PRISONER JUMPS FROM PASSENGER WINDOW; ESCAPES

WAS WANTED IN LAKE COUNTY FOR RUSTLING

Just Before the Train Reached Klamath Falls, Lindsey Locked Himself in the Lavatory, and Raising Window, Jumped—Not Missed Until the Train Reached Station Here. Authorities searching.

After several hundred dollars had been expended by Lake county to bring about the arrest of Buck Lindsey at Albany, and after Deputy Sheriff Walter Dent had gone to Albany for Lindsey, and had him almost here, Lindsey last night made his escape by jumping from the train just before it pulled into Klamath Falls, and just a few minutes before he would have been lodged behind the bars of the Klamath county jail for safe keeping over night.

Between Midland and Klamath Falls, Lindsey asked permission to go into the lavatory on the train, which the officer granted. The prisoner opened the window and jumped from the train, and it was not until the train reached Klamath Falls that the escape was discovered.

The authorities are making a search for the escape, and all the nearby authorities have been telephoned and telegraphed. The recapture of Lindsey is regarded as certain. Lindsey is wanted in Lake county on a charge of stealing horses in Warner Valley. Four of the horses he is alleged to have taken are owned by the deputy sheriff from whose custody he escaped.

Lindsey is about 30 years of age, weighs about 140 pounds, and is 5 feet 8 inches high. His complexion is dark, and he has black hair. Both of his eye teeth are gold crowned, and noticeable when he talks. At the time of escaping he wore a gray sweater, dark trousers, a white sombrero and tan boots, but no coat or vest.

To Work in Park.

Artie Worrel has gone to Crater Lake to enter the government employ. He will assist Superintendent Will G. Steel in the work at headquarters.

Water Users to Meet

Important Matters to Be Attended to at Session

The introduction of talks on matters pertinent to the water user and farmers, and the question of sending representation to Washington to work for the passage of the twenty-year extension bill are two of the features of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Klamath Water Users Association to be held Friday at Houston's opera house.

The program of speeches will be held in the forenoon, beginning at 10:30. The list follows: "Dairying"..... Prof. J. G. Swan "Drainage and Seepage"..... Project Manager J. G. Camp "Co-operative Buying and Selling"..... J. M. Ezell "Klamath Soil and Crops"..... Prof. M. A. McCall "Reclamation Relief Matters".....

WILSON ACKNOWLEDGES RECEIPT OF TELEGRAM

The Klamath Chamber of Commerce today received the following acknowledgment of the wire recently sent President Wilson, urging his aid in securing the reopening of Sprague and William son rivers to logging: "The White House: "Gentlemen—The President directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of May 23, and to say that he is bringing it to the attention of the secretary of the interior. "Sincerely yours, "J. P. TUMULTY," "Secretary to the President."

LAKEVIEW JAUNT OF THE ELKS IS HIGHLY ENJOYED

NEIGHBORING CITY A ROYAL ENTERTAINER

Klamath Visitors Are Met a Mile From Town With a Band and Automobiles, and a Big Reception is Given Them by the Elks of That City—Only One Accident Occurred on the Entire Trip.

It was a tired bunch of Elks that straggled into Klamath Falls Sunday night all the way from 4 o'clock till 11, returning from the excursion to Lakeview. While they were all tired it was a happy bunch that brought glowing accounts of the princely reception and entertainment given them by the people of Lakeview.

The excursion of autos reached Lakeview at 1:30 Saturday. They were met about a mile and a half from the city by the Lakeview brass band and a reception committee in autos, and escorted through town to the elegant club rooms of the Antlers Club.

Here they were given an opportunity to remove some of the dust of travel, and were then taken to the rooms at the hotel and in private quarters.

General Villa Enjoys a Cockfight

General Pancho Villa, the biggest man in Mexico today, is not ashamed to attend a cockfight, which is even more of a national sport in Mexico than bull fighting. Even the meanest Mexican may see a cockfight, but a bullfight is an expensive undertaking. One reason for Villa's popularity is the fact that he is wholly Mexican. He was a bandit for many years, and lived in the mountains, where he was cared for at times by the poorer classes. He has the same sentiments and outlook on life. Villa willingly posed for this photograph shortly after the battle of Torreon, which made him the dominant character in the constitutionalist faction. Should he go on and become the head of the nation he would probably think as little of going to cock-fights as he does now.

