

Business Notes

RETROFIT, INC.

In a transaction completed recently, Larry Tippery of Vancouver, Washington, became the new owner of Act II Automotive, Inc.

Reorganized and renamed Retrofit, Inc., Tippery plans to specialize in retrofitting automobiles for public agencies and fleet owners. He will also be doing general mechanical and body-fender work for local clients.

Tippery and his wife, Carolyn have moved to a Noakes Road residence in Vernonia.

VDC disbands, supports C of C

The Vernonia Development Corporation decided to disband the organization and turn over its remaining funds to the Vernonia Area Chamber of Commerce for purposes of economic development.

Reasons cited at the July 8, 1987 meeting were a lack of widespread participation by Corporation members, and a duplication of economic development efforts by VDC and the Chamber. Also mentioned was that people who were active in one of the two organizations usually belonged to both, and that both organizations' goals are similar.

The Vernonia Area Chamber of Commerce holds its regular monthly meetings on the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 a.m. in the Eagle Office Restaurant. Non-members are invited to attend the no-host breakfast meetings.

FARMERS & MERCHANTS BANK

Craig Stolle, a former vice-president and area manager for Old National Bank of Washington, in Spokane, has been appointed chief executive officer of Farmers and Merchants Bank.

Stolle is a Stanford graduate in economics and of Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington.

A Navy veteran of the amphibious force during the Korean war, Stolle also brings a solid 20 years of banking experience and a commendable record of community service to his new post.

When he is settled in, he plans to spend one day a week in Vernonia working with the local bank staff and getting involved in the community.

The Stollers, whose six children are all grown, will be moving to a Forest Grove residence soon.
