

FEDERAL GAME LAW SHORTENS THE SEASON

There seems to be much misunderstanding of the provisions of the new federal game laws this year, especially in regard to shooting ducks. Many sportsmen are of the opinion that wild duck shooting is prohibited entirely, and a recent issue of one of the Medford papers published an article to that effect.

The federal legislation shortens, but does not eliminate the duck season. Under the federal game code, the United States is divided into two zones, and Oregon is in the first, or breeding zone. In Oregon, the closed season for water fowl is from December 16 to September 16. The same open season prevails in regard to shore birds.

Under the provisions of the state legislature, the season for ducks, etc., was fixed at from September 15 to February 15, in the second game district, and the bag limit is fixed at 20 ducks in seven days.

That the state legislature was in hearty accord with the movement to protect the birds by federal legislation is shown in the senate joint memorial, No. 2, adopted at the last session:

Whereas, There have been introduced into congress three bills to afford protection to migratory game birds; and

Whereas, There is a very general sentiment in this state in favor of such protection, and an urgent request for the enactment of such a law has been made, as appears by the numerous petitions received; now, therefore,

Resolved (the house concurring), That congress be and hereby is requested to enact a law giving ample protection to migratory game birds;

Resolved, That the legislature of all other states of the United States, now in session or when convened, be and they are hereby respectfully requested to join in this request by the adoption of this or any equivalent resolution;

Resolved further, That the secretary of state be and hereby is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the senate and house of representatives of the United States, and to the several members of said body representing this state therein; also to transmit copies hereof to the legislature of all other states of the United States.

THE CAMINETTI-DIGGS PROCEEDINGS

WIVES OF MEN IMPLICATED APPEAR IN COURT TO GIVE THEIR TESTIMONY

Closing Evidence for the State Is Given by the Norris Girl, Who is Questioned Regarding Her Observation of Behavior of Diggs and Marsha Warrington, and Uncle of Girl Who Went to Reno for Them.

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The government this afternoon rested in the trial of Maury Diggs on the white slavery charge. The defense opened at 2 o'clock.

The wives of Diggs and Caminetti appeared in court this afternoon when the trial was resumed, to testify. Attorney Coughlan has not decided whether to call them.

Mrs. Diggs is a beautiful woman. Her husband patted her on the back and fondled their 6-year-old daughter.

When the Norris girl took the stand this morning Devlin attempted to draw from her information to show that the Warrington girl was infatuated with Diggs, and that she encouraged the witness whenever she could, but she denied this.

Martin Beasley, an uncle of the Warrington girl, described the scene at Reno when he went for the girls. Both wept, he said, and pleaded frequently for assurances that they would be forgiven.

The court room is still crowded to its full capacity by a morbid audience. Many women and girls are interested listeners.

LANE IS COMING, PLANS CHANGED

WILL SPEND THREE DAYS IN THE STATE

Secretary of the Interior Wires Assistant That He Will Arrive in Portland Sunday—While Here He May Visit Klamath Falls, in Which Event He Would Be Here in Time for Central Development League

PORTLAND, Aug. 14.—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane has again changed his plans. He will arrive in Portland Sunday for a three days' visit in the Beaver State.

It is believed that he will visit Klamath Falls for a day.

Late today he wired some of the party with Assistant Secretary Miller that he would probably visit that city.

In case Lane visits here, he will be here in time to address the Central Oregon Development League convention.

The announcement that Lane may come, it is believed, will not affect the visit of Assistant Secretary Miller, word of which was received late on Wednesday evening. Miller, it is understood, may remain several days, to inspect the tule land reclamation, the Klamath project and other matters.

SPENCER CREEK SITE IS LEASED FOR STATE

A three year lease on the Spencer Creek hatchery site has been secured for the state fish and game commission by Rykendall & Ferguson. The lease, fully signed, came Thursday from Minnesota.

The tract of land on which this most important rainbow trout egg taking station is located, is owned by the Western Pacific Land and Timber company, a Minneapolis corporation.

It was ascertained earlier in the summer that State Game Warden William L. Finley had failed to secure a lease on the ground used. The matter was taken up by the local attorneys upon application of Deputy District Game Warden Ramsby.

LABOR DAY PLANS ARE BEING MADE

SOCIALISTS WILL SOON CALL A MEETING OF LABOR UNIONS, ETC., TO ARRANGE FOR A PICNIC AND GAMES

Monday, September 1st of this year, is the day set aside by proclamation as Labor Day, and wherever possible the wheels of progress pause for twenty-four hours.

