

In Memoriam

The Logging community throughout the Northwest was saddened to learn of the death of Terry Selby, "Casey the Clown."

Selby fell to his death last month while performing on a 60-foot pole in a Juneau, Alaska, logging show.

He was scheduled to appear again in Vernonia for the Jamboree Logging Show on August 4. These photos were taken last year during the local show.

Casey the Clown

Logging show field announcer Pete Peters was a willing straight man for the gags of Casey the Clown during the past six years.
