THE UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

THE 1913 MODEL

SEVEN BIG FEATURES

- 1.—Non-Rusting nickel silver skimming sections.
- 2.—Mechanically washed in half the time of other separators.
- 3.—Operated with about half the power of older models.
- 4.—Bowl only about half the diameter of older models.
- 5.—Milk divided into hundreds of currents and every drop subjected to a skimming force thousands of times the force of gravity.
- 6.—Celebrated for its clean skimming. For clean skimming the U. S. holds the World's Record in 50 consecutive runs, lasting over a period of 30 days, with milk from 10 different breeds of cows.
- 7.—Cream of any desired thickness, even quality and free from specks of butter.

You will be well paid if you examine the 1913 model U. S. and see these features yourself. Wouldn't you like to have us set one up in your dairy for free trial?

HOXEY'S MARK PASSED A MILE

RECORD ASCENSION MADE BY LOCAL BASEBALL CLOUTERS YESTERDAY, THE WHOLE TEAM PARTICIPATING

Merrill 9; Klamath Falls 0. Sounds like an interesting game, doesn't it?

It started off like one, too.

Both teams started in playing ball from the start, and neither side scored, so the fans started to settle themselves to watch a real exhibition of the national game. Then came the fourth inning. Then heavenward went Klamath Falls. It is alleged to have happened in somewhat this manner. Included in the Merrill delegation of rooters were several of the type who could arouse the wrath of a jellyfish, and their bombardment of chatter in the fourth caused an animal of the Angora variety to mosey from one of the Klamath player's side and get right in the midst of the rooters.

Feeling lonesome the player fooled two or three throws, and the cushions were populated, and others contributing misplays presented Merrill with two perfectly good tallies.

Now this should have satisfied the Merrill team, as it was enough to win, but it didn't. After being retired one-two-three by Shive in the fifth, the goat of Center Fielder Baum was captured in the sixth, and he was almost struck by a fly he did not catch, after Pangborn had singled. Maxwell's retrieving of P. Vorhatzer's fly to left and his throw catching Vorhatzer at second brought the team closer to the ground.

In the seventh canto the entire Klamath Falls team was goatless, and three singles in succession by Dyer, Stevenson and Frank Xorgatzer and a base on balls to Blodgett netted Merrill three runs. Another run was brought in in the eighth, and in the closing chapter of "the comedy of errors" another trio of tallies went to the Merrill side of the score book.

The playing of the Merrill team was a revelation to the local fans. Stevenson and Blodgett are a working battery, and they were given excellent support by their team mates.

The lineup was something like this: Klamath Falls—Shive and Maxwell pitchers; Thresher, catcher; Arnold, first base; Menner, second base; Ambrose, third base; French, shortstop; Maxwell and Shive, left field; Baum, center; Noel, right field.

ALEX CHEYNE IS A BENEDICT

Miss Wilda Crystal McReynolds has become Mrs. Alex Cheyne, as a result of a quiet wedding at the Methodist parsonage Saturday afternoon, when Rev. George H. Feese pronounced the ceremony uniting these two well known residents of Klamath county.

The groom attained fame all over the coast this winter on account of his "skunk" farm. He has a fine ranch on the Merrill road.

SATURDAY WAS HOTTEST IN MAY

Saturday, May 31, was the hottest day of the month just ended, according to the meteorological record at the reclamation service headquarters. The thermometer reached 83 degrees.

Following is the report for the month:

Temperature—Mean maximum, 67.4; mean minimum, 40; maximum, 83, on May 31; minimum, 26, on May 1 and 2.

Precipitation—.71 of an inch. Greatest in 24 hours, .28 of an inch, on May 9.

Summary—Number of days with .01 of an inch or more precipitation: clear, 18; partly cloudy, 8, and cloudy, 5.

The pulpit of the Church of the Redeemer has been supplied by Rev. Joseph Sheerin, until recently rector of one of the Episcopal parishes in the Rogue River valley.

SACRAMENTO RUNNING TIME LOWER

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE BECOMES EFFECTIVE SUNDAY

Instead of Going Only to Chico, the Morning Passenger From This City Will Soon Be Running to Sacramento, According to Traveling Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad

A new train schedule will go into effect next Sunday, according to the announcement of H. W. Wenzell, the traveling passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, who is in the city today from Sacramento.

Mr. Wenzell is accompanied by his wife, who is making her first trip to Klamath Falls.

Beginning Sunday, the morning train out of Klamath Falls will run through to Sacramento, instead of stopping at Chico, as formerly. This will enable Klamath Falls people to reach Sacramento the same day after leaving.

The evening trains will arrive at the same time as at present.

SECOND STREET FILL CROWDS INTO COURT

A suit involving the work on the Second street boulevard last summer, was filed in the circuit court late Saturday evening, when C. A. Arnold commenced action against G. W. White to recover $540 for hauling dirt for the fill.

According to the complaint, filed by Attorney J. C. Rutenic, Arnold was hired by White to haul earth for a fill on Second street from Oak to Klamath avenue, at the rate of 50 cents a yard. He says he hauled 1080 yards, and asks a judgment for the cash value.

