The Happy Hour Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. P. Johnson on Eighth and Walnut streets Friday afternoon. Those present were Mrs. George Humphrey, Mrs. Sam Summers, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Loy Hilyard, Mrs. Floy Mundy, Mrs. R. C. Shipley, Mrs. Guy Walters, Mrs. Robert A. Emmitt, Mrs. Will Weedon, Mrs. Byron Hardenbrook and Mrs. Will Houston, members, and Mrs. Fred Stahlman, Mrs. R. J. Sheets, Mrs. Austin Hayden, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Dave Kenyon and Mrs. John Johnson. The afternoon was spent in chatting and needlework. Dainty refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed.

A pleasant surprise was tendered

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Emmitt last Saturday evening by a few of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weedon, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Blehn, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. North, Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. VanValkenburg, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. North. The evening was pleasantly spent playing five hundred.

"Sister Odd Fellows" was the title of a farcical comedy rendered at the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday evening by members of Prosperity Rebekah lodge in the presence of a large audience, and much merriment was occasioned by the capable work of the cast of local actors. Following the play the guests played cards and danced, and a novelty luncheon was served. Coffee and sandwiches were served, and in addition the guests were told to choose three items from the following menu:

- Everlasting Delight
- Leap Year Proposal
- Adam's Ale
- Chip off the Old Block
- Sour Help
- Boston Loves Them

The Priscilla Club met at the home of Mrs. C. B. House Wednesday afternoon, and there were present Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Graves, Mrs. Miles Lippert, Mrs. R. J. Sheets, Mrs. Percy Sholl, Mrs. Lizzie Fitch, Mrs. Logsden. Needlework was given attention and refreshments were served.

A TRIBUTE TO THE DEPARTED

OLD KLAMATH RESIDENT TELLS OF THE UPHILL FIGHT OF KENO MERCHANT WHO HAS JUST PASSED AWAY

By ROBERT A. EMMITT
Henry L. Smith of Keno, Oregon, was born in Maine on August 20, 1856, and died April 14, 1913, being 56 years 7 months and 24 days old at the time of his death.

When a small boy he, together with his parents, moved to Siskiyou county, California, at a time when pioneer life, ruffianism and lawlessness was the rule, rather than the exception, and yet, with all the coarse and rough surroundings of society he developed into manhood with such force of character as made him one of the most honored and respected citizens.

About thirty years ago he removed to Keno, where he has maintained a residence, and from which time he has been my intimate personal and confidential friend. He has been in my employ, and I have been in his; always fair, just and prudent. I have known him in prosperity and in adversity, ever retaining that same even temperament.

He was my friend, and I was his friend, in truth and spirit. About fifteen years ago he became totally blind, which affliction he bore with marked patience and cheerfulness unknown to others.

While attending the blind school at Salem, Oregon, he made the acquaintance of Miss Sadie B. Bristol, who was also blind, and in 1903 they were married at my house. To this union one son was born, who still survives. They were generally familiar and pleasantly known as the blind couple of Keno. Usually in such cases of blindness, the aid of charity is asked for and expected, but to the contrary, they were successful in business, and the family is fairly well provided for financially. His clear insight foretold of his early passing, and consequent settlement of all his business affairs to the satisfaction of relatives and family. In all my intimate associations with him, never a word of reproach, in my hearing, against a single individual, not even under the most adverse circumstances.

A warm hearted, tender, kind and indulgent father and husband; a generous, upright, public spirited citizen, grateful to his Creator, faithful to his country and loyal to his friends.

It is to be hoped that Providence and the people will be kind to his relatives, his brother, his wife and widow, his son and orphan, and that all, both relatives and friends, in their bereavement, will remember that Providence has decreed that all living beings must pass away and sink sub-

DOCTORS WANT THE DITCH FILLED

ALL THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN OF THE CITY SEEK THE CLOSING OF THE ANKENY DITCH

When the city council this evening considers the petition for the filling of the Ankeny ditch, long a source of menace to the health of the community, the governing body will know the pleasure of nearly every physician in the city, and every business and professional man.

