between a punitive [disincensive] and grace" that could still be consistent.

McGlasson asked the committee to address the activity/athletic problem, perhaps with separate contracts. She also asked them to furnish the board with definitive information on the effectiveness of the policies in other districts and the scope of the problem in Banks. McGlasson concluded by saying that a strong policy would send a message that refraining from drug and alcohol use was important.

Scrap metal drive by American Legion

Banks American Legion Post #90 will hold a scrap metal drive April 10, to help support the Legion Post. Anyone who would like to get rid of metal objects is asked to bring broken down cars, appliances and junk metal of all kinds to the Legion hall at 170 Main St. in Banks.

For information, call 503-324-3603 or 503-324-3780.

Council hears BCF background, goals

Former mayor Ray Deeth, and Denise Dethlefs of Bighorn Logging, made a short presentation to the Banks City Council, February 10, explaining the background and goals of the Banks Community Foundation (BCF). In 2001, Banks was identified as one of two economically distressed cities in Washington County. Grant funding was obtained by the Chamber of Commerce to complete both a strategic plan and a downtown development plan. The city also received a grant for a group of citizens to attend the Ford Community Leadership Training. That group – which included a wide range of community members, from senior citizens to teens – identified a need for a non-profit organization to work on projects benefiting the economic, social and educational needs of the city.

BCF was formed in December, 2003, and has applied to the IRS for 501(c)(3), not-for-profit status. The mission of BCF is to increase the livability and bring well-planned economic growth to Banks. BCF currently meets at the Bighorn Logging office, 120 N. Main, on the fourth Thursday of each month, 7:00 – 9:00 pm. Membership is open to anyone who is interested in the future of the community.

As part of the leadership training, the Ford Foundation also provides a $10,000 matching grant for a community project. BCF has raised $6,500 of the matching funds and will hold an International Soup Festival, March 16, as a fund raiser. The project selected, which is a feasibility study for the building of a motion picture film/video sound stage and back lot facility in the Banks area, must be completed by September 2004 under the terms of the grant.

BCF is also working on addi-

Enjoy breakfast with firefighters

Enjoy breakfast with the Banks Volunteer Firefighter Association on Sunday, March 7, in Banks High School Cafeteria.

Pancakes, ham or sausage, eggs, fruit, coffee, milk or orange juice will be served from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

There will also be free fire engine rides for children, and free blood pressure checks for adults. A beautifully made bench will be raffled off, as well. Raffle tickets are $5.00 each or five for $20.00.

Breakfast tickets are $20.00 per family (maximum 6 members), $5.00 for adults, $3.00 for children under 12 years, and $4.00 for seniors 62 and up. Tickets may be purchased at the fire hall or at the breakfast.

For more information, call Banks Fire District #13 at 503-324-6262.

tional projects, which include downtown streetscape improvements and play equipment for Greenville Park, Dethlefs told the council, and would like an opportunity to discuss all of their projects with the council in further detail. Council asked Mayor Bob Orłowski to schedule a workshop for this purpose.

Deeth, wearing his Chamber of Commerce hat, also thanked the city for allowing the chamber to bury a time capsule in Scout Cabin Park.

Public works superintendent Tim Grossnickle presented a concept design for the public works building. The two-story, 40x50-foot steel building will have a brick façade and possibly a western-style false front.