In answer, White, through Stone & Gale, has filed a demurrer, in which every allegation of the complaint is denied.

The Second street fill was a part of a plan for a driveway from the county fair ground to Main street, which, in addition to furnishing a boulevard for the city, provided a direct entrance to the West End of Klamath Falls from the Merrill and Midland roads.

In order to put through this road so an entrance could be made by Second street, it was necessary to make a fill for several blocks on Second, and to solicit funds for this a committee was formed, one of the members being G. W. White.

COMING PLAY IS GRIPPING TALE

When the curtain raises Friday evening on the production of Eugene Walters' gripping comedy-drama, "The Wolf," given under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, Klamath Falls theater goers will witness one of the most popular plays on the American stage. Beautiful scenic effects combined with both strong dramatic and humorous situations, will make the production a complete success.

The theme of the play is a string on which any dramatist might play and not weary an audience. While not less a comedy-drama, it is a faithful transcript of actual life. There is a rich vein of humor, brought out by Harry Messmer as George Huntley, the surveyor.

Miss Marjorie McClure, in the part of Hilda McTavish, who is dominated by an unreasonable father, is afforded the widest scope, shifting from the light-heartedness of the mountain girl to the height of emotional womanhood.

The parts of Jules Beaubien, Hilda's lover, played by Joe McAllister; Andrew McTavish, an eccentric Scotch settler, played by E. E. McNaughton, and William McDonald, an American engineer, known as "The Wolf," played by C. J. McNaughton, are all drawn in clever fashion.

Double specialties will be introduced between the acts, in which some of the following song hits will be rendered: "Maybe It's a Robber," "Garden of Sweden," "Whistle," "When That Midnight Choo-Choo Leaves for Alabama," "Dear Old Moonlight," "Goodbye, Everybody," "Can She Rag?" "When It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy," and many others.

W. A. Delzell returned Saturday from the Middle West, where for several months past he has been connected with a publishing house.

What's the Matter With the Old Watch?

It's not getting any younger, you know, and once in a while it needs a rest and overhauling. Railroad watches are cleaned and overhauled once a year to insure accurate time-keeping. Why not bring yours in and let us give it the attention that is necessary for good time keeping.

COMPENSATION ACT HELD BY REFERENDUM

Referendum petitions against the workmen's compensation act, the county attorney bill and the sterilization bill were filed with the secretary of state at Salem Saturday, and these new laws cannot go into effect until a favorable vote is taken on them in November.

The compensation bill provided that all persons or firms engaged as employers in hazardous occupations came under the provisions of the act, unless notice was given to the commission before June 15th. Now that the bill has been referred to the people this notice will not be necessary, as the operation of the law is held up until decided by an election.

Referendum petitions have also been filed against two of the University of Oregon appropriation bills.

NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—"I have returned to my mother," was the farewell note left by Bernard Rosegen for his wife whom he left. He immediately applied for a separation and also an injunction to prevent her further "cruelty, abuse and brutality."

He exhibited two black eyes to the court, which appointed his mother's house as his domicile, a proceeding customary when a woman seeks divorce.

"Sure I beat him," said his wife, "and I thank heaven I had strength to do so. Men have been beating their wives long enough. I was very good to Bernard under the circumstances."

Mrs. Rosegen is a real estate dealer. Her husband has no active work, but had a fortune when they married.

HANLEY'S RANCH IN THE MOVIES

THOUSANDS OF FEET OF FILM, SHOWING THE CATTLE INDUSTRY AND OTHER CENTRAL OREGON SCENES, TO BE MADE

BURNS, Ore., June 2.—Moving pictures are being taken of the great Central Oregon country, so the millions of people in the United States may see the actual development of this territory. In order to get the scenic and industrial pictures of Harney county stock raising, Ralph R. Earle of Portland, in charge of the picture taking outfit, accompanied by Lloyd W. McDowell, publicity manager for the Hill railroad lines, is spending a week on Colonel William Hanley's ranches, in order to secure real buckaroo scenes and reproduce methods used in handling large herds of cattle.

Earle and McDowell arrived in Burns last Tuesday, and first secured photos of old Indians and settlers, then went to the "P" ranch to spend several days around the buckaroo camp. Then Earle secured views of the surrounding country and other interesting pictures of ranch and farm life in Harney county.

It is through Louis W. Hill, former president of the Great Northern railroad, that the Pathe's Weekly is enabled to get these pictures. He considers the moving picture one of the greatest things of the present generation to help educate the people regarding their own country.

The reels depicting the wonders of this part of Oregon will be sent to Jersey City at once, where they will be developed and placed into a machine, where it will be possible to produce from 300 to 500 positives from the one original negative. When the reels are made up in the proper order and completely finished they are sent to general film companies, which distribute them to all parts of the United States. They are to be released on a certain date, so that the people in Portland and Tacoma may see them as soon as those in New York.

The reels are given to the big houses first, and then to others, and finally to outside towns. In the large cities the pictures are shown ten times a day, while in country towns they are flashed on the canvas three times a week, making a total of 50,000,000 people, estimated, who gaze on one set of films. The sets run from six months to a year.

