Gingerbread tea at Butterfield Cottage

For the 26th year, the Seaside Museum and Historical Society hosts its annual gingerbread tea at Butterfield Cottage. Enjoy homemade gingerbread with a variety of teas, hot cocoa and spiced cider while being entertained by live holiday music. Musicians this year include the North Coast Ukulele Strummers and Linda Nielsen.

Horace Seely Butterfield, a prominent Portland jeweler, built the Butterfield Cottage in 1893. The original location was at 21 North Columbia. In 1984 the Butterfield Cottage was given to the Seaside Museum and Historical Society and moved to its present location at 570 Necanicum Drive. It has been interpretively restored to be used as a museum depicting a beach cottage and rooming house of 1912.

The Butterfield Cottage will be decorated in Victorian holiday style and open for gingerbread tea from 1 to 4

CIRCULATION MANAGER

The Daily Astorian, one of the best small daily newspapers in print and digital in the scenic Pacific Northwest, is seeking a leader to direct our circulation sales and delivery operations. We are looking for someone who is passionate about customer service and willing to learn our business. Leadership skills are necessary to oversee both staff and independent contractors. Sales skills are a plus.

To get the job done, you'll have a front office staff of four to work with along with a solid crew in the mailroom and in our corporate office for distribution and marketing support. All we need is a person ready to lead and direct them to success. If you believe you are that person, send a letter of interest and resume to:
