OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

By MARGARET MASON

(Written for the United Press)

As he tried on the lady a blue ermine coat,
With a collar of pink and green mink,
"I'm dyeing to sell you this exquisite set,"
The furrier said with a wink.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—What fur and what for are the two most timely questions apropros of the rainbow-hued furs. It almost seems as if Paul Poiret, who started the crazy fashion, must have done it to have his little joke. Yet all the leading dressmakers, designers and furriers have seized upon the whim seriously and are welcoming the idea with a great "hue and dye." Poiret went pretty "fur," but they are going "fur" ther, as 'twene. The most prevalent of the dyed effects at present is seen in the many canary toned collars and cuffs of white (?) fox and the new long coats of emerald green mole skin. A purchase of the latter would simply mean the exchange of long green for long green. Eh, what?

Aside from these ultra dyed effects the showing of furs au naturel for the more conservative dressers leaves nothing lacking for warmth, beauty and expense. The newest fur coats show a decided tendency toward draped effects, and the shoulder cape of fur has been revived with great success. Little draped coats like the bouffant silk models of spring are very chic, and developed in broadtail or moleskin with collar, cuffs and finish around the hips in skunk or otter are quaint and charming. A stunning long loose coat wrap of chinchilla shows a new feature in a whole fox skin with tail, paws and all laid across the shoulders in place of the usual conventional shaped fur collar. Leopard skin muffs and collars are very effective, fit for a queen of the Orient and right in line with the Eastern trend of fashion.

You simply must have a touch of fur on everything this season to be really smart. Even high shoes and the new Russian boots are topped in bands of fur for all the world like the erstwhile carriage boots of quilted silk. Milady's hat is either all fur or trimmed in some species. Her gowns for morning, afternoon and evening wear are banded in it; her negligees are trimmed of fur; her gorgeous evening wrap of metallic brocade has deep fur collar and cuffs and, who can tell, fur-trimmed nighties are but a step further.

With the Poiret introduction of Oriental fashions, Oriental jewelry is a natural outcome. Passe indeed is the neck unadorned by a string of beads, red, yellow, blue or green. A la Madame Poiret, all the smart Fifth avenue shops are showing the green tasseled neck cords with a single barbaric pendant of jade or lapis. The more ornate, colorful and bizarre the earings the better, and jeweled fillets, girdles, bracelets and rings all show the Oriental tendency.

This run on all the semi-precious stones is unprecedented, and diamonds, rubies and emeralds are being cold-shouldered by their parvenue but popular poor relations, the tourmaline, opal, topaz, acquamarine, garnet, moonstone and turquoise.

The craze for jet is again upon us, and in the form of buttons, tassels and buckles, is used lavishly as a trimming for afternoon and evening gowns. Strands of the jet beads for neck chains and jet earrings, hairpins and combs are shown in new and artistic designs.

Swansdown banding is also a favorite trimming on evening gowns and negligees, bourdoir slippers and caps. Another new feather trimming is an inch-and-a-quarter banding of uncurled ostrich fringe. It is used to outline the low cut bodice and stands up like a ruff.

With furs, feathers and beads, sartorial adornments of the hour, the three most swagger Pocahontas has nothing on the belle of 1913.

A startling innovation in the robe de nuit line was worn at a recent first night (on the stage, of course) by one of the prettiest of the younger actresses. She took to her bed in a flesh crepe de chine sort of hybrid affair, a cross between a nightie and pajamas. The upper part was a low neck and short sleeved lace trimmed Empire waist attached at the belt to wide Turkish trousers caught in at the ankles with lace. A catching cap of lace and flesh colored chiffon completed the breath-taking but bewitching effect.

