Cherries, berries should soon be abundant locally

Blueberries will be a little early this year, according to Grace Scott of Tri-County Farm Fresh Produce Guide. Early varieties will be ready to pick during the last week of June. Ready picked ones may be available just a bit earlier. Earliblue and Bluetta are two of the early varieties which can be found throughout the area. From July 1 - 4 later varieties will be coming on. The berries at higher elevations generally have later picking dates. The season lasts into September.

Sweet cherries grown in the valley have a similar ripening schedule. Dark cherries such as Vans and Badas will be ready by the fourth or fifth week of June, depending on the location. Royal Anne cherries will be at their best July 1-4 depending on location. Hungry birds and rain may have significant impact on the local crop. A good crop of pie cherries will be ready from about July 4 - 15.

Ever-popular blackberries have a wide number of varieties ripening in July. Find ready and u-picked Marion, Kotata and Boysenberries. These berries will have excellent crops this year.

Updated crop information is available by calling the Ripe and Ready Hotline, 226-4112.

Friends and relatives flock to congratulate Vernonia High School graduates immediately after commencement rites.
