

Join Sheriff's Search & Rescue

When a hiker, fisherman, hunter or any other person is lost, a plane goes down in an unknown location, or evidence needs to be located in a remote area - "Who you gonna call?" Your Sheriff's Office Explorer Search and Rescue Team!

Explorers are young men and women, age 14 to 20 years, who have gone through extensive and challenging training. Explorers are affiliated with Learning for Life, a non-profit organization. Many schools give credit toward graduation for students who participate in this program.

Once accepted into the program, candidates must complete a 12-day full-immersion training camp academy. The academy is held in a wilderness park-like setting where Explorers are trained in all of the skills needed to meet state standards for Search and Rescue personnel. Classes include land navigation, rescue techniques, man tracking, wilderness survival, first aid, rope-as-

Mayor Kinsky proclaims CDBG week

Mayor John Kinsky began the March 10 Banks City Council meeting by proclaiming the week of April 12-18 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) week in Banks, recognizing the importance of the program and how it serves local communities. The CDBG program was enacted into law by President Gerald Ford, as