New Crater Breaks Out on Mount Lassen

United Press Service RED BLUFF, June 1.—A new crater, 300 feet from the top of Mount Lassen, and on the north side of the slope, broke out Sunday afternoon. The crater is 25 feet wide and 40 feet long, and has deep fissures. Rocks, lava and ashes were scattered to a depth of two feet 200 feet from the crater. Rocks as large as a sack of flour were emitted. There is much rumbling and other noise. Great quantities of steam are escaping. A forest ranger visited the new crater yesterday. He states that slight earthquake shocks are perceptible on the mountain. Mount Lassen is the youngest volcano in the state.

SAY POE VALLEY DUES ARE VALID

CHIEF COUNSEL OF THE RECLAMATION SERVICE HOLDS THAT THEY MUST BE PAID NOW THAT LAND IS UNDER WATER

According to Will R. King, chief counsel of the reclamation service, the owners of lands in Poe Valley which are under the second unit ditches are obliged to pay dues to the Klamath Water Users Association. These people object to paying these assessments, holding that they are furnished water this year upon a rental basis, and not as are the other water users.

King's opinion in the matter follows: "The attention of this office has been called to the refusal of certain land owners in Poe Valley to pay their assessment fees on the ground that water is not available for their lands in a legal sense, as they claim, although water is furnished on the lands on a rental basis. The decision in the Griffith case is given as the basis of such contention. The by-law of the association here involved is as follows: "Revenues necessary for the accomplishment of the purposes of the association shall be raised by an assessment from time to time against the shares of stock thereof appurtenant to land for which water is available."

The Griffith opinion states: "The contract does not provide a definite time when a shareholder shall become liable for assessments for expenses, and it is very appropriate that a time should be fixed by the by-laws which in effect designate that such time shall be when the water is available from the project. It provides two classes, one class for whose land water is available, and the other for whose land water is not available." "Available" means simply "at one's disposal."

The distinction seems plainly to be between lands which can have the benefit of the water and the lands which cannot. The question of the manner of payment for the water does not enter. The contention of those certain land owners assumes a third classification, viz.: lands for which water is available upon a rental basis. The language of the court in the Griffith case does not justify such an assumption.

Water is, in fact, available for all lands under the ditches in Poe Valley, second unit, Klamath project.

Twelve Hundred Children in Block School enumerators in Chicago found 1,200 children in one block. The block is bounded by Division, Blackhawk, Holt and Dicken streets, and is populated almost exclusively by Poles. Louis Link leads with seventeen children.

Here to Cruise Timber. William White, who is connected with the forestry service, is here from Medford, on his way to cruise timber near Sand Creek.

LOCAL GIRL WILL TEACH IN STANFORD

MISS NELLIE COGSWELL WILL BE AN ASSISTANT INSTRUCTOR IN DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY IN CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION

Mrs. Emma V. Cogswell and her daughter, Miss Nellie Cogswell, came in last night from Palo Alto, Calif., where Miss Cogswell is attending Stanford University of California. They will spend the summer here, where Mrs. Cogswell has property interests.

Miss Cogswell has just been appointed an assistant instructor in the department of psychology. She is a graduate of the Klamath county high school, being a member of the class of 1911.

SIX HUNGRY MEN HAVE TROUT FEED

REX CAFE CHEF PREPARES BIG TROUT CATCH FOR GASTRONOMICAL ENJOYMENT OF A BUNCH OF EPICURES

At noon today H. J. Lincoln was host at a six-plate banquet that would make Delmonico's swellest dinners look like a backdoor hand-out. The banquet was served at the Rex cafe.

Three mammoth platters, pyramided with perfectly browned trout, were emptied by the hungry half dozen in just one hour and seven minutes. The trout were caught Sunday at the mouth of Spring Creek by H. J. Lincoln, Dr. Fred Westerfeld and Clarence Moteschenbacher. Doc claims to have hooked the largest one, Lincoln excelled in numbers, and Motsy makes no claims at all.

Those now full of trout are Ed Bodge, Joe Brett, Dave Lenox, Warren Duhl, Dr. Fred Westerfeld and H. J. Lincoln.

Four buffalo calves have just been born on the Wichita national forest, bringing the herd up to 51.

