Hurried to Scene of Twine Workers' Strike, and Are Given Orders to Kill if Necessary to Prevent an Uprising Like That of Yesterday Afternoon, When Two People Were Killed by the Police

AUBURN, N. Y., April 5.—Two additional companies of militia were summoned today to assist in patrolling the city.

It is feared that the strikers may attempt to avenge the killing of one of their number, a woman, yesterday.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 5.—A mob of 300 striking twine workers this morning bombarded machinists and strike breakers attempting to enter the plants of the International Harvester company and the Columbia Rope and Cordage company.

Several of the strike breakers were injured by the flying missiles, but none seriously.

After half an hour's demonstration on the part of the strikers, the police and militia succeeded in dispersing the crowds without further violence.

The militia have been ordered to shoot to kill if necessary, rather than have yesterday's bloody fighting duplicated.

BRIEF IN THE PULITZER ACTION IS FILED TODAY

NEW YORK, April 5.—Whether or not the mayor of a great city can libel a newspaper publisher—not only as a publisher, but as a private citizen—is the issue in the criminal action brought by Ralph Pulitzer against Mayor Gaynor, briefs in which were submitted today before Police Magistrate Kernochan. Pulitzer charges that during a speech at a Brooklyn banquet the mayor attacked his father, the late Joseph Pulitzer, accusing him of winning a fortune by using his paper as an agency of blackmail and indecency.

Some difficulty was experienced in finding the mayor when the papers were issued. However, the executive's counsel accepted service, and the hearing went on before the magistrate, even though the defendant himself was absent. It was stated in preliminary testimony that copies of the speech had been given to the newspapers by the mayor's secretaries.

MANY SEEKING CONCESSIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Six thousand applications for concessions at the Panama-Pacific International exposition have been filed with Director Frank Burt of the division of concessions and admissions, and although only thirty-one contracts have been granted to concessionaires, the latter will expend more than $2,000,000 in preparing their attractions for 1915.

"It is safe to predict," said Director Burt, "that this division when complete will represent an investment of $10,000,000 and the employment of 7,000 people, which is far in excess of previous expositions, their average investment having been $7,000,000, with the employment of 5,000 people. This is phenomenal, as the division of concessions and admissions of our exposition will only have sixty-three acres devoted to concessions, whereas other expositions used from 104 to 124 acres for concessions."

"However, the success of this division may be attributed to the fact that it will accept only that which represents what is best in the amusement world, small uninteresting 'side shows' are eliminated; only those that are educational and clean receiving the consideration of this division."

MARRIED WOMEN RUN ELEVATORS

TACOMA, April 5.—Discharging Japanese, after having tried American elevator operators with unsatisfactory results, the National Realty company, operating a seventeen-story office building, has employed four married women, one of them but a bride of a few days, to operate the lifts. The male janitor was also discharged and a woman employed in his place. A matron has been engaged to look after the female operators.

COMMITTEE WILL SEE MARE ISLAND

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—Whether or not Mare Island navy yard shall be disrated from first to second class is to be at the urgent demand of Congressman Charles F. Curry, in whose district the yard lies. Curry reached Washington to begin his work in the national legislature just in time to hear that Daniels had approved the change. New regulations call for a 40-foot depth of channel for the first class yards, and the Napa River at the island is only twenty-seven feet deep.

Curry rushed to the navy office, pointed out that there was an appropriation which would cover dredging sufficient to restore the channel to first rank, and pleaded for delay.

Daniels and his subordinates had made up their minds to keep the big ships in deep water, and were talking of locating a naval drydock on the lower bay, perhaps at Hunter's Point, San Francisco, or at Sausalito. Daniels finally yielded to Curry's plea, and ordered a special report on the cost of deepening the channel to and at Mare Island. Minole straths and the Napa River bed will both have to be cleared of silt.

If no provision is made on San Francisco Bay for the battleships, their only port for repairs while on the Pacific coast will be Bremerton.

YEGGS ROB BANK DURING MORNING

DAYLIGHT HOLDUP AT ALVARADO IS HIGHLY SENSATIONAL. ROBBERS ONLY GET $10, BARELY MISSING BIG SUM

ALVARADO, Calif., April 5.—While two regiments with rifles held off an armed crowd of citizens, three other members of the gang set off seven charges of explosives in the vault of the bank of Alvarado early today.

