A MODERN NECESSITY

THE value of advertising is felt at three ends—the merchant, the consumer and the publisher.

Through the medium of his advertisements the merchant acquaints the consumer with the wares he has for sale, with their values and their attractive features, and is himself constantly in touch with the consumer.

The consumer reads of the goods he wants, learns where to find them, and saves the time of fruitless hunting from place to place.

The publisher is the go-between, the medium of communication between the buyer and seller, a sort of public convenience. Strange as it may seem, he, too, has his uses.

Advertising accomplishes more good and better results for all people than any one feature in commercial life.

It is a modern necessity, made so by the constantly increasing demands of a discriminating public.

PRESBYTERIANS ENCIRCLE GLOBE

"A tour of the world" is the unique social arranged by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church for the evening of October 2d. This will be given for the purpose of raising funds for the society.

A start will be made at the home of some member, which will be designated as some country. The house will be decorated in accordance with the nation it represents, and characteristic refreshments will be served.

At each country directions will be given how to reach the next, which will be a few blocks off.

DR. HAMILTON MAKES SECURED OFFICES

"My wife and daughter, like myself, are convinced that Klamath Falls is the place for us, so I am back here to stay. I have arranged to open an office here, and in the morning I go back to Marshfield to get Mrs. Hamilton and Helen, who are anxious to return."

Thus spoke Dr. Hamilton, for years a well known local physician. This summer Dr. Morrow and Dr. Hamilton went to Alaska, where they had the contract to care for the men employed in the railroad work. They were both dissatisfied, though, and came back to Oregon, going to Marshfield.

Dr. Hamilton believes that Dr. Morrow will remain in Marshfield.

SHOT AT

Your attention—do we have it? LISTEN! Many a square meal is spoiled in the making by unwise grocers who think of profits rather than quality.

Stale butter, bad eggs, cheap coffee, poor potatoes, inferior off-brand canned goods, any one of which, to say the least, will spoil an otherwise perfect meal.

Some grocers make it a point of honor never to sell an article that is "off." They build up a reputation from which they are inseparable. Their WORD, as it were, is a trade mark, and becomes a force and power in their business.

WE KNOW IT. Our customers know it—others know it. And still there are others who should know it for their own sake.

AUSTRIAN LINE IS ENVELOPED; CZAR ADVANCES

AN ARMISTICE IS TAKEN TODAY AT PRZEMYSL

This is to Permit Civilians to Leave the City Which Will Soon Be Under Fire—City at the Other End of the Battle Line is Also Being Deserted Today by the People, and Troops Prepare for an Attack.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 22.—It is announced that the main Russian forces have advanced, after enveloping the Austrian line between Przemyl and Jaraslof.

The real resistance to the advance of the Russians is expected at Cracow, the northwestern terminus of the battle line. Here the Austrian reserves and German landwehr are massed.

Przemyl asked a five-hour armistice, to give non-combatants a chance to leave, and this was granted all along the line.

CRACOW, (via Vienna, via Rome), Sept. 22.—Most of the non-residents and the non-combatants of this city left today, during the five hour armistice. Polish, Hebrews and Lithuanians were the first to leave.

The city is under martial law. The governor has confiscated all food supplies and other materials that might be needed.

The city, strongly garrisoned by Austrian troops and German landwehr, is ready for the attack. Reports this afternoon say the Russians have crossed the River San, and the Cossacks are ravaging the country as they proceed.

GETTYSBURG TO BE SHOWN HERE

"The Battle of Gettysburg," a five-reel production of the bloodiest fight of the Civil War, will be shown in motion pictures at the Orpheus theater Sunday. The film was taken on the scene of the three day conflict, and its historical correctness is guaranteed by the fact that Civil War veterans who fought there directed the work of the thousands of men employed.

Manager Tindall announces that owing to popular request, he will give matinees at 2:30 Saturdays and Sundays. He has also perfected the arrangement of his Simplex projector, the result being the most perfect pictures thrown on the screen.

WEST WRITES TO MAYOR AFTER PUBLISHING LETTER

Putting the cart before the horses, as usual, Governor West, after he has defamed Klamath Falls throughout the Northwest by making public the letter regarding alleged moral turpitude and lawlessness here, is now investigating. He has written Mayor Nicholas a letter, asking the "wherefor."

Incidentally, this is the second time that West has written to Nicholas regarding the conduct of this city's affairs. The latest letter was written September 19th. Four days before that, the governor gave the Portland and Salem papers the contents of Mrs. Moore's letter—without making any kind of an investigation at all.

The letter received by Nicholas follows:

"I am enclosing herewith for your information and such action as the circumstances may warrant, a communication recently received from Mrs. C. A. Moore, a saleswoman, whom it appears, has been spending a few days in your city.

