SHAMROCK IV IS LAUNCHED WITH GREAT CEREMONY

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 5. In the presence of a distinguished company of British sportsmen, statesmen and society women, the Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's latest challenger for the America cup was recently launched from the yard of Camper & Nicholson, at Gosport.

Later, on board his magnificent steam yacht Erin, the millionaire sportsman - tea - merchant's guests drank enthusiastically - but not tea - to the success of his fourth attempt to win the Blue Ribbon of the Sea.

"I am making no rash predictions," said Sir Thomas just before the gracefully lined craft slipped into the water, "but I honestly feel that my chances this time are on the winning side. I know that this will be the best boat that ever crossed the Atlantic to try for the cup. Moreover, luck ought to be with me, considering that this is the thirteenth race for that trophy.

"I have been preparing for the event for seventeen years. I have learned something valuable each of the three times I lost with the previous Shamrocks, and the boat we are now launching embodies not only the results of my own experience and observation, but the ripened fruits of the marvelous talents of that prince of designers, Charles E. Nicholson."

The work of rigging the Shamrock IV will require about a week, after which she will be put on her tuning up trials. These will continue until about the middle of July, most of the races being pulled off in the Solent, the stretch of water separating the Isle of Wight from the main land.

The present challenger is the first from this side to be constructed with a centerboard. This plate drops ten feet when let down, making her total draft when rigged and manned nearly twenty-four feet. Another innovation is the fact that she is built largely of wood, the previous Shamrocks being entirely of metal.

Laid on a framework of navalium, a recently patented metal composition, there are two wooden skins throughout - in places three - the outer layer being mahogany. Her mast is of hollow wood, the longest of that type ever constructed. A duplicate mast will be shipped to America, to be available in event of accident.

The amount of canvas to be carried is still a secret. Sir Thomas intimates that the spread will astonish the yachting world.

For the first time a Lipton challenger will be commanded by an amateur helmsman, but yachting experts regard W. P. Burton as one of the most skillful in the world. He certainly has no peers in Great Britain.

In his yachting career, extending over thirty years, he has sailed more than a thousand races, and has been the owner of several cup-winning boats. His total wins have been 235 boats and 140 other prizes, including two king's cups and the international fifteen-meter cup - the blue ribbon of fifteen-meter racing in Europe - which he won three years in succession.

OAKLAND STARTS
SUMMER CRUISES

The steamer Otkland will start on Monday on its summer run to Upper Lake points. The steamer will leave the landing about 8:30, and run to Modoc Point, where connection will be made with automobile for Fort Klamath.

Passengers going to Fort Klamath will arrive there for dinner, and those leaving the Fort in the morning will be brought back on the steamer and reach Klamath Falls about noon.

With the substitution of the auto for the stage, much quicker time will be made. The regular schedule will be announced after the steamer has made a few trips.

Look to Recover.

Alleging that $50.21 is due on an assigned account, the Pacific Northwestern Adjusting Co. today brought suit for that amount against the Farmers' Implement and Supply House.

ADY WILL GO TO WASHINGTON FOR THE WATER USERS

Abel Ady, J. R. Dixon, John Irwin, C. A. Bunting and J. G. Swan will have charge of the affairs of the Klamath Water Users Association, as they were elected directors at Friday's annual meeting of the stockholders. The three amendments to the constitution were adopted by the water users.

One of the most important matters to receive the attention of the stockholders was the matter of sending a representative to Washington to work for the passage of the twenty-year extension bill, now pending in the house. In view of the splendid work done by President Abel Ady in Washington for the association, he was again chosen to go and work for the passage of the measure, which means so much to the irrigators all over the West.

Ady will leave as soon as he can possibly arrange his affairs.

THE DESCHUTES AND PAULINA
RESERVES ARE OPEN TODAY

Preparatory to the opening of lands in the Paulina and Deschutes forest reserves Monday, the following circular has been issued by Commissioner Tallman, and sent to the land offices:

"Hereafter when lands unsurveyed or withdrawn or reserved are to become subject to disposition under the laws applicable thereto by the filing of a township plat of survey or by restoration to entry from such withdrawals or reservations, all applications, filings or selections therefor may be executed in a manner required by law, and, with the required fee, and commissions, be presented to the proper local land office in person, by mail or otherwise, within the period of twenty days prior to the date of filing the township plat or of restoration to entry, unless the law or the regulations governing the disposition of a particular application or the land affected otherwise provide.

