BENSON SAYS THE LOSER WILL WORK FOR WINNER

"It has been over a month since the primary elections, and the see-sawing between Justice McNary and I for the fourth republican nomination has caused the two of us much loss of sleep. There is only one way to settle this, and that is by the recount of re-check, and this is to be done by the state officials," said Circuit Judge Benson last night, returning from a sojourn in Salem.

Judge Benson resumed court here today. He shows the effect of the long suspense to which he and McNary have been subjected, and which is not settled as yet.

"There have evidently been many errors made in the counting of the votes in the state, and the race which has been hanging on a month without being settled, can only be decided by a recount or re-check. Mr. McNary is as much disturbed as I am over the constant switching of positions, owing to the discovery of an extra vote for one or the other in some county.

"We both feel that the matter should be officially settled, and whichever man wins, he will have the assurance of the entire support of the other."

YOUNG PRINCE OF WALES WILL BE A MILLIONAIRE

LONDON, June 16.—The Prince of Wales will be 29 years old on Tuesday, June 23, and a year later he will become the richest heir apparent in Europe, with the possible exception of the czarvitch—and he is still unengaged. When he reaches his majority and comes into full control of the revenues from real estate and invested funds which are now being administered in trust for him, young Edward will have an annual income of more than $1,000,000. A large part of this will be from the Duchy of Cornwall, which was settled upon him at the time of his father's accession. Under the thrifty administration of Lord Revelstoke the rental of this estate has increased since Prince Edward's death from 100,000 a year to $180,000, and the accumulated revenues that will be turned over to his royal highness next year will be in the neighborhood of $2,500,000. In addition to this, most of the annual allowance of $250,000 granted the prince when George took the throne (to be increased to $350,000 when he reaches his majority) has been saved and carefully invested.

Frugal Queen Mary has seen to it that young Wales should spend not a cent more than sufficient to maintain his position with the proper dignity. There are many undergraduates at Oxford whose expenditures far exceed that of the heir to the throne. The limit set by Queen Mary is said to have been $10,000 a year.

The prince will also come into a large personal legacy left him by King Edward, when he is 21. His total income will be about a third more than that of King George when he was heir apparent.

GARRETT LEAVES FOR ANNAPOLIS

In the pink of condition, and with every reason to believe he would become a midshipman in the United States Naval Academy, W. Stirling Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garrett of this city, left this morning for Annapolis, Md. There he will take the physical examination for entrance into the academy.

Garrett was named as an alternate candidate for admission in the examination held for Congressman Sinnott's appointment this winter. His principal passed the examination, but Garrett made such a remarkable showing that Sinnott secured another appointment to Annapolis for him.

In Garrett's departure Klamath county high school loses a youth who was noted for both scholastic and athletic ability. Great things are expected of him in the naval academy.

BIG BASIN MILL WILL OPEN SOON

The West Side sawmill of the Big Basin Lumber company will open Monday morning, cutting up the 2,000,000 or more logs now in the company's booms.

Harry Gallagher has returned from Chillicothe to take charge of the operations. He is now busy getting a crew.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Elliott and Elder S. D. Harlan and family motored to Bonanza Monday in the former's car. When they returned they were accompanied by Miss Loretta Lyons, who will take the teacher's examinations.

As a result of the strike in the coal fields of Colorado which has been going on since last September, eighteen strikers, ten mine guards, nineteen mine employes, two militiamen, three non-combatants, two women and twelve children have been killed. It is estimated the loss amounts to between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000.

CLEVELAND STUDIES THE "BIG SISTER" MOVEMENT

CLEVELAND, June 16.—A "big sister movement" to help solve the social and workday problems of the Cleveland girls in the ranks of the employed took its initial step today when Miss Alice Douglas, mission worker, left here for Chicago to study conditions there under Miss Marie Lawrence, Chicago's original "big sister."

Later Miss Douglas will return to Cleveland and put the movement under full headway. In addition, Miss Douglas, aided by other prominent social workers, will seek to have every city adopt some plan to aid the working girl.

The movement will embrace clubs and other places to attract girls of the department stores and factories who now frequent public dance halls, where they are always confronted with attendant dangers.

RURAL CREDIT MEASURE IS HEADED FOR A ROW

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.—Farm credit legislation seems to be headed toward a sharp contest between those for and opposed to government loans. The new Bulkley-Hollis bill introduced in the house is the result of the deliberations of the joint sub-committee of the two branches of congress. It contains, in part, the principle of government loans for the benefit of agriculture, which the large farm organizations have contended for. In this respect, together with the killing of the Moss-Fletcher bill, the new bill can be taken as a partial triumph for farmers.