"If Mrs. Moore's statement is true some action should be taken toward prosecuting the guilty parties."

The charges are so absurd that they can easily be disproven. Mayor Nicholas is thinking of contenting himself with sending West copies of the Klamath Falls newspapers, with stories dealing on the subject.

"Mrs. Moore's charges are so groundless and so visionary that I don't consider there is anything to investigate," said Mayor Nicholas this afternoon. "If the governor wants to investigate and send a man here, we will be only too glad to help him in every way, providing that he will be fair enough to give full publicity to the true conditions here."

CAR SHORTAGE IS TAKEN UP

In anticipation of heavy shipments of grains out of here in the next few weeks, and the possibility of there being a car shortage then, owing to the demand for cars for fruit shipments, the Klamath Chamber of Commerce today took this matter up with the Southern Pacific.

The local situation was outlined in full in telegrams sent.

Out and Around Again. John Schallcock, who has been laid up for several days with a bum wing, is again flying about.

WASHINGTON BANKS CLOSED BY STATE

CENTRALIA, Wash., Sept. 22.—The United States National bank, with deposits of more than a million dollars, and the Union Loan and Trust company, with deposits aggregating more than a quarter of a million, failed to open their doors this morning.

This followed an inspection of their books by Bank Examiner L. L. Mulit. The Centralia State bank at Tenino, also owned by the same interests, likewise closed its doors.

UNCLE SAM HAS STUDY PLAN TO HELP FARMERS

The United States Bureau of Education suggests the following essentials of the county unit basis of organization for the administration of rural schools. They result from studies of the various regulations in the states now organized on that basis:

1.—The county unit of taxation and administration of schools (except that in administration, independent city districts employing a superintendent would not be included).

2.—A county school tax levied on all taxable property in the county, covered into the county treasury, and divided between the independent city districts and the rest of the county on a basis of the school population.

3.—The county school funds, including those raised by taxation and those received from the state, expended in such a way as would as nearly as possible insure equal educational opportunities in all parts of the county, regardless of the amount raised in any particular part. (Any sub-district should be permitted to raise, by taxation or otherwise, additional funds to supplement the county funds, provided the sub-district desired a better school plant, additional equipment, or a more efficient teaching force than could be provided from the county funds.)

4.—A county board of education in which is vested the administration of the public schools of the county (except those in independent city districts), composed of from five to nine persons, elected or appointed from the county at large; the board to be non-partisan; the term of office to be at least five years, and the terms arranged so that not more than one-fifth would expire in any one year.

5.—A county superintendent of schools, a professional educator, selected by the county board of education, from within or without the county or state, for a long term (at least two years), who shall serve as the secretary and executive officer of the county board and as such be the recognized head of the public schools in the county (except those in independent city districts).

6.—District trustees in each sub-district of the county, one or more persons, elected by the voters of the district or selected by the county board; to be custodians of the school property and to serve in an advisory capacity to the county board. The expenditures of local funds raised by the sub-district would rest with the trustees subject to the approval of the county board.

7.—The powers and duties of the county board of education: (a) To select a county superintendent who would be its secretary and executive officer in the performance of all of its other functions; and to appoint assistants as required. (b) To have general control and management of the schools of the county. (c) To submit estimates to the regular county taxing authority of the amount of money needed to support the schools. (d) To regulate the boundaries of the sub-districts of the county, making from time to time such alterations as in its judgment would serve the best interests of the county system. (e) To locate and erect school buildings. (f) To supply the necessary equipment. (g) To fix the course of study and select text books (using the state course and state adopted text books in the states where action has been taken). (h) To enforce the compulsory education laws. (i) To employ teachers, fix their salaries and the salaries of other employees.

Farmers Are Held Liable for Spread of Thistle

By O. A. STEARNS County Fruit Inspector

Some time last spring I called the attention of our county commissioners to the report I had heard that the Russian thistle had appeared in some parts of the county, and gave the result of my observations of its ravages in the states of Idaho, Wyoming and Nebraska.

While going to Merrill on last Friday to attend the district fair at that place, I saw a confirmation of the rumor as to the presence of that dread scourge. In the lane westward from the Stukel bridge, both in the roadway and in the fields on either side for perhaps half a mile, I saw the Russian thistle growing in all its crimson glory, unmolested and untouched.

This, too, on one of our most traveled highways.

Whether its presence is unnoticed through ignorance of its nature or through pure neglect of their duty by our county officials, whose duty it is to look after such matters, I am unable to say; but would be false to my duty as a citizen of this county if I failed to call attention to the danger that the agriculturists of this county are facing in its continued presence.