WILL TALK OVER WOOLEN MILL PLAN

For the purpose of deciding what Klamath Falls is willing to do toward encouraging a woollen mill here, and what the owners of the Bandon Woollen mills believe they are entitled to in order to justify them to move their machinery here from Coos Bay, a mass meeting of Klamath Falls people will be held tonight at the Chamber of Commerce. All interested people are urged to attend this. Manager Beddilion of the Bandon concern, who leaves tomorrow, will be present to take up matters for the woollen mill owners. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock.

MASON TO MAKE HIGHWAY GRADE

LOCAL CONTRACTOR GETS CONTRACT FOR EIGHT MILES OF WORK ON THE CALIFORNIA STATE HIGHWAY

Will H. Mason of this city has just been awarded a contract for a portion of the work on the northern terminus of the California state highway. He will begin work in about two weeks. The contract awarded Mason is for grading the highway from Hornbrook to the Oregon line, a distance of eight miles. The finishing of the highway will not be taken up until later.

"Doc" Carter Here.

J. Hardin Carter returned Saturday evening from Los Angeles, where he is taking a course in dentistry at the University of Southern California. Carter is well and favorably known here, and is a graduate of the Klamath county high school. He has accepted a position as night engineer at the ice plant during the summer vacation.

Standardized tests of the relative intellects of children, age for age, made by Lewis M. Terman, associate professor of education at Leland Stanford Jr. University, California, show girls to be smarter than boys. Professor Terman also informed the San Francisco Teachers' Institute that work that is the most rapid is the most accurate. Children of 7 and 8 years, he says, should not be kept in school longer than an hour and a half a day.

White Pelican Gone

Other Rodeo Outlaws Rounded Up for the Show

"White Pelican," that meek, dirty-gray cayuse which bucked Johnny Judd out of his chances for first money at the first Rodeo, and which acted up in the same manner at the last Rodeo, may not be on the boards when the Elks' show is staged in July. In fact, there is every reason to believe that the renowned outlaw is a goner, for Art Acord and Earl Simpson went a couple of hundred miles out of their way in a hunt for the beast.

The other Elk outlaws, Cheyenne, Square Deal and Pin Ears, are rounded up. Cheyenne was saddled and mounted by Acord, and he found the old timer just as hard a bucker as before. Cheyenne, Square Deal and White Pelican were attractions at a Rodeo in Los Angeles in 1913.

Simpson and Acord have just returned from trying out horses, going as far as Alturas, and working at Steel Swamp, the Dalton ranch, the Carr ranch, Duncan ranch and the Mitchell and JF ranches. Out of sixty buckers they selected a dozen of the worst, and wint use them for the bucking contests.

FINAL ESTIMATE OF THE MISSING PLACED AT 969

DISCREPANCIES ARE NOTED IN STORIES

Captains of the Two Boats Tell Different Versions of Fatality—Officials Are Taking the Testimony of the Passengers—Work of Identifying the Victims Proceeds Steadily at the Wharf Morgues.

United Press Service

QUEBEC, June 1.—Canadian Pacific officials today estimate the Empress of Ireland death list at 969. This is believed to be final.

The identification of the bodies at Rimouski proceeds rapidly. It is believed that the bodies not located are in the bulk of the missing ship.

United Press Service

MONTREAL, June 1.—Investigation into the wreck by the government has started. Today the wreck commission is securing the testimony of the survivors, but the matter will be finally decided by a royal commission, including two judges of the admiralty court, who will arrive here June 8th from London.

Wreck Commissioner Lindsey is taking the evidence of the members of the crew, as well as the survivors. Today he reports a grave discrepancy between the stories of Captain Kendall, commander of the ill-fated Empress of Ireland, and Captain Anderson of the collier Stordstad, which collided with the Empress.

Prepares for the Rodeo.

Herbert Arant is in the city today from his ranch. He says he has a couple of running horses which he wants to enter at the Elks Rodeo. He may also gather up a string for the relay race, which is to be one of the big local events of the July show.

John Wannamaker announces that he will close his Philadelphia stores on all Saturdays in July and August, and at 5 o'clock on every business day in the year. He will use his influence to have a nation-wide Saturday closing. It is probable the clerks will be paid on a five-day basis.

In co-operation with the weather bureau, forest rangers are to measure snow depths in the Western mountains.