WEST SAYS STORY MISLED KLAMATH COUNTY FARMERS

The Herald is in receipt of the following letter from Governor Oswald West:

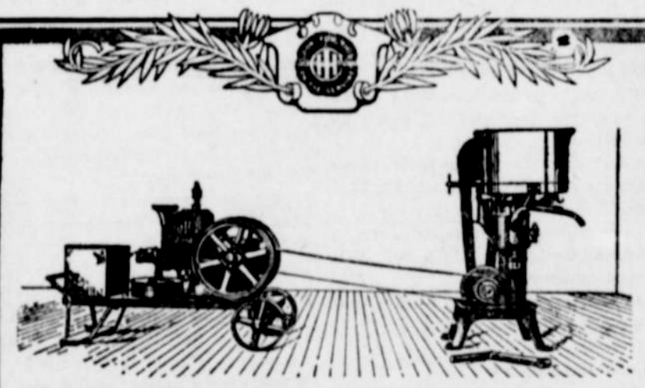
"Referring to an article appearing in your issue of the 14th inst., and stating that the state land board had ordered payment of all notes to the school fund which have been running over ten years, I find that you have been misinformed as to the facts.

"The state land board is not insisting upon the payment of these notes. They may be renewed if the parties so desire.

"Section 3915 of Lord's Oregon Laws, provides:

"'All loans * * * shall be made for a period of one year; provided, that in case the interest is promptly paid and the security remains unimpaired, the board may, in its discretion, permit the loan to stand for a period of not longer than ten years.'

"Upon examination of the record I find that but three borrowers in your county will be affected by the said order of the board, so it is not such a serious matter after all. I think the loans of only four others pass the ten year period during the coming year, and will have to be taken care of through renewal."



Look This Square in the Face

GET a man ask you six months after you buy an I H C outfit, "Why are you using a cream separator? Is it making money for you?" and the question will sound as sensible to you as though he had asked why you used a binder.

This excellent combination pictured above, will give you more cream from your milk, saving from $5 to $15 per year for each cow you milk; separator skim milk, sweet, warm, and wholesome, will give you healthier, fatter pigs and calves, and this again means more milk and increased soil fertility; you will save hundreds of miles of going-to-the-creamery every year, with its wear and tear of wagon and harness, and so save the time of yourself and horses for many more hours in the field. There are other things an will do for you. Then the one-horse power I H C engine mounted on a portable truck, will pump water, run a washing machine, churn, sausage grinder, grindstone, and run various other farm machines.

I H C Cream Separator
Dairymaid, Bluebell or Lily

Various points—heavy phosphor bronze bushings, trouble-proof neck bearings, dirt and milk-proof spiral gears, etc., make I H C separators the best to buy. Each style has four convenient sizes. See the local dealers who handle these machines, and have them demonstrate the working to you, show you the close skimming qualities, and efficiency, and go over the mechanical features with you. They will give you catalogues and full information.

International Harvester Company of America
(Incorporated)
Portland Ore.

RESCUERS PERISH WHILE TRYING TO AID MINERS

WORKED THROUGHOUT NIGHT; WERE OVERCOME

Supervising Engineer Is Inside Mine, and Has Not Been Heard From for More Than Three Hours—Not Thought to Be in Danger—Number of Rescuers Overwork Themselves and Require Medical Aid.

DAWSON, N. M., Oct. 24—The rescue work at the Stag Canyon mines is still in progress, and forty two corpses were removed this morning. These bodies will be buried this afternoon.

Alan Bozand and Jim Laird, two of the rescue party, acting in the capacity of helmet men, died in the mine at 6 o'clock this morning. The men were simply overcome, having stayed too long in the mine. They went into the mine at 8 o'clock last night, and had worked all through the long night, refusing to leave when ordered to do so.

Frank Weitzel, supervising engineer, went inside the mine this morning and has not since been heard from. No apprehension is felt for his safety, however, as he is thoroughly acquainted with the mine workings, and it is thought that he is pushing his way through in an endeavor to further the rescue work.

Conditions in the mine are rapidly becoming worse. The air is getting more and more foul, and the coal dust is becoming so thick that another explosion is greatly feared.

