

Ribbon-cutting hails roadway completion

Holladay Drive re-opens in Seaside

Ladies and gentlemen, start your engines. Holladay Drive is once again a through street.

In August, the city feared they might not be able to get construction work completed by the rainy season.

Removal of utility poles was the last major task to be completed.

Crews came in just under the wire as Seaside's Public Works Director Dale McDowell was joined by Tim Moore of Tapani Construction and Mayor Don Larson Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Holladay Drive and First Avenue to symbolically mark the project's completion.

The $3.4 million North Holladay Drive project began in mid-January, and impacted homeowners, businesses, bus routes, pedestrians, vehicles and utilities.

Workmen replaced existing sewer, water and force mains before reconnecting water and sewer services.

Underground vaults and conduits were built for conversion of the existing overhead utilities, including electric and cable wires.

McDowell presented revised September change orders at Monday's city council meeting, including $20,000 for storm drains, driveway approaches and paving costs.

After council approval, McDowell invited the audience to join him and others Tuesday for a ribbon-cutting to celebrate the completion of the project.

"It's time to take the signs down and put up a ribbon and find someone who would like to cut it," McDowell said.

Mayor Larson took on that task.

"It's amazing seeing people walking, driving, skateboarding," McDowell said.

He said Holladay Drive road striping and landscaping remain, but "there's no reason we can't open it up."

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

HEALING OREGON with KINDNESS and COMPASSION

"I am running for House District 32 to bring new ideas to the state and bring forth the kindness and compassion my constituents feel is needed to solve problems."

- Dr. Bobek

- We are short changing our students by spending only 10.4% of the budget on education and 16% on administrative costs.
- In order to help attract quality jobs to our community, Dr. Bobek will work to reduce costs for local employers, enhance our transportation system, and expand educational opportunities.
- We need to be respectful of each other and our viewpoints for it is our diversity that makes our country great.
- Dr. Bobek is not a politician, but by running would like to make a difference.
- We all together can heal Oregon.
- A local small business owner, Dr. Bobek has seen firsthand how too much government intrusion can kill jobs and stifle economic growth by driving up costs and punishing innovation.
- Dr. Bobek will work to cut needless government red-tape and demand accountability from government regulatory agencies.
- We should have a healthcare system responsive to all and at the same time affordable with a guarantee that no one will ever go bankrupt due to healthcare costs.
- It is time we all stand up and support needed mental health services to all who are in need.
