The government pushed him persistently in endeavoring to secure a settlement, but he paid no attention until the suit had been started and a deputy from the United States marshal's office had run up a cost bill through service expenses amounting to about $75.

The government compromised with Bechtoldt by charging him only $25 for the wood, making his whole bill $102.

NEWETT'S ATTORNEY GIVES NICKEL AND PENNY

When the Plaintiff Rested, Editor of Iron Age Read a Long Retraction of the Statement Against Roosevelt, and Made Profuse Apology—Roosevelt Says He Is Content, as He Achieved Purpose

MARQUETTE, May 31.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's damage suit against Editor Newett of the Iron Age was abruptly ended just before 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the defendant surrendered completely.

The jury returned a verdict awarding Roosevelt 6 cents. After the plaintiff rested, Newett took the stand. He read a long statement, defending his mistake in charging the colonel with drunkenness.

The statement also contained a free and full retraction of the charge of drunkenness and an apology.

"In view of the statement of the defense," said Roosevelt, addressing the court immediately afterwards, "I ask the court to instruct the jury that I desire only nominal damages. Never again will it be possible for any man, in good faith, to repeat these charges."

"I have achieved my purpose," concluded Roosevelt, "and am content."

The jury returned a verdict awarding Roosevelt 6 cents.

A nickel and a penny was solemnly handed the colonel by Newett's attorney.

ASHLAND, Or., May 31.—The town of Talent is excited over the finding of a six-ounce gold nugget at the foot of Wagner Butte Sunday by Jonas Spitzer. The nugget is almost a perfect specimen and worth from $100 to $120.

Spitzer has a placer claim on this property, but because of lack of water has been unable to work it properly. In looking over the property Sunday he kicked over a rock, and nestling beneath was a glistening nugget in a ledge of quartz.

The discovery has thrown the village into a fever of excitement. The nugget has been put on exhibition, and the foot of Wagner Butte is visited daily by amateur prospectors, men and women hoping to hit upon a similar find.

Last Friday J. Anderson found a nugget on Anderson creek about the same size, and if these discoveries continue a gold stampede may be expected.

WILSON TO HAVE HAND IN PROBE

ASSUMES PERSONAL CHARGE OF LOBBY QUERY

Members of Both Houses Are to Appear in Alphabetical Order for Examination as to Whether or Not They Were Approached in Connection With Voting on the Tariff Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—President Wilson today assumed personal charge of the investigation as to the existence of a paid lobby in the capital. He outlined clearly and unequivocally just how he intends to guide the inquiry.

Among other things, Wilson said he summoned Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina, chairman of the judiciary committee, and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, also of that committee, to the White House to make a number of suggestions and talk over plans with them.

Wilson does not intend to appear personally before the investigation.

The senate judiciary subcommittee today commenced questioning the senators in an effort to learn whether lobbyists were attempting to influence the tariff legislation pending before that body, and what steps had been taken.

It is also planned to learn whether or not the senators are financially interested in the pending measures.

Members of the senate are to be summoned alphabetically for examination. The republican senators propose to read the names of hundreds of constituents who are protesting against the Underwood bill, and expressing a fear that it will bring about business ruin.