Many of the rescuers have been taken from the mine, overcome with the strenuous work and the gas-laden atmosphere, some of them requiring medical assistance before they could gain their feet.

About 120 rescuers are now inside, working in short shifts, and doing everything possible to rush the work.

The number rescued alive to this time is twenty-six, and little hope is entertained that this will be increased. The number of the dead is estimated at 260, including the two members of the rescuing party, Bozand and Laird.

Is Going to Chicago.

Mrs. Walter Gibson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. M. Richardson for some time, left Sunday night for her home in Chicago. Mrs. Gibson will be accompanied by her nephew, Harry Richardson, son of the genial court reporter, who will go to school in the Windy City. Young Harry will be missed by his many friends here, and his dad will be compelled to do his own "chauffing" when he goes out in the Overland.

It's a Boy.

An 8-pound son arrived Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Meissner. Mr. Meissner is connected with the Farmers' Implement and Supply House, and the family resides in Mills addition.

Society

Notice and items for the Social Department will receive attention if left at The Herald office or telephoned to Main 88 by Friday afternoon or before 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

At the home of her parents at 121 High street, Miss Nellie M. Lewis celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of her birth, October 18th, by entertaining a crowd of her young friends at an afternoon party. The little hostess received many nice presents in token of the occasion, and the young guests were served with refreshments to gladen juvenile appetites. The guest list included Bessie and Eva Frey, Vera and Dorothy Martin, Vella and Inez Riddle, Grace Hosgland, Josephine Fink, Florence Du Fault, Otis and Roland Lewis, Mabel and Mildred Biehn, Isa Wilson, Walter Walker, Ted Marquet, Paul Franklin, Wayne Beach, Ballard Stahlman, Alfred Turpin, Paul Keller, Virginia Bowdoin, Reita and Cecil Low, Norman Biels, Leonard Lewis.

♦♦♦

The 1912 Needlework Club held its first meeting of this season on Friday at the Home of Mrs. G. K. VanRiper. The guests and members present were Mrs. Cozad, Mrs. Fred Melhase, Mrs. Claude Daggett, Mrs. Wm. Whitlock, Mrs. R. A. Emmitt, Mrs. Chester Avery, Mrs. Fred Noel, Mrs. Nate Otterbein.

♦♦♦

Mrs Carl Cofer entertained Saturday afternoon at a delightfully appointed three-course luncheon. Her guests were Mrs. Harry G. Benson, Mrs J. Frank Adams, Mrs. Leslie Rogers, Mrs. Will Baldwin and Mrs. Earl Whitlock.

♦♦♦

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Henry L. Benson entertained her home on High street. The ladies spent the afternoon with their needlework, at the close of which luncheon was served. Mrs. Benson's guests were Mrs. C. V. Fisher, Mrs. Geo. Walton, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. J. A. Gordon, Mrs. Floyd Patrick, Mrs. Harry G. Benson, Mrs. Kinnear, Mrs. W. W. Masten, Mrs. Henry Newnham, Mrs. R. R. Hamilton, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. C. O. Morgan and Mrs. Birdean Gamble.

♦♦♦

A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Shaw on Washington street Friday evening, when they entertained the following guests: Miss Clara Elmer, Miss Marjorie Sellers, Miss Gail Ross, Miss Florence Bowen, Miss Emma Callahan, Arthur D. Hay, William M. Duncan, Harold C. Merryman, Philip J. Sinnott and Joseph B. McAllister. The earlier part of the evening was devoted to five hundred, and at the conclusion of play, a dainty luncheon was served. Following this, the piano was "captured," and music and song were enjoyed until a late hour.

♦♦♦

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley O. Smith entertained friends Friday evening at their Conger avenue home, when five hundred was played. Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood and Leslie Rogers were fortunate in winning the prizes. A luncheon was served during the evening, and the guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Burge W. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Merryman, Mr. and Mrs. F. Zim Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Will W. Baldwin, Mrs. Francis J. Bowne, Harold Merryman and Charles Baldwin.

