

MAY GET THEIR MONEY RETURNED BY DIRECTORS

COMMERCE COMMISSION REPORTS ON NEW HAVEN

Gist of Report Is a Roast of the Directors, Alleging that They Were Mischievous and "Criminously Negligent" and That They Consciously Violated the Federal Anti-Monopoly Laws

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has handed in its report on the financial policy of the directors of the New Haven railroad, and it is the most condemnatory report ever submitted by that body.

The gist of the report was that the New Haven monopoly theory was unsound, and was in the hands of mischievous directors, who were "criminally negligent," and that a substantial part of the stockholders' money that was wasted is recoverable.

Taken as a whole, the report is the most condemnatory ever submitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It declares that the New Haven directors consciously violated the federal anti-monopoly laws. The report does not attempt to fix the responsibility as between President Mellen and J. P. Morgan, leaving the point up to Attorney General McReynolds' office as to what directors were criminally responsible.

Chairman Folk said that the report made the directors of the New Haven criminally responsible for over $30,000,000, and the commission estimates the total loss to stockholders through mismanagement and carelessness at from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000. A complete record of the testimony has been furnished the department of justice.

The result of our research into the management of the New Haven railroad has disclosed one of the most glaring cases of maladministration ever revealed in the history of American railroading.
