Small Woodland Assoc. holds seedling tree sale

The annual tree sale of the Columbia County Small Woodlands Association will be held Saturday, Feb. 19 from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., in the parking lot of the Hi-School Pharmacy in St. Helens.

A number of popular varieties including fir, pine, cedar, sequoia, hardwoods and other landscaping seedlings, will be for sale with prices beginning at 50 cents each. A good supply of difficult to obtain genetically improved Douglas fir seedlings will be on hand.

Master Woodland Managers and silviculture experts will be available to answer questions about selection, suitability, planting and care. In addition, purchasers may pick up printed materials to assist them with their seedlings.

The nonprofit Small Woodlands Association is organized to promote family forestland owners' understanding of responsible land stewardship on acreages of five to 5000. Over 100 families in Columbia County are active in the organization. In the past two years, members have planted over 80,000 of the improved Douglas fir seedlings that have recently become available.

The Association has actively participated in the education of youngsters through tree planting on tree farms and through instructional activities at Rainier High School.

For more information, call President Dan Kloppman at 556-8532, or Director Paul Nys, 556-8800.

County fair seeks old photos, info

"From Pioneer Ways to Modern Days" is the theme for the 85th anniversary of the Columbia County Fair and Rodeo, which will be celebrating its 85th Anniversary, July 19-23, 2000.

To get things together for the celebration, the Fair Board is

First Jamboree meeting slated

The first meeting for this year's Vernonia Friendship Jamboree, Logging Show & Cruise In, will be held Thursday, February 3, at 7:00 p.m. at the Country Kitchen. The 2000 Jamboree will be August 4-6.

The agenda includes election of vice-president and treasurer, nominees for the Parade Grand Marshall, and the Jamboree Theme contest.

All groups and organizations that plan to be involved in this annual celebration are encouraged to attend so the Jamboree Committee can better accommodate their needs.

Anyone else interested in becoming involved is encouraged to attend and bring their ideas to make this Jamboree the best ever. For further information call Randy Parrow, 429-1093.

looking for old Columbia County Fair books, ribbons and photos. The ribbons must be dated.

The Fair Board is also looking for past Rodeo Court members. Special events, which will include all past court members, will take place during the anniversary celebration. Past court members, or those who know where past court members may be, are asked to contact the fair office at 503-397-4231.

Also needed are books, ribbons and photographs, call or stop by to see if your pieces could complete the collection.

UW meets goal

United Way of Columbia County reached its goal of $325,000, by mid-January, executive director Kathye Beck announced. That amount is "...two percent over the organization's total for last year," Beck said, adding, "We are still counting."

"United Way of Columbia County is truly thankful to all their effort, time and talents have once again increased contributions to assist Columbia County residents in their time of need," said Keith Morse, president of the board.
