

Campfires are prohibited in the woods

Tillamook, Yamhill, Columbia and Clatsop counties.

"Fireworks have no place in areas with flammable vegetation," said Mike Simek, Protection Unit Forester at Columbia City.

Open fires are prohibited, including campfires, charcoal fires, and cooking fires, except at designated locations. Portable cook stoves using liquefied or bottled fuels are allowed.

Additionally, woods workers must have fire prevention and fire fighting equipment at their operation site and provide a watchman on each operation after equipment is shut down. Fire season rules also prohibit smoking while in or traveling through any "operation area," and prohibit the use of fuse and caps for blasting on forest land.

In addition, all backyard debris burning, both in piles and barrels, is banned during fire season in Columbia County.

Fire season is declared each year based on weather conditions and fire danger. As forest vegetation dries due to warmer temperatures and less rain, fire danger increases.

For information about forest lands in this area and/or public fire restrictions, call the Columbia City Unit office at 503-397-2636.

Information is available 24-hours a day; Office hours are Monday through Sunday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on an after hours recording.

For burning information within Vernonia, call 503-429-8004. For other information, call the Vernonia Rural Fire Protection District at 503-429-8252.
