will hold their initial meeting March 9.

Sykes also reported that Butch Chapin, supervisor of the Columbia County Youth Corps, which includes the Vernonia Youth Corps, is short of funds and has asked the city to consider paying the insurance premium for one van. The county-owned van is part of the county parks department, which has a major funding shortfall. Without making an official decision, the council indicated approval if the cost can be accommodated in the City's upcoming budget.

Public Works Director Robyn Bassett, discussed the possibility of making Weed Avenue a one-way street from Bridge to Maple in order to make room for parking. She asked the council to consider the proposal and agreed to bring a conceptual design to the April 1 meeting.

In other business, the Council:

- Agreed to place the Oregon Employment Department Kiosk in City Hall so people can do a job search without going out of town.

- Approved a resolution authorizing the sale of Water Revenue Refunding Bond Anticipation Notes. This was required under the terms of the federal loan for rehabilitation of the water distribution system.

- Approved liquor license renewals for The Lyon's Den, New Hong Kong Restaurant and Lew's Place.

- Set March 18 from noon to 4:00 p.m. for a council workshop and goal-setting session.