Never before was a petition circulated here that was signed so freely by all as the petition to be introduced in the council this evening. That the Ankeny ditch is partly responsible for much of the sickness in the past is the general belief, and rather than take any chance on having another epidemic, the people intend to keep up the fight for the abatement of the nuisance until the obnoxious waterway is filled.

The petition to be presented tonight asks the council to take steps to purchase the water rights at a fair figure, and if the owners then refuse to relinquish, to purchase the amount of water they are entitled to from the California-Oregon Power company, and deliver it to the owner of the water right free of cost, so the ditch can be abandoned.

PERRY WEBBER IS KILLED BY GUN

Word has been received in this city of the death of Perry E. Weber at Turlock, Calif. The young man was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun.

Young Webber was the son of Geo. W. Webber, who was connected with the reclamation service here for several years.

J. A. Maddox is in today from his ranch near Merrill.

MONEY AVAILABLE FOR COUNTY FAIR

STATE FAIR APPROPRIATION FOR KLAMATH COUNTY AMOUNTS TO OVER $800—AVAILABLE IN JUNE

SALEM, April 21.—Although the secretary of state and the attorney general have given out a number of statements showing that the money provided for county fairs in the law enacted by the last legislature will be available in June of this year, confusion and misunderstanding still exist in many parts of the state, and inquiries continue to pour in to the office of the secretary of state.

Secretary of State Ben Olcott has issued another statement. He points out that the law enacted by the last legislature repeals all existing laws providing for district fairs, but authorizes a county fair in each county. If a county fair is already organized or an agricultural society has been holding county fairs, then that organization or society is to be recognized as the official county fair. But if no county fair is now in existence then the county court is authorized to appoint a county fair board.

The appropriation for Klamath county amounts to $863.35. A warrant will be issued later in favor of the county treasurer for the amount.

Oscar Farno is here from Dorris for a short visit.

What's the Matter With the Old Watch?

It's not getting any younger, you know, and once in a while it needs a rest and overhauling. Railroad watches are cleaned and overhauled once a year to insure accurate time-keeping. Why not bring yours in and let us give it the attention that is necessary for good time keeping.

Many a Dollar is Thrown Away

That would not be if the owner had to draw a check for it. An account with the First Trust and Savings Bank compels a man to think twice before he spends once. Think how many dollars you wouldn't spend if you had to make out a check for them.

SANTRY QUITS THE FIGHTING GAME

CRESCENT HOTEL KEEPER, FORMERLY WELL KNOWN PUGILIST, IS IN THE CITY ON BUSINESS—TALKS OF ANDERSON

Eddie Santry, a former top liner in the squared circle, was in Monday from Crescent, where he conducts a hotel. He appeared before the county court this afternoon to arrange for a license under the new law to operate a bar.

Santry was one of the few men in the country who was able to hold down the strenuous "Battling" Nelson to a draw in the early days when the Dane was working his way toward the lightweight championship.

"I have quit the fighting game," declared Santry this afternoon. "Naturally I am interested in events pugilistic, and have been watching this boy Anderson. I do not believe that he will ever win the lightweight championship. It does not appear to me that he is a natural lightweight, and in a short time he will be rated as a welter."

Anderson is a man of exemplary habits, and the hard work he is now putting in means that he is taking on weight which he will never be able to dispose of without greatly weakening himself.

Circuit Judge Henry L. Benson and Court Reporter Dick Richardson left Sunday morning for Salem to attend to legal matters. They will be away several days.

George Deal is in from his Langell Valley home last Saturday. Mrs. Deal, who is in the Blackburn hospital, is rapidly recovering, and it is expected that she will soon be able to return home.

Eddie Santry, a Crescent business man, came in Saturday to attend to business matters.

The Spring Fashion Girl
Quite a cut-up is she,
For her skirts are all slashed
To the height of her knee.

