Seaside Signal

For the first time since 2014 (not counting the canceled 2020 season), no baseball team from Clatsop County played for a state championship in the shortened 2021 spring season.

Still, for the locals, the season featured three league Coaches of the Year, two league champions and one Player of the Year.

Warrenton and Knappa came the closest, both advancing to the final eight of the unofficial state tournaments for 3A and 2A, respectively.

At the 4A level, Seaside's Brett Wolfe — in his first year with the Gulls — was named as one of the Coach of the Year recipients in the Cowapa League, along with Joe Baumgartner of league champion Banks.

The Braves had all nine starters earn all-league honors, including Player of the Year Charlie White and Pitcher of the Year Riley Harbaugh. Seaside had six players on the all-league team.

In the Class 3A Coastal Range League, Warrenton's Lennie Wolfe was selected as Coach of the Year for the 12th time, while all nine Warrior starters — seven of whom return next season — earned all-league honors.

Knappa's Jeff Miller was Coach of the Year in the 2A Northwest League, with Logger junior Drew Miller the Player of the Year.

Seven Gulls on all-league team

The Banks Braves swept the post-season awards for Cowapa League softball in 2021.

In addition to having every starter on the all-league squad, the Braves had the Player of the Year (sophomore Olivia Wyatt), the Pitcher of the Year (senior Brooke Vandehy) and the Designated Player of the Year (senior Jessica Stewart), while Rosi Contri, of Banks, and Joy Richardson, of Tillamook, shared the Coaches of the Year honor.

The five-team Cowapa League had all five starting shortstops on the first team. The No. 1 pitcher for each team was also selected all-league, with four on the first team.

It was also a great year to be a Gull, as Seaside had a pitcher, catcher, all four infielders and one outfielder earn all-league honors. Six Astoria players were named all-league.

In the 3A Coastal Range League, state champion Clatskanie dominated the selections, with 11 players earning all-league honors. The Tigers defeated Rainier in the unofficial 3A state championship game this spring. Warrenton's lone selection was junior Avyree Mieth, to the first team. The Warriors also earned the league's sportsmanship award.

Seaside softball coaches Jessica Garrigues and Joel Dierickx with the Gulls' three seniors from the 2021 season, from left, Emma Taylor, Kandice Flaigg and Gracie Rhodes. All three were Cowapa all-league, as were seven of Seaside's nine starters.
