Dan Taylor has taken over the head coaching duties for Seaside wrestling, replacing Trent Rollins.

Any district with Crook County has got to be good. And it's not just Crook County that the Cowapa schools compete with when it comes to Regionals.

Of the 38 scoring teams in the state tournament, Special District 1 had four teams in the top 10, including Crook County (first), Scappoose (fourth), Banks (seventh) and Tillamook (ninth).

ty scored a whopping 327 points, with Henley (165.5) second.

The district is much the same this season, with traditional powers Crook County, Estacada, Gladstone, Banks and Scappoose.

Crook County scored 507.5 points to win last year's district title, with Scappoose (235.5) the next closest. Seaside finished 11th out of 11 teams, with just five points.

Among the highlights for the Gulls, Jordan Hansard reached the quarterfinals at 138 pounds before falling to Trevor Thiessen of Banks; Raiden Bowles had a consolation win over Kyle Herinckx of Banks at 170 pounds, and eventually placed seventh with a consolation final victory over Fabio Raise of Estacada.

Bowles returns as one of Seaside's scoring hopes this year, along with regional qualifiers Donald La Tourette (120 pounds last season), and Jacob Brien (285).
