

PRESIDENT HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

AUTOMOBILE COLLIDES WITH A HOUSE

Although Badly Bumped, Wilson Only Laughs at the Mishap—Is the Second in a Week—Secret Service Automobile Goes Over an Embankment Also in Avoiding a Wagon Traveling in Opposite Direction

United Press Service.

WINDSOR, July 11.—President Woodrow Wilson narrowly escaped death or serious injury today in an automobile wreck.

This escape, following his close call from a projectile while yachting on Monday, leads friends to say that the New Jersey man has a charmed life.

Wilson's chauffeur was forced to drive off the road in order to avoid an approaching wagon. The machine went down the road embankment, into a yard and ran into a house before it could be stopped.

The machine used by the secret service detail was forced from the road in the same manner. The second car was stopped in time to prevent a collision.

Although badly bumped, President Wilson was not injured. He laughed about the experience.

JAKEY OPPENHEIMER, TIGER OF FOLSOM, HANGED AT LAST

FOLSOM, Calif., July 11.—Jakey Oppenheimer, the ferocious prisoner at the Folsom penitentiary, who has made repeated attempts on guards and trustees, expired for his deeds on the gallows this morning.

Oppenheimer went to his death calmly. He smiled as the death cap was adjusted, keeping up to the last the unbroken spirit that resulted from his defeats in his hard fight for his life.

Before the cap was adjusted Oppenheimer moralized upon capital punishment. He branded it as a relic of barbarism.

"It does not matter about me, but I want to state that capital punishment is a penalty held from an age of cruelty," said Oppenheimer. "This world is little by little becoming better, but the people should abolish at once the death punishment."

Oppenheimer, the "Tiger of Folsom Prison," and the most famous convict in the West, has made a remarkable fight for life that led to the United States supreme court. Oppenheimer was sentenced to die under a California law which makes an attack on a prison guard a crime punishable by death.

Oppenheimer was sentenced from Oakland to a fifty-year term in Folsom prison for robbery in August, 1895. A few years later he fatally stabbed a fellow prisoner named Ross.

He was convicted of the murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin. There he stabbed Guard McDonald, but not fatally.

Placed in solitary confinement, he mysteriously secured a piece of steel, made a file, and sawed his way to liberty.

Oppenheimer was captured, tried for his attack on McDonald, sentenced to death and sent to Folsom prison.

While awaiting execution "Tiger" Oppenheimer stabbed Convict Quijada to death with a fork, following a trivial argument while eating.

Once again Oppenheimer was placed in "solitary," and once again he secured a piece of steel, made a saw and got out into the corridor, where he was captured. Oppenheimer, it is said, has a dozen or more times secured pieces of metal and used them to saw his way from his cell, but the authorities have suppressed the reports of it.

TARIFF MEASURE GOES TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—Chairman of the Finance Committee Simmons today reported the tariff bill to the senate.

The report provides for reductions of nearly 10 per cent from the house bill.

Financier Thomas, remarking on this fact said:

"For the first time in the history of American politics, the majority of the senate has shown itself to be more radically progressive than the the house majority. We believe we have given to the people in this bill a sincere and highly acceptable fulfillment of the pledges in the democratic national platform.

"We have written a tariff bill for the people, and not for the special interests. The bill can easily be understood, because its whole trend is toward the equalization of opportunities."

SCHOOLS IN WEST ARE DEMOCRATIC

SUCCESSFUL IDAHO EDUCATOR SAYS THAT THERE IS A MUCH BROADER FIELD HERE FOR THE GOOD TEACHER

Special to The Herald

EUGENE, July 11.—The Western States as a laboratory in which the problem of educating the great bulk of the population, including those sections of society which are now limited to a grade school education or less, was treated before the assembly of the University of Oregon summer school today by Superintendent Chas. S. Meek of Boise, Idaho. The East will continue to cling to tradition, he predicts, while the West, through its natural inclination and the character of its people, is already entering upon the exploitation of the "new, the untried, and the untested."

Mr. Meek has disregarded tradition in his expansion of the school system of Boise. After four years of bold experiment, he presented to the University of Oregon summer school in his lectures this week an imposing array of statistics which he interprets to mean that Boise has created the "new education" for its young people without weakening the hold of the proved and tried traditional studies which have always attracted a certain fraction of the population.

He asserts that the enormous increase in high school attendance noted since the introduction of "vocational" studies means only that the schools are now reaching a class which formerly stayed away from school entirely. Mr. Meek has even gone so far as to allow a boy credit for clerking in his father's store, which counted toward graduation in place of geometry, for which the lad proved unfitted. Other students, set to work on repairing school buildings, are paid in cash by the board of education as well as in school credits by the instructors.

Mr. Meek recommended that the teachers seize the opportunity afforded by the liberal and unconventional spirit of the West, and try to work boldly toward some democratic system of education that would provide for the needs and fulfill the aspirations of all types of people, and would keep all the young people in school.

Can't Sleep at Movies ROME, July 11.—The court of appeals has just decided against the right of a spectator to sleep during a moving picture show. Guiseppe Baldino, a farmer, had attended a cinema-matinee, and during the show was relieved of $29 by Ubaldo Colombo, who was sitting next to him. The farmer sued to recover the amount from the proprietor of the moving picture show. The court held that the proprietor of the show could not be held responsible.

LIVERPOOL, July 11.—As the king and queen were passing through the streets this morning a woman attempted to break through the lines and hand his majesty a petition for woman's suffrage.