The Pathe people have representatives all over the world who send a total of 5,000 feet of news pictures a week to headquarters. From this about 1,000 feet is selected for use, generally. Several thousand feet of films will be used on the Harney county and Deschutes River pictures, so that a big selection can be made.

Still Here

I have been told so many times since my return from Portland, where I was attending to business in the United States court that during my absence there was a report around town that I had removed from Klamath Falls, that I am constrained to say that I am still here, and have not had any notion of leaving Klamath. Respectfully, C. C. BROWER.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Loosley of Ft. Klamath are here for a short visit.

PARADE ONE OF LARGEST IN STATE

APPROPRIATE EXERCISES IN THE AFTERNOON

Grand Army, Women's Relief Corps, Lodges, School Children, City and County Officials and Citizens Join in Making Today's Memorial Services Highly Appropriate—Stores Are Closed

With the business houses of the city closed, a patriotic procession, exercises by the Grand Army of the Republic and Women's Relief Corps, and an appropriate program at Houston's opera house, Klamath Falls people honored the soldier dead of the nation Friday in a manner highly fitting the occasion.

The parade this morning was the largest ever held here on a similar occasion, and there is no doubt but what it is the largest held in the state today.

In addition to participation by Sprague Post, Grand Army of the Republic, and Sprague Chapter, Women's Relief Corps, the I. O. O. F., Rebekahs, Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, all joined in the line of march, as did the Klamath Falls Military band, the Boy Scouts, the school children, city and county officials, and 50 automobiles filled with business men and citizens.

While the parade was being formed at the courthouse by Grand Marshal Applegate, the third section marched to the Link river bridge, where the W. R. C. and G. A. R. observed their beautiful ceremony of respecting the memories of those unknown heroes, the sailor dead who perished on the seas while fighting for the Stars and Stripes.

First Section

The order of parade follows: Grand Marshal Capt. O. C. Applegate and aides, Harry Stults, E. L. Elliott, W. B. Mason and Wm. Lee, mounted.

Klamath Falls Military band. Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Sisters of Rebecca. Knights of Pythias. Pythian Sisters.

Ladies of the Maccabees of the World. Benevolent Protective Order of Elks.

Second Section

School band. Schoolgirls with flowers. Schoolboys with flags. Boy Scouts, Professor Coates in charge.

Third Section

Ramsby's Drum corps. Volunteers of Spanish, Indian and other late wars, and all citizens who wish to participate in the honors of the army and navy. Women's Relief corps. Grand Army of the Republic. Business men.

The line of march from the courthouse to the cemetery, where again the G. A. R. and W. R. C. ritual services were held. A short breaking of ranks followed, during which those marching took occasion to scatter garlands and wreaths on the graves of friends or relatives who have departed this life.

Upon returning to the courthouse, the people participating in the procession dispersed. In the afternoon the observance was taken up again at Houston's opera house, when the following highly appropriate program was rendered:

Selection—High School orchestra. Singing—"America," by the audience.

Invocation—Rev. Larkin Stucker. Solo—"Just Before the Battle, Mother," Mrs. William Wagner.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—Mr. Edwin Cox.

Singing—Male quartet. Reading—"Thomas at Chickamauga," Mrs. Elmer French.

Music—Male quartet. Memorial Address—Hon. Henry L. Benson.

Lyceum Chorus—"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." Benediction.

HOUSTON HOST TO SCHOOL KIDS

Children were again the guests of honor at the Star theater on Saturday. The occasion was the matinee given by Manager John V. Houston for the school children who marched in yesterday's Memorial day parade.

A good program of pictures was given for the kids, and if intermittent exclamations of delight and continual bobbing of heads can be taken for anything, they were certainly pleased.

In addition the two Rosso children, appearing at the theater with their parents, gave some special numbers for the guests. The youngsters are exceptionally clever, and their act was loudly and enthusiastically applauded.

Finish This Story

WORKMAN in an IHC wagon factory was explaining the various stages of wagon construction to an interested visitor. He picked up two pieces of long leaf yellow pine, and asked the visitor to notice the difference in the weight of the two pieces. The lighter piece, he explained, was kiln-dried. The heavier piece was air-dried. It had retained the resinous sap which adds strength and toughness, while in the kiln-dried piece of lumber this sap had been drawn out by the too rapid application of heat.

Every Stick of Lumber Used in IHC Wagons Is Carefully Selected, Air-Dried Stock

Here was something to think about. The visitor asked for a test as to the relative strength of the two pieces of wood. The air-dried piece held up under nearly double the weight under which the kiln-dried piece of lumber broke.

To the eye there was no difference between these two pieces of lumber, but when put to the test there was a vast difference. So it is throughout the construction of IHC wagons—Weber, Columbus, New Bettendorf, Steel King. They are built for real strength, light draft, and satisfactory service.

Weber and Columbus wagons have wood gears. Steel King and New Bettendorf have steel gears. IHC local dealers handle the wagons best suited to your work. See them for literature and full information, or, write