These organizations were practically united in support of the bill introduced by Representative Bathrick of Ohio, who has led the fight for government aid during the last two years. His persistent propaganda for this principle is well known, and to his research, speeches and writings is mainly due the credit for the general understanding of that division of the farm credit question.

In an interview he presents his views as follows:

"Everybody knows that all the leading nations of Europe are doing more for the farmers than I have asked our government to do. Those who are posted, and are not more interested in high profits on interest than in the future of our food supply, have stopped calling government loans class legislation and socialism."

"My bill is still the best bill to relieve the burden of high cost of money to the farmer. But I have had some experience in getting the right kind of legislation. Very often the over-zealous miss the psychological moment to get the best they can. It is for that reason that I have announced my support for the Bulkley-Hollis bill. The bill contains three items of substantial government aid which will be of immense advantage to the West and South, particularly. It opens possibilities of good everywhere. It contains as little greed as could be expected with the many opinions of conflicting interests. It has a touch of mutuality and improving amendments can be made which should not seriously conflict with the opinions of the makers of the bill. Expenses of operation are low, the bonds to be issued against mortgages are well fortified, and should sell at a rate which should reduce the interest burden to the borrowers."

Suit to recover $92, alleged due on account, was commenced by the Klamath Iron works against W. B. Kyle. E. L. Elliott is attorney for the plaintiff.

At Wichita, Kans., on July 6, the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad will be sold at auction. The order of sale was made by Federal Judge John C. Pollock. The price set is $6,000,000. The system will be taken over by a syndicate of English financiers.

GUM CHEWING IS TABOO AT PENN

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Don't dance; don't smoke, and DON'T CHEW GUM!

These are the rules laid down by Coach Vivian Nickalls to the crew candidates at the University of Pennsylvania. The first two don'ts went straight home with the would-be oarsmen, but the ban on chewing gum is still a mystery around Wightman Hall.

Nickalls has refused to say just why he barred the first aid to the distressed shop girl. Perhaps it wasn't from a hygienic standpoint.

His only comment was, "A fellow who chews gum isn't timber for the Penn crew. Leave jaw exercise to the women."

Failure to live up to the rules will mean suspension, Nickalls has decreed.

P. L. FOUNTAIN IS AGAIN ON THE BOARD

Has Been Connected With the Local Board of Education for the Past Twelve Years, and Has Seen the Schools Grow Tenfold.—Lack of Interest is Manifested by the Light Vote That Was Cast.

The grammar schools of Klamath Falls are to furnish free text books to the pupils. This was decided Monday by the taxpayers of the district, who by a vote of 130 to 52, passed the measure as submitted at the annual selection of District No. 1.

Klamath Falls is one of the first cities in the state to adopt free textbooks. The same question was voted on in Portland Monday.

At the school election the taxpayers also re-elected Pleasant L. Fountain as a member of the school board. He won by a large vote over E. M. Chilcote and Mrs. Maud Zink, who opposed him.

This is the twelfth year that Mr. Fountain has been connected with the school board, and he is considered one of its most valuable members, being especially gifted for handling the school's finances for the best possible results. At the time he first became a member of the board, the school enrollment here was less than 100, and school was taught in the frame building on Tenth street, between Main and Pine. Since then the enrollment has passed the 1,000 mark, and in addition to the two splendid brick and stone buildings, there are schools also at Shippington and Mills addition.

WANT NOOSE INSTEAD OF THE AXE IN GERMANY

United Press Service

BERLIN, June 16.—Agitation has been started in Germany to abolish the axe and the block. Of all civilized and cultured peoples, Germany is the only country in the world today which has retained and still clings to this ancient form of executing the death sentence of the law. Even Russia, so often characterized as benighted, has adopted hanging. France, often termed the most enlightened nation, also still clings to its traditionally gruesome beheadings in preference to the less spectacular and more refined form of hanging adopted by the greater portion of the civilized world, and to electrocution in vogue in the United States. But France makes some claim for refinement in the tragedy of a human life by the fact that it executes the law's sentence with a machine, the mechanical guillotine, merely set in motion by human agency. The machine does the rest.

In Germany society still rids itself of undesirables by the simple though primitive operation of severing the head from the body with an axe swung by brawny arms, just as was done in England in the days of Mary, Queen of Scots, Queen Elizabeth and Henry VIII. The human butcher block has long been abolished in England. In Germany the idea has been and still is to a large extent, that in order to make human execution a check upon crime and to prove a deterrent to murder, it should be surrounded with as much horror as possible. Advocates claim that the glinting axe and the black-robed block are a greater symbol of that terror of the final act of law than the hangman's noose.

There are over 150,000 telephone girls in the United States.
