

Washington's Ride Repeated by S. A. R.

United Press Service
PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Three members of the Massachusetts chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution planned to leave here today on horseback over the same route followed by General George Washington when he left the Quaker City charge of the Continental Army at Cambridge. Washington made the trip on horseback. Brigadier General Philip Reader, U. S. A., retired; Edwin S. Crandon of Boston and Henry F. Ponderson of Springfield, Mass.; were the men who were to make the trip.

The present plan is for the little party to make the same stops Washington did on his historic ride. At each stop patriotic and historic societies of each place will receive the three men, and memorial tablets in honor of the Father of his Country will be dedicated. Military and patriotic societies will be joined in the dedication ceremonies by state militia organizations and town and city officials.

The party plans to arrive in Cambridge on July 2, the 139th anniversary of the date on which Washington reached that city. A big delegation has been planned for that date, when state officials and officials of Boston and Cambridge will join. The Boston chapter of the Sons of the Revolution plan to take a prominent part in the big Cambridge celebration, which will be held under the historic "Old Elm Tree" there.

Flags were flown on all government buildings, and salutes were fired at the naval and military stations, while British warships the world over decked themselves out in rainbow fashion.

There were many military parades, the most important being the brilliant ceremony known as "trooping the color," which was performed on the House Guards parade, St. James Park. In the presence of the king, queen and all members of the royal family at present in London.

King George, wearing the uniform of colonel in chief of the Grenadier Guards, rode from Buckingham Palace, attended by Prince Arthur of Connaught, Prince Christian, the Duke of Teck and Prince Alexander, and a brilliant cavalcade of high army officers and the foreign military attaches.

Queen Mary, with her daughter and the younger princes, drove to the parade ground with a cavalry escort, and took up positions in the royal

GEO. V. OF ENGLAND CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY
United Press Service
LONDON, June 22.—King George is officially celebrating his 49th birthday today, although as a matter of fact he is already nineteen days into his fiftieth year. The actual anniversary, June 3, found the king too busy to receive the congratulations of the rulers and people of the world, so another date had to be set so that he could accept felicitations in proper style. Today the telegraph and postal systems were kept busy conveying the congratulations and acknowledgments.

box just above the saluting base. Great crowds assembled for this popular ceremony, and their majesties were heartily cheered during their progress to and from the palace. In view of suffragette attempts to get at the king, extra precautions were taken today, the spectators being kept several hundred feet behind the closely packed lines of troops lining the route, and detectives in plain clothes swarmed everywhere.

out stopping or turning. Regardless of the errors, the game Sunday was full of pep and ginger.

 the fourth, when Thrasher opened with a single, stole second, went to third when Mesner beat out a bunt, and scored when Ambrose cracked one to a safe spot in left. Browne lived on a fielder's choice, as did Maxwell, but Mesner was forced at the plate on Maxwell's grounder. Noel sacrificed, scoring Ambrose. Dale then lifted a long fly that looked safe for a three-bagger at least, but little Edmonds scooted under it for the third out. Two hits, two runs.

Two errors and a fielder's choice gave the visitors their fourth and last tally in the ninth.

Maxwell cut off what looked like two runs in the eighth by the fastest bleeding work ever seen on the local diamond. With runners on second and third, and two down, Heaton slammed one between first and second that was ticketed through to the railroad track, but Maxwell performed a miracle, and got his hand on the ball, making the throw to Dale with-

INDIANS GOING TO "BIG TIME"

KLAMATH AGENCY, June 22.—Big times are expected at the Wood River "Big July Time," to be held at Fort Klamath June 29-30, July 1, 2. A big crowd is expected, and the Indians will turn out en masse. We all agree that Fort Klamath is a fine place to celebrate, for it is a natural park, and a fine place to spend the summer. After the Fort celebration hundreds will go to Klamath Falls for the three days of the Elks Rodeo—bigger and better than ever this year.

R. Madsen, the piano tuner, and H. Orem, who owns the Klamath Falls Music House, were visitors on the Klamath reservation last week.

Ralph Tice has gone to Crater Lake National Park to work on the road with his six big horses. He intends to work there all summer on highway construction.

Accurate information about the Klamath Basin. See Chilcote, 635 Main.

Willamette Pacific tracks are to reach tidewater by October 1. In all 1,500 men are employed.