Plans for an observance here are being considered by the two branches of Local Ewauna of the socialist party, and a joint meeting may soon be held.

It is planned to hold a basket picnic at some point on the Upper Lake, and in addition have a program of sports and speeches by well known men. The various labor organizations will be invited to participate in making the arrangements for the observance.

JOHNSON QUITS MANAGEMENT OF K. D. COMPANY

HIS SUCCESSOR IS NOT YET SELECTED

Retiring Official Will Devote His Entire Attention to the Lumber Industry, With Which He Was Identified When He First Entered the Local Field—Has Made Remarkable Record While in Charge

Robert A. Johnson has resigned his position as manager of the Klamath Development company's local interests.

Announcement to this effect was made Friday.

As yet Mr. Johnson's successor has not been definitely decided upon by the Klamath Development company's directors, so the exact date when Mr. Johnson will sever his connections with the company is not known.

Prior to taking the local management, Mr. Johnson was interested in the lumber industry here, the Klamath Manufacturing company being partly owned by him. He is retiring with the intention of devoting his entire attention to the development of his lumber interests.

It is also possible that he will remain in charge of the Big Basin Lumber company and other allied timber concerns of the Klamath Development company for a short time.

Since coming to Klamath Falls more than a year ago, Mr. Johnson has been actively identified with the work of upbuilding this section. After his success in starting the Klamath Manufacturing company, and because of his well known business ability, he was placed at the head of all the Klamath Development company's local interests last fall, and he has made a number of progressive changes in the policies and business of the big concern.

Syndicalist Restaurant Closes

PARIS, Aug. 15.—A co-operative syndicalist restaurant here has just been closed by the police because "it couldn't co-operate." The management fired a waitress, and the others struck because one of the union rules for which the restaurant stood had been violated. The management wished to replace the waitress, but the waitresses' union objected and trouble began. The police at last had to close the shop to stop a threatened riot.

The ceremonies at the Klamath Agency will commence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This may be followed by a trip to Crater Lake or the Crater Lake trip may be made by automobile Sunday.

DRY FARMING SUCCEEDS ON LAND LONG TILLED

The adoption of a new scientific method of dry farming by Yonka Valley ranchers has wrought a wonderful improvement in farm conditions there and the grain yield this year will be larger than ever before, according to County School Superintendent Fred Peterson.

Mr. Peterson returned Thursday from a trip through that part of the county. As a part of the Central Oregon Development League display, he brought in some exceptionally fine grain specimens, among which was a sheaf of oats over seven feet in length grown by Charles Flackus.

"This year the Yonka Valley farmers have adopted a new method of dry farming that even this year has shown wonderful results," said Mr. Peterson. "Especially successful have been Mr. Flackus, Charles Drew, Charles Beck, Charles Burgdorf, William Welch and C. C. Pearson.

"The samples I collected were mostly from land that has been farmed continuously for the last thirty-two years. Mr. Hamaker of Bonanza will bring in more samples from Yonka Valley in a few days."

CUTTING WEEDS TO BE LEADING OCCUPATION NOW

NEW ORDINANCE WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Failure to Cut Weeds From in Front of Property Will Result in Fine or Imprisonment—City Will Put Men to Work Cutting Weeds and Otherwise Improving the Appearance of the Main Streets

"Now that the city has an ordinance by which persons allowing the weeds to grow on their sidewalks can be punished, I am going to see that all the negligent ones will suffer the consequences," said Mayor Nicholas this afternoon.

The weed amendment to the nuisance ordinance holds the property owner, agent and occupant for the failure to cut weeds between the property line and the curb. A fine of from $5 to $100 is provided for, or imprisonment from two to fifty days.

With the approach of the Central Oregon Development League convention date, the city is preparing to clean the town for the edification of visitors. A crew of men will start to work on the weed harvest, and property owners are expected to do their share by abiding with the weed ordinance.

ACCUSE TAMMANY OF BRIBERY

United Press Service

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Following a conference with Governor Sulzer, James Garrison, the governor's advisor, charged that money had been used by the Tammany interests to buy four votes for impeachment.

"I charge positively that Tammany paid cash for the four votes needed to pass the impeachment resolution," said Garrison.

"This is some mix-up. These conspirators are headed straight for the penitentiary."

United Press Service

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Lieutenant Governor Glynn today made formal demand that Governor William Sulzer give him immediate possession of the executive office, following the impeachment of Sulzer by the New York legislature.

This morning Glynn received a letter from the legislature, announcing him as de facto governor. This letter was delivered to Sulzer a little before noon.

So far Sulzer has given no intimation of what his answer will be.