No priority will be secured nor right forfeited by the presentation of such application, filing or selection in the manner and within the time prescribed prior to the filing of the township plat or the restoration of the land to entry, and all such applications, filings and selections shall, with those presented by persons present at the local office at the hour the lands become subject to entry, be held and treated as simultaneously filed.

"Applications presented after the lands become subject for entry will be received and noted in the order of their filing. Any application, filing or selection not based on a prior settlement right will be subject to valid settlement claims asserted in the manner required by law. The register and receiver will carefully compare all applications simultaneously filed as aforesaid, and will dispose of them as follows:

"First—Where there is no conflict the application shall be allowed irrespective of whether settlement is alleged.

"Second—In case of conflicting applications and only one of the applicants alleges prior settlement, his application shall be allowed and the others rejected.

"Third—If two or more conflicting applications are received, each containing allegations of prior settlement, a hearing shall be ordered to determine the priority of right, and it shall be restricted to those allegations which are made.

"Fourth—Where there are applications conflicting in whole or in part, in which no one of the several applicants claims prior settlement, the register and receiver will write on cards the names of the several applicants and each of these cards shall be placed in an envelope upon which there is no distinctive or identifying mark, and at 2 o'clock p. m., on the date of opening to entry, if practicable, if not, at the same hour one week later, after all the envelopes containing the names of the several applicants shall have been thoroughly mixed in the presence of such persons as may desire to be present, they shall be drawn and numbered in order. The cards as numbered and drawn will be securely fastened to the applications of the respective persons, and the applications shall be allowed in such order. Where the applicant fails to obtain all the land applied for by him he will be permitted to elect whether he will retain the land secured and amend his application to embrace other lands not affected by pending applications and otherwise subject thereto when such amended application is presented, or withdraw his original application without prejudice, and in the event of such withdrawal the fees and commissions will be returned by the receiver. Applications conflicting in whole with those previously allowed will be rejected in the usual manner."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET MASON

(Written for the United Press)

When Mabel and Tessie, Who both are dressy, Go out for a stroll in the park, Their garments so slimy, Transparent and skimpy, Seem mostly a take-off—but mark: When they take a notion To dip in the ocean, They pile on such flubdub galore, Such bustles and ruffles, Such founcing and puffing That even the ocean waves roar.

NEW YORK, June 6.—To be truly fashionable when you take a dip in the briny this summer, you must put on more clothes than you take off. Time was when the bathing beach was the vantage ground where all feminine fine points were frankly revealed. Now all the revealing is done in the marts, the public restaurants and theaters, while the charms of the belle of the bathers are as completely hidden under the up-to-date bathing costume as the light under the proverbial bushel.

Skirts are longer than heretofore, and the pantalolet a la mode is glimpsed generously below in ruffled and ruffled gowns. Panniers of different colors are a favorite trimming, and together with bustle effects in their buxant buoyancy will no doubt cause a decided slump in the demand for "wings," bladders and cork belts by timorous swimmers.

Brilliant colors that are fast and certainly look it is another feature, and rubber flowers made into corsage bouquets are the last gasp in aquatic fashions. Imagine what a snappy effect a spray of pink rubber roses will add to your bathing suit and the spring touch imparted by a bunch of bunch of purple violets is sure to win at the stretch. Certainly nobody could classify these elastic violets as belonging to the shrinking variety.

One of the most popular models of a 1914 bathing suit is of blue or black taffeta with a deep girdle of bright hued plaid or Roman striped silk and a tunic piped in the striped or plaid trimming.

The waist is open down the front to the waist line and filled in with a vest of sheer white muslin with an up-standing Gladstone collar of the same. Flaring cuffs of muslin finish the long sleeves and the ruffles edging the full pantalolet are piped in the girdle silk.

A bright green satin costume has a tunic scalloped on the edge, a low neck blouse waist with a scalloped Gladstone collar of the satin, and puffed elbow sleeves finished with a scalloped ruffle as are the puffy bloomers. A deep girdle of the satin spans the waistline and no other color or trimming relieves this study in green save a white rubber gardenia with green rubber foliage at the belt and a wreath of the waterproof gardenias on a smart green crush satin hat that completes the verdant getup.