TO PUT CAMELS ON OUR DESERT

SYNDICATE WILL START BREEDING FARM ON RIO GRANDE. THE ANIMALS WILL BE USED BY PROSPECTORS

United Press Service

EL PASO, Tex., July 1.—Camel caravans such as those seen in the Great Sahara Desert will soon become familiar sights in the deserts of New Mexico, Arizona and Southern California, if the plans of an association of Southwestern business men are successful. J. H. Trimble, a prominent Texas stockman, is one of the leading spirits in the plan to transport 200 camels from the Orient to the Southwestern section of America for use in the arid wastes.

The association purposes to put the camels on a ranch on the Rio Grande about 150 miles south of Cape Verde, where a breeding station is to be established. The desert areas of New Mexico, Arizona and California, although offering great possibilities to the seeker after metals are but little traversed either by railroads or other means of transportation. With squads of camels it is believed that long journeys into the interior of these wastes can be made.

This will not be the first time that camels have been brought here for this purpose. Jefferson Davis, when secretary of war in Pierce's cabinet, tried it out. Under Davis' direction forty of the animals and their Armenian drivers were imported, and a caravansary built near Cape Verde. Some of these buildings still remain.

But just about the time the beasts and their drivers became acclimated and tests were to start, the Civil War broke out and Davis was elected a president of the Confederacy. Because of the feeling against Davis, and partly because of the unsettled condition of the government for so many years, the camel scheme was dropped.

NEGRO'S SPEEDY CASE IS ENDED RICHMOND, Va., July 11.—The final chapter in the most expeditious prosecution in the history of the Old Dominion was enacted here today when Benjamin Bailey, colored, who criminally assaulted 6-year-old Mary H. Follins of Great Falls, paid the penalty in the electric chair. Bailey was arrested on May 29th and indicted at a special session of the grand jury. WILL RE-OPEN FAMOUS MINE GOLD HILL, July 12.—The famous hill from which this town takes its name—a mountain which yielded half a million dollars in a single pocket in the early 50's, is still the object of attention from mining men, who believe that the great pocket of other days was not the last nor least of its golden secrets.

The Humphrey brothers of Bellingham, Wash., who are now engaged in improvement and development work upon the Whitney claims, will expend a considerable sum in bringing the property to the fore as a producer.

The mine, once a producing property of repute, became involved in litigation, which has but recently been disposed of, and is again under lease. It is located on the western slope of Gold Hill, a mile east of town.

Bert Sanders was here Friday from Swan Lake.

ANCIENT POLITICAL HISTORY AIDED

HANDLING OF LABOR UNIONS IS DESCRIBED

Many Prominent Politicians Are Implicated in Testimony Given by Former Lobbyist Before Investigating Committee Today—Death Blow to Eight Hour Bill Through McComas Outlined by Witness

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Colonel M. M. Mulhall this afternoon testified before the congressional investigating committee how the leaders of the labor unions were utilized to re-elect Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, and for the defeat of Senator McComas of Maryland.

Mulhall stated positively that Senators Aldrich and Foraker, with whom he worked, knew always that he was employed by the Manufacturers Association, although he was the head of the Workmen's Protective Association.

"In 1903, I left the union I belonged to," said Mulhall, "taking with me my paid-up union card. I have never tried to hide from the heads of the union the fact that I am with the manufacturers. I was under the impression that the officers of the Federation of Labor knew this."

William Hughes, a congressman from New Jersey in 1904, described the manipulation of labor leaders in political campaigns. He told of hiring union labor in New York and Pennsylvania to accomplish that purpose.

"The men aiding in my political fights were Michael Collins of Philadelphia; Secretary Curtin of Building Trades Council of Philadelphia; Jacob Cassiler of New York; William Ryan, an electrical worker leader of New York; and George Burke of New Jersey, who was later named deputy collector of internal revenue," said Hughes.

Hughes stated that the Manufacturers Association usually backed the republicans in the primaries.

After McComas was defeated for Senator, Mulhall says he was sent by Secretary Marshall Cushing of the Association to "feel him out." He says Cushing told him that McComas was a candidate for the federal bench, and that Mulhall should tell him his advocacy of the workingmen's eight-hour bill had cost him his senatorship, and he ought to repudiate his advocacy.

BULGARIA IS STILL LOSING HER CITIES ATHENS, July 12.—The Bulgarians have been completely routed through a junction of the Greek and Serb forces, and Seres is now occupied by the Greeks, according to official information given out by the royal palace today.

The capture and occupancy of this city by the two armies is believed to be the final blow to the Bulgarian kingdom. The city was one of the strategic positions.

It is charged that the Bulgarian soldiers, before retreating, subjected 200 Greeks, including high churchmen, a bishop and a score of notables, to unspeakable indignities, ending by quartering them.

The Greek officer commanding the Sixth division, now occupying the city, it is said, had the corpses disinterred, and confirmed these charges.

BUYING DAIRY

COWS IN SOUTH

Another addition is soon to be made to the herds of blooded dairy stock in Klamath county, as J. W. McCoy is in California, purchasing a few carloads of fine milkers for local distribution. Mr. McCoy has brought in a large number of Holstein cows for Klamath ranchers.

In California with McCoy is Fred Cronemiller of Lakeview. Like Klamath, Lake county is awakening to the wonderful possibilities of this southern Oregon region for dairying, and the farmers are starting right by buying good cattle. Cronemiller will keep a part of the cows he purchases on his own ranch near Lakeview.