♦♦♦

Saint Cloud, that picturesque and interesting institution on the Shippington road, wherein dwells Commodore Alex Nosler, retired seaman, was the scene of yet another jolly pary this week. This was given Wednesday night, and the following drove out there from Klamath Falls: Mrs. Charles E. Riley, Mrs. William Crandall, Mrs. Fred Barlow, Mrs. Charles Mashburn, Miss M. Harwood, Miss Emma Callahan, Andrew Horner, Harry H. Douglas, Mrs. Atwood, Mr. Stone and Dave Kenyon. Dancing was indulged in by the party, and this form of amusement obtained until a late hour, when, following refreshments, the party returned to town. Music for the dancing was furnished by Mrs. Mashburn, piano, and Mrs. Barlow, violin.

♦♦♦

Mrs. Walter Dixon, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Munroe Richardson for several weeks past, left Sunday evening for her home in Chicago. She will be accompanied by Harry Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, who will go to school in Chicago.

♦♦♦

Complimenting Mrs. Edward J. Murray, who is soon to leave, Mrs. Thomas Hampton was hostess Monday afternoon. Bridge was the game of the afternoon, and Miss Maud Baldwin won the prize. A handsome guest prize was given to Mrs. Murray. In attendance at the party were Mrs. Louis Gerber, Mrs. E. W. Gowan, Mrs. Fred Mills, Mrs. F. Zim Baldwin, Mrs. George Noland, Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. Fred J. Williams, Mrs. Fred Schallock, Mrs. Edward J. Murray, Mrs. E. R. Reames and Miss Maud Baldwin. A luncheon was highly enjoyed.

♦♦♦

Mrs. Francis J. Bowne and children of Bonanza are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Louis Gerber, for a few days.

♦♦♦

Tuesday evening Mrs. Nell Jeffers gave a dinner party in honor of Max A. McCall, instructor in agriculture at the high school, who upon that day and date passed another milestone in life's journey. The guests were Miss Bessie Applegate, Miss Lois Myers, Albert H. Loewe, Arthur J. Voye and Edgar E. Magee.

♦♦♦

Mr. and Mrs. William Montelius Monday night entertained a select number of guests in honor of Mrs. Chas. D. Garcelon's birthday. Mrs. Garcelon was presented with a beautiful cut glass punch service. An enjoyable evening of progressive whish was followed by an elegant repart. Those there were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brewbaker, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. House, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Garcelon, Mrs. K. Tull, Mrs. Ginsberg, Miss Winnard and Mr. and Mrs. William Montelius.

♦♦♦

The ninth birthday anniversary of Henry Gerber was the occasion for a party in his honor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerber, Saturday afternoon. The time was devoted to juvenile games and sports, and a number of unique contests were held, with attractive prizes for the winners. Later in the day a big birthday repast was enjoyed by the kiddies, who enjoyed to the fullest extent the entertainment, to say nothing of the edibles prepared for them. Mrs. Gerber was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Francis J. Bowne and Mrs. George H. Merryman. The children attending Henry's party were Helen Hamilton, Buford Hargus, Ralph Graves, Margaret Hargus, Charles Chastain, Helen Wirtz, Lois Chitwood, Ruth Chitwood, Harry Boivin, Marain Martin, Howard Bamber, Madge Bamber, Lloyd Bunnell, Walter Bowne, Francis J. Bowne Jr., and last, but by no means least, George Harris Merryman, Junior, who made his debut into social circles at this function.

♦♦♦

Judge and Mrs. E. W. Gowen entertained Mrs. Morris, Miss Ruth Morris, Miss Pearl Boivin, Miss Mildred Lennart, Edmund Gowen and Clarence Motschenbacher at their home on Fourth and Pine Friday evening. Five hundred was played and refreshments served.

