Search leads to three arrests

Three people were arrested on drug-related charges after a search warrant was served at a property in Seaside.

On Saturday, Aug. 22, the Clatsop County Inter-agency Narcotic Team and detectives with the Seaside Police Department served a search warrant for drugs and stolen property at 1605 N. Wahanna Road.

According to a news release from the Clatsop County Sheriff's Office, the warrant was obtained after deputies and Seaside officers responded to several calls for service about squatting and drug-related activity at the residence, as well as numerous complaints from neighbors. During the course of those responses, individuals were arrested for drug-related offenses and outstanding warrants.

During the search Saturday, officers arrested Logan Douglas Holt, 27, for two outstanding arrest warrants and delivery and possession of methamphetamine. The evidence gave detectives probable cause to arrest two other suspects Monday, Aug. 24. Vicky Renea Moyer, 43, was arrested for delivery and possession of heroin, possession of prescription amphetamine tablets and possession of ecstasy tablets. William Berkley Waddell, 46, was arrested and charged with delivery and possession of heroin and methamphetamine. Following the arrest, detectives obtained and served another search warrant on Moyer's vehicle.

Burnham pleads guilty

The Seaside man who tried escaping last month from Clatsop County Jail while in custody for an attempted murder charge from a hammer attack has pleaded guilty. Kevin Michael Burnham, 25, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of second-degree robbery and first-degree attempted escape. Burnham could face about six years in prison for the robbery charge and another two years for the attempted escape. A sentencing hearing is scheduled next month in Clatsop County Circuit Court. Burnham was arrested with Joshua Lee Fitch, 23, of Longview, Wash., in Seaside in February after an alleged hammer attack. While in custody on $250,000 bail, Burnham and another inmate, Anthony Craig Osborne, attempted to escape from Clatsop County Jail.
