Lynne Cox selected for Columbia Foundation executive position

Lynne A. Cox will join the Columbia Foundation Board of Directors at Executive Director, effective November 27, replacing Barbara Peschiera, who accepted a position with OHSU.

Ms. Cox, born in Lebanon and attended Willamette University College of Law. She graduated summa cum laude in 1989, finishing first in her class. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English education from the University of Oregon in 1977. From 1992 - 1994, she was Executive Director of VORP of Multnomah County, a Portland non-profit organization that served the community through volunteer mediation services. Under her leadership, VORP received national attention and became a model program for similar programs throughout Oregon. She has worked with life-long learning and community building efforts since that time.

Ms. Cox was chosen from nearly 50 applicants from as far as New York, Illinois and Southern California. Her background of many years as a public school teacher, college professor and law school teacher, as well as being a practicing attorney, mediator and business woman in retail management made her a perfect choice for the Foundation.

"Lynne's experience in grant writing, public involvement and management skills is incredible. She is going to be a tremendous asset to this community. We are lucky to get her", said Don Kielblock, the Foundation's President.

Sally Phillips named to Vernonia Postmaster position

After months of interim supervisors—and just in time for the Christmas rush—Sally Phillips has been appointed as Vernonia's new postmaster.

This is the first official postmaster position for Phillips, a 15 year veteran of the U.S. Postal Service, who started as a carrier in Tualatin and Gresham. From there, she went on to temporary and interim supervisory positions in Tualatin, Beaverton, Lake Oswego, Evergreen and other Post Offices. She also served as coordinator of the Quality of Work-life Employee Involvement program for rural carriers in the Western and Pacific areas, which is approximately the western half of the U.S., for more than two years.

changes," Phillips said. "This is a great staff in Vernonia and I'm letting them teach me" about the local area. She wants to be part of the community and will be getting involved as much as possible.

Now a resident of Tualatin, Phillips lived all over the U.S. as she was growing up because her father was in the military. She graduated from high school in Ohio, then attended Miami (Ohio) State College.