I will call the attention of the county court to Sections 6458 to 6469, inclusive, in Chapter 27, Volume III, Statutes of Oregon:

Section 6458—"It shall be the duty of each road supervisor in each road district in this state, in addition to the duties heretofore prescribed by law, to ascertain from time to time and know whether or not there is in his district any weed known as Russian thistle, the Canada thistle, the Chinese thistle (or silybum), called white mustard, cocklebur (known as dagger cocklebur), arthroplex argenta (called silver salt bush), and he shall as he ascertains that there is any such weed, and before any thereof has shed its bloom or commenced to form the seed, serve or cause to be served upon the owner, if he be known or reside within the county, and if not, upon the occupant of the premises upon which such weeds or thistles may be, a notice in writing, notifying said owner or occupant of the existence of said thistle weed or weeds, and in such notice shall give the name of such weed and a description of the land upon which same is growing.

Said notice shall be served by delivering to the occupant or person in charge of said premises a copy thereof duly certified to be such by the person serving the same, and if there be no occupant of such land upon which weed may be growing, then such notice shall be served by posting in three conspicuous places upon such premises a copy of such notice duly certified to be such by said road supervisor."

The next section provides for filing return of service. Section 6460 provides for supervisors to exterminate weed or weeds, if for any reason occupant and owner be not found or refuse to do so.

Section 6461 provides for filing of statement of expenses, which becomes a lien on the premises effected, also for selling same in case of default in paying same.

Now above quoted law fixes the responsibility for the continued existence of this and kindred pests, and a failure to enforce these regulations is made a misdemeanor.

The people of this county should DEMAND that this law be immediately enforced, for it means the future welfare of the farmer in protecting him from an impending calamity that would cause many thousands of dollars of loss annually.

The time to act is NOW; any delay is dangerous and inexcusable. These thistles are now past the blooming and seed forming period, but they could be cut down and burned to prevent their further spread this season, and maybe next year, with vigorous prosecution and vigilance, they could be exterminated. If neglected now it means the distribution of the seed all over the nearby farms, and soon the whole valley, from Tule Lake to this city will be covered with the weed, and the farmers can lay the blame on the present county administration, for a criminal neglect of a sworn duty.

Let them act immediately, and show the people that they have some regard for the responsibilities they assumed when they qualified for their respective office.

They can no longer plead ignorance.

JAPANESE LOSE MEN ON MINED SOIL

United Press Service

PEKIN, Sept. 23.—Chinese officials at Shantung peninsula telegraph the government headquarters today to the effect that Japanese troops are besieging the fortified German positions in Kiau Chau.

They say the Japanese lost heavily when the Germans detonated mines in the ground over which the Nipponese were advancing. It is said that an entire battalion of Japanese infantry was completely wiped out, and other commands somewhat demoralized.

BERLIN (via The Hague)—Sept. 23.—The casualties include Generals von Trotha, von Arbon and von Wrochem, killed in action, and Generals von Willisen and von Kuehne wounded. Berlin advices also say that four of the kaiser's sons are in the hospitals, wounded. The kaiser is said to have reprimanded them for unnecessarily exposing themselves.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Experts are awaiting for the announcement that the German line is withdrawn to positions just inside the French northern border. It is admitted that the battle will probably last at least two days more. Experts believe that at least a part of the German force has already retired to new positions along the Sambre.

United Press Service

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—It is officially announced that in a battle near Tannenberg the Russians lost 150,000 killed and 92,000 captured.

United Press Service

BORDEAUX, Sept. 23.—The French artillery is steadily reducing the defenses at Cattaro. The fleet of the allies are bombarding the town, and its capture is predicted soon.

United Press Service

BORDEAUX, Sept. 23.—The war office today positively announces that the flank of the German right wing has been turned by the allies, and that as a result, General von Kluk's command is in danger of isolation.

It is stated that reinforcements are rushing toward von Kluk from Belgium, but will be unable to assist his retreat or prevent his being encircled.

The British and French outnumber the von Kluk command two to one. Over a million allies are engaged in the battle line, and half that number more are in reserve.

Since yesterday, the turning movement of the allies has continued, and official reports state that now that the German right has been definitely turned, the allies are making tremendous assaults to divide the enemy and isolate the southernmost forces.

The weather has modified, and this permits the allies to work faster.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Experts take the report of the "turning" as meaning that the allies have pushed von Kluk's army out of alignment with the rest of the German front. It is believed this will necessitate the retirement of other German armies, or their taking a chance of being enveloped.

The left wing of the allies is steadily progressing against von Kluk's command. The allies' left, by determined and at times hand to hand fighting, succeeded in gaining ten miles along the right bank of the Oise.

This movement (the enveloping one) is progressing as planned by General Joffre.
