

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN

KLAMATH FALLS, KLAMATH COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1914.

FARM SECTION

A TRIO OF BEAUTIFUL WELL-GROWN CARNATIONS

Carnations are always in season, but are particularly acceptable during the winter months when ordinary garden flowers are not so plentiful. With good care as fine carnations as one would desire may be grown in the garden during the summer and fall months and with protection from storms and frost fine blossoms may be had continuously. Our cut represents good specimens of the Pink Enchantress variety.