The last explosion wrecked the door of the vault, jamming it against a receptacle containing $27,000. This foiled the cracksmen, who secured only $19 for their work.

SUGAR MAY LEAD TO BIG CLASH SPARRENTORN FREED OF CHARGE

WILSON AND SOUTH ENGAGED IN HEATED ARGUMENT, WHICH MAY SOON WAGE THROUGH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—President Wilson was today informed that he must recede from his attitude regarding sugar, or fight the senate.

In reply he issued the sugar men an ultimatum that unless they accept a reduction with free sugar in three years, he will declare for immediate free sugar.

Wilson suggests to the Southern sugar interests that they accept a duty of a cent a pound on Cuban sugar and $1.20 on all sugar, this duty to run for three years, whereafter sugar would be free.

FIVE ARE SAID TO BE ASSURED OF PLUMS

PORTLAND, April 7.—Just what Oregon men will be named for federal offices tomorrow is causing no small amount of speculation in the state.

Recommendations for five of the principal federal jobs in Oregon have been made by United States senators Chamberlain and Lane, according to a rumor, supposed to be well founded. They are:

Postmaster at Portland—Frank S. Myers.

United States district attorney—Clarence L. Reames of Medford.

Collector of Customs—Milt A. Miller of Lebanon.

Collector of Internal Revenue—John Montag of Portland.

United States marshal—T. S. Burke of Baker.

The recommendations have been handed in to President Wilson, and he is expected to send his appointments to congress today.

From the senators themselves little or no inkling has been given out as to the recommendations on the ground that if the recommendations were known in advance there would be a storm of protests. If the foregoing list is correct there will be loud lamentations among the democrats in Oregon, for there are about six applicants for every position, and this means that there are at least five disappointed aspirants for every place.

To be arrested on a charge of selling liquor to Indians and taken to Portland to face the federal court; to stand the expense of a trial and go through the tedious and expensive preparation, only to find that there was no actual charge against him—his is the experience of J. L. Sparrentorn, a Bonanza merchant, who for the past twenty-two years has been considered highly in this county. Mr. Sparrentorn has just returned from Portland, where the charge against him was dismissed last Friday.

One of the matters brought out in the trial of Anderson Faithful, a Klamath Indian accused of murdering his wife, was that he was given a jug of whiskey by George Miller, another Indian. When Miller was called before the federal grand jury in regard to the matter, it was claimed that he stated that the intoxicant was sold to him by Sparrentorn. Upon this testimony the federal jury indicted Sparrentorn.

He was arrested and taken to Portland, and he went to considerable expense in preparing his defense, and in due time the case was called. At that time the United States district announced that after a careful investigation of the matter, he could find no evidence of the guilt of Sparrentorn, and he asked that the case be dismissed.

The dismissal of the case followed the refusal of Miller to state that he purchased or was furnished whiskey from Sparrentorn. The red steadfastly maintained that he did not state this before the federal grand jury, although the grand jury records showed differently, and when he was contradicted by the district attorney he made use of the shorter and uglier word. In order to straighten out the matter, five members of the grand jury before which the Indian had testified, who were in Portland, were subpoenaed, and each of them sustained the Indian in his contention. The prosecuting attorney then asked for the dismissal of the case.

It is figured that Mr. Sparrentorn is out at least $1,000 as a result of being arrested and taken to Portland to stand trial on no charge at all.

WOMEN'S VOTE IS UP AGAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Concurrently with the opening of congress, a great war began here today. It was the war of womanhood for the right to vote, and suffragists by the hundred were on hand to launch the campaign. The first guns fired were at the mall of President Wilson, which was so heavy that the letter carriers complained of overwork, and telegrams fairly flooded the executive offices. Each of these communications asked, demanded, suggested or pleaded that the question of suffrage be taken up by congress.

Before noon, nearly 1,000 women were assembled in a downtown theater, where a "rally" preceded the first personal work. After this, an informal parade to the Capitol was planned, with Boy Scouts in line to help keep order. Then began the real campaign. Senators and congressmen found themselves buttonholed at every turn, and no member escaped. Each was besought to advocate suffrage by voice and vote. This plan, the leaders declared, would be kept up regardless of rebuffs. Miss Alice Paul is in charge of the campaign, but national leaders such as Dr. Anna Shaw, Charlotte Perkins Gilman and others, will be here at intervals to assist her.