There is every indication that the courts will expedite the question whether or not the impeachment resolution passed by the legislature suspends Sulzer from office.

Both sides are anxious for a quick settlement of this point.

Mrs. Sulzer is much improved.

LIKE THE CHICKEN, HE FINDS SAND HELPS HIS "TUMMY" OUT

United Press Service
MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 15.—Sand—parboiled, baked or fried—has cured stomach trouble for George W. Cromer, former congressman from the Eighth Congressional district; John Fitzgibbons, president of the Muncie Ornamental Iron company, and Harry W. Long, lawyer, and twice prosecuting attorney of Delaware county. Today, despite much laughter that sometimes greets them when they tell the stories of their recovery from indigestion, dyspepsia and other stomach troubles, they are spreading the gospel of sand.

Fitzgibbons read of the sand cure in a Chicago newspaper, and tried it out. It worked wonders for him. It was much the same way with Cromer and Long. With only half faith, but desperate from years of suffering, they tried out the sand cure, and declare they are again sound and whole in the regions of the stomach, and that their general health has been improved 75 per cent.

"But why the different treatment of the sand?" Fitzgibbons was asked.

"I can't explain it. Raw sand will do the trick for some people. Baked sand will do it for me. Another might have to have the sand parboiled, steamed or fried. Just look me over. Before I took the baked sand cure I was nervous, generally run down and a nuisance to my family and friends. If there is anyone in the world who feels better than I do these days, or who can stand more work and be pleasanter about it than myself, I'd like to get a look at him. The sand I use is the common ordinary sand with the dirt picked out."

MORE LANDS TO BE DESIGNATED

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR IS PREPARING TO ADD TO THE AREA HOMESTEADERS CAN TAKE UP

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—Public lands that have been surveyed and are unreserved and non-irrigable are to be designated for entry as enlarged homesteads, under a new ruling by Secretary of the Interior Lane.

Large tracts will be so designated at once, and the entrymen will have to determine the availability of each quarter section of such land when he visits the district land office.

The recent practice has been that the department waited for petition in each case before it designated a tract as ready for enlarged homestead entry.

FORT FARMERS CUTTING HAY

RODEO CONTINUES EVERY SUNDAY, WITH BULL A FEATURE. MEDFORD WANTS HIM—OTHERS FORT KLAMATH NEWS

(Special Correspondence)
FORT KLAMATH, Aug. 15.—Haying is the order of the day in Wood River Valley, notwithstanding the fact that we have not yet had sufficient good weather in which to cure hay properly. If the stormy season continues, there will be considerable grain spoiled by rain.

The Fort Klamath Rodeo continues to be pulled off every Sunday afternoon. It is always attended by a very large crowd, especially when the bucking bull is on the program.

The Medford people are trying to arrange to have the bucking Holstein at the county fair to be held at Medford September 14th. They are also trying to secure a number of bucking horses from this valley.

Marion Loosley returned a few days ago from a business trip to the southern part of California. He reports a very dry season in that part of the state, but says the dairy business is prosperous where feed is to be had. Mr. Loosley visited his brother Milan at San Francisco, who recently arrived from the Philippines, and was on his way to Fort Omaha, Neb., where he will be stationed. Milan Loosley was an old-time resident of Klamath Falls, and a pioneer newspaper man, as he and Wm. Bowdoin owned the Klamath Republican in the early '90's. For the last fifteen years he has been in the signal service, and now holding the position of master electrician in that branch of the government service.

There is a great deal of travel to Carter Lake this season. The roads are fine, owing to the frequent showers. The dust has not been as bad as usual during the dry part of the season, and the tourists are taking advantage of the good roads in this part of the county and the pleasure of seeing wonderful Crater Lake.

Mr. George Lisk is building a new residence on his ranch, and the Pittman sisters are also building an up-to-date bungalow on the 200-acre ranch recently purchased of the Pelton-Sisemore company of this place. M. F. Loosley has contracted both buildings, and expects to have them completed in a short time.

If there is a place in Central Oregon that has "anything on" Klamath Falls, E. G. Argraves, Charles Graves, Robert E. Wattenburg and Doc Powell did not see it during their trip in the latter's auto, which was completed by their return last evening.

The party spent several days in Central Oregon, visiting La Pine, Crescent, Bend and other towns. They are all stronger than ever for the place "Where Fortune Calls."

Bicycle Brigade Back.—Johnny Houston, Ernel Stearns and Elmer Lawrence of the Herald circulation force, and Will McMillan, the quartet of youngsters who biked to Crater Lake for a ten day outing, returned Saturday evening.