The question's an open one
Therefore, you see,
As to what she will wear
For her Spring lingerie.

NEW YORK, April 18.—There are a great many things going on under cover these days, but a great many more are coming off. Corsets and petticoats have been discarded with reckless abandon, and now combinations are dropping off the shoulders like petals from the last rose of summer.

To be sure, to attain just the proper uncorseted figure it is paradoxically necessary to have the most carefully fitted corset. Milady is avelite, indeed, who can afford to shed that all-embracing article altogether. She will find it safer and snugger to select one of the new models, long of hip, low of bust and stout of material—and gird herself therein. The very newest stays are all below the belt, with the bust left unsupported. For the really buxom beauty, however, the brassieres have reached such acme of perfection that any figure may be neat if not exactly natty.

Though once cast aside, the petticoat is now being welcomed back like a prodigal son, and many a "fatted calf" is being prepared for its coming. The 1913 model seems born anew in a more ethereal form of filmy lace and diaphanous chiffon. As your skirt is slashed, so must your petticoat be, and this offers many possibilities for decoration.

Made of azure, pink or white crepe de chine, trimmed in lace or point d'esprit, they are truly irresistible. Van Dyke points of German val set in the bottom of a skirt, each point sparkling with a tiny brilliant, give individuality to one effective model. Deep ruffles of pleated lace or net caught with rosettes of ribbon or tiny chiffon rosebuds make another exquisite finish. Silk mull is another popular lingerie material that is sharing honors with fine batiste or the new voile linen, which is extremely sheer and launders beautifully.

Combinations in all these materials are most attractive cut on princess lines, the seams being joined with lace insertion or entre deux. Shown in the new drop-off-the-shoulder effects they draw up with a ribbon straight around under the armpits and over the bust; sometimes they are given a more stable appearance by a narrow flesh color ribbon band over each shoulder. They are the necessary outcome of the transparent bodices and sleeves on the newest evening gowns. Shirring and tiny tucks, insets of lace and embroidery, rosettes, rosebuds and bows riot in profusion over the upper part of the combination and finish them below. If you are handy with your needle and ingenious in designing, let your fancy rove at will, and your lingerie will be fit for Queen Titania.

Unless you are particularly fussy about the fetish "made by hand," you will find that the most charming combinations and petticoats can be purchased ready made at surprisingly low cost. As the chief essential of the new lingerie is its perfect fit, the ready made garments have the advantage over the home made products, of having been shaped by expert cutters.

Cut kimona style of empire, fast spring nighties grow lovelier and more charming as they grow thinner and thinner. In more ways than one they are sheer works of art. Most of them are so sheer, in fact, that a little bed jacket of crepe de chine or French flannel is a comfortable adjunct these cool spring mornings for the convalescent or the fortunate languid lady who breakfasts luxuriously "au lit."

And then, to cap the climax, as it were, are the coquettish breakfast caps that frame the face in a froth of lace and at the same time cover any short comings—or rather combings—of your natural coiffure. These dainty confections are, indeed, and in fact, a first aid to beauty in distress. Whether a mob cap of colored crepe de chine frilled in pleated lace and caught with a tiny rosebud or two, or Dutch snoods of Irish lace, or coifs of embroidery and net, they are all recherche. So size up your type of countenance and cap it becomingly. As honeymoon adjuncts these fetching snoods are unequalled. Breakfast opposite a captivating cap are sure to be capital.

The most adorable little sachets to be tucked amid the laces of your lingerie come in sets of six or twelve these days. In color and shape they simulate the flowers with whose fragrance their little insides are stuffed. You may have a packet of assorted perfumes—one for each day of the week, or you may adopt one distinctive perfume as your own, and order your sachets carried.

Following the Oriental trend of the fashions, the seductive scents of the Orient are high in favor and flavor just now, and if you smell like a piece of Chinese punk or a sandal wood fan, you are sure in good order.