A striking black taffeta suit has hectic panniers and bustle of furst silk and a V-shaped inset of the same placed point downward in the skirt. Another purple satin suit panned in poisonous purple and green striped silk has a bunch of violets at the belt.

A bright red satin shows a skirt entirely composed of four scalloped ruffles. The penchant of fair bathers for this scallop trimming is probably accentuated by the desire to prove that quite as many good scollops go into the sea as come out, and are as delectable with satin dressing as the deep sea scollops with a dressing of tartar sauce.

The newest sandals are in bright satin to match the bathing suit, and are built like the late tango slippers with divers straps. Nothing could be more apropos than a deep sea green slipper with divers straps to cover an under toe, now, could there? The sandals that perform the aquatic feat of covering bathing feet and the chic flower trimmed hats that top the hirsute waves that top the ocean waves are not the salient features of the newest bathing suits, however. The really striking innovations, after all, are the superabundance of buxant bustles, panniers and puffs. The minute you get one on you, you are bound to belong to the floating population.

The Dalles, Oregon, or Lakeview, Oregon:

"In anticipation of the assertion of settlement claims, you are advised that settlement is not essential to the exercise of the right to enter additional lands under the provisions of the acts of April 28, 1904 (33 Stat. 527), or February 19, 1909 (35 Stat. 639), but a person qualified to make an additional entry under either act may, by priority of settlement on lands subject thereto, secure a preference right to make such additional entry.

"The act of June 11, 1909 (34 Stat. 233), authorizing agricultural entries in forest reserves, will be treated as a homestead act upon the exclusion of the lands from a national forest and entrymen under such act will have the same rights and privileges as other homestead entrymen within the excluded areas to make additional entries under the aforesaid acts of April 28, 1904, and February 19, 1909, and to secure preference rights by priority of settlement. Applications to make additional entries under either of said acts will be governed by the rules and regulations applicable to original applications."

LAKE CO. ELATED OVER NEW ROAD

Residents of Lake county are feeling much elated over the prospect that the Goose Lake Valley is to be pierced by a new railroad, a transcontinental line projected from Butte, Mont., to San Francisco, through Montana, Idaho, a corner of Oregon and through the Sacramento Valley.

H. A. Utley, a Lakeview real estate man, has written for Flint, Mich., that he has gotten in touch with a number of prospective new settlers. While he was at Salt Lake City he said he learned of definite plans for the construction of the line, which would cost $120,000,000, the first step to which was the recapitalization of the Butte, Boise & Winnemucca railroad about six months ago.

If the new line is built according to the plans included in the project of revivifying the B. B. & W., Boise would be the headquarters. L. O. Leonard, an engineer, filed the papers at Boise, but he has so far refrained from indicating his backing.

FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Klamath Falls Lodge No. 1247 B. P. O. Elks will publicly observe Flag Day on Sunday, June 14, at Houston's opera house. Heretofore the annual services have been held by the members in the lodge room.

A committee has been appointed to arrange for the observance, and the full ritualistic ceremony of the lodge will be given. Past Exalted Ruler Chas. J. Ferguson will be one of the speakers in addition to the regular officers of the lodge. The event will be open to the public.

The prettiest feature of the ceremony will be the putting together of a model of the liberty bell made from flowers. These segments, each formed of red, white and blue blossoms, will form part of the bell. When these parts are brought together they will represent a likeness of the old bell which rang forth the tidings of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

MAY GIVE PUBLIC
BEDS OF STREAMS

SALEM, June 6.—Petitions asking for the initiation of a constitutional amendment declaring the beds of navigable waters of Oregon at bank full stage subject to public use for commerce, navigation and improvement have been filed with Secretary of State Olcott.

Simultaneously there was also filed a petition asking for the initiation of a law authorizing cities to build and maintain docks and wharves on such navigable streams. Both measures are initiated by C. S. Jackson and F. W. Mulkey of Portland.

The constitutional amendment provides, in brief, that the title to all submerged lands shall repose in the state, in trust for the benefit of the public, and that any grant of them which interferes with public commerce or navigation shall be forbidden. Further, it is provided that cities may build and maintain docks on such streams and that where they are not needed for dock purposes they may be leased.

Such leases, however, it is provided must not extend beyond twenty-five years, and may be canceled ten years after execution, should the submerged lands be needed by a city.

Every five years the rental for the lands must be appraised by a disinterested appraisal board.
