On Feb. 5, 2016, Seaside Police Sgt. Jason Goodding was shot and killed while attempting to make a felony arrest.

His memory was recalled at a remembrance ceremony held in front of the Seaside police station Tuesday night, the third anniversary of the shooting.

"On behalf of the city of Seaside, welcome," Lt. Bruce Holt said. "Tonight will give us all a chance to pause, reflect, appreciate and renew our belief that the things we do and say matter — even when nobody's watching."

Goodding was 39 at the time of his death and would have turned 43 later this year.

About 100 onlookers braved chilly temperatures as Holt, Seaside residents and members of the law enforcement community saluted placement of a wreath on the flagpole outside the station.

The musical lyric "Life is Good Today" by the Zac Brown Band provided a theme to celebrate the life of Goodding.

"It is time to positively impact those around us and become better," Holt said. "People like this are 'legacy.' Your day is good even when you are near them."

Goodding had those qualities as "a difference-maker" who could make life better for those around him, Holt said. "It did not seem to matter what the circumstances were, but by being around Jason, you felt 'life is good today.'"

Among the crowd, Seaside Mayor Jay Barber reflected on the vigil. "Doing this every year is a statement that we will never forget him. That is the commitment we make to all our officers, especially someone who pays the ultimate price."

Shirley Marie Tadei

Astoria

June 25, 1933 — Jan. 29, 2019

Sadly, with heavy hearts, we are grieving the loss of our sweet, angelic, eloquent, wife, mother and grandmother, Shirley Marie Tadei, who passed away Jan. 29, 2019.

Shirley was born June 25, 1933, in Astoria, Oregon, to Finnish immigrants John and Karoline Osmus, the youngest of six children, Ruth, Leonard, Doris, Helen and Charles, all of whom preceded her in death.

In 1950, while in high school, she met Vince Tadei, who survives her; they went on to be married in May 1952. She was a loving, devoted mother to 10 children, and is survived by daughters Tricia, LouAnn, Juli (Tom), Mary, Lisa and Sue, and sons Peter, Paul (Leslie) and Joe (Heather). Daughter Pamela preceded her in death in 2008.

She was active in St. Mary, Star of the Sea Church, National Association of Letter Carriers Auxiliary and Vasa Order of America, and liked volunteering at the annual Scandinavian festival. She enjoyed many interests, including travel, shopping, "coffee an," bingo, sewing, time at the beach, family gatherings and frequent outings with life-long best friend, Laurel Carlson.

Shirley enjoyed reminiscing about her Finnish heritage, and her days growing up in the Alameda neighborhood of Uniontown. Most important to her was spending time with her 21 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren, as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

A private service and burial will take place, with a celebration of life to be announced at a later date.

A public visitation took place Feb. 7 at Caldwell's Luce-Layton Mortuary.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in memory of Shirley to the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Astoria Scandinavian Heritage Association, or Doernbecher Children's Hospital.