♦♦♦

A very enjoyable time was spent on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Percival C. Sholl, the occasion being a handkerchief shower given in honor of Mrs. Henry P. Blaise, who is soon to leave for New Orleans, where she will spend the winter. In the course of the afternoon five hundred was played and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

♦♦♦

A very interesting mothers' meeting was held at the Christian church, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Wheeler, national lecturer and organizer, was the principal speaker. Plans for future mothers' meetings were discussed. Some of our prominent professional and business men and their wives and some of our teachers will be invited to help with these programs. The importance of using local talent in the uplift of the child was emphasized.

The Mutual Life Guarantees Largest Cash, Loan, Paid-Up and Surrender Vualues

Just Like Money in the Bank.

The dividends on my $2,000 policy canceled my loan of $370 and left about $200 over. I have $3,000 coming to me in 1915, and $5,000 more in 1928, with the dividends.

My two sons also have insurance in the Mutual Life.—H. C. Christensen, Dickinson, N. D.

Ask Any Member of the Mutual Life.

My policy was a 20-year $5,000, and my dividend fo $1,522.05 comes in mighty good. My advice to young men is to take insurance in some good company. I commend the Mutual Life, for every member is a part of the company and shares profits.—Daniel H. Goble, Greensboro, N. C.

The Poor Man's Best Friend

Is a policy in the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York. For small annual premiums he becomes a member and profit-sharer in the largest financial institution in the world. It secures an estate, or ready cash and a life income for his dependents and himself.

The Rich Man's Undoubted Security

is a policy in the Mutual Life. For a nominal outlay he adds another estate to the one he has—a dividend-producing capital that cannot be lost or taken away. It shows his good judgment in making investments, and gains for him greater confidence and business credit.

The Young Man's Guide to Success is an investment policy in the Mutual Life. It promotes habits of industry and economy that will cling to him through life. He will take care of small sums that would otherwise be wasted, and build for himself a reputation, and a capital to set him up in business.

An Income Guaranteed for Life

Gives solid comfort and content and makes the future bright to aged members of the G. O. M. Financial panics may prevail, and riches may take wings and fly, but with the months and years will come his cash instalments that will ever keep the hungry wolf away.

F. M. Priest, Agent.

MONEY TO LOAN—
W. J. SHAVER,
Attorney at Law
KLAMATH FALLS, - OREGON

WILL A. LEONARD
DENTIST
White Maddox Bldg.

ALBANY COLLEGE
Collegiate, Academic, Musical and Commercial courses. Faculty trained in best institutions of America and Europe. We help students to earn their own way. Dormitory for girls. Christian influences, excellent surroundings. New endowment fund of quarter million dollars. WRITE—
H. M. CROOKS, President, Albany College
Albany, Oregon

Employes of W. C. Dalton on Monday loaded on the cars at Midland 390 head of steers for shipment. These were bought by the Oakland Meat company. The price paid for the animals was $75.17 each. This brings the total value of the herd to $29,316.30.

The steers are all in first class condition, and like the majority of the cattle fed in the Klamath Basin, are much above the average in appearance from the standpoint of the meat buyer.

Another splendid lot of beef sent out left Saturday, when Louis Gerber shipped 200 head to California. These steers were shipped in from Arizona last spring, and they fattened splendidly in the Horsefly country.

No Woman Policeman

Owing to the fact that the city has no funds available, the council has decided that it can not add a woman policeman to the force. A number of the ladies of the W. C. T. U. appeared before the officials, and with Mrs. Wolfe as spokesman, asked that a police matron be provided. The council listened in silence, and after the women were gone decided that funds were not available—Corvalis Gazette-Times.

Wanted—Man with family wants a rent or place to work on ranch. Write "Ranch," care Republican. 3t*r

To trade, furniture for a team of mares, at Comstock's. r