Bits & Bites

By Jacqueline Ramsay

Haaaa, my last grandchild has graduated from high school. Small class 125+. The most enjoyable part was all the musical groups. Regular band, pep band, and jazz band. The choirs, trios and solos – pop and swing. Music is so important to the rounding of an education, so is drama and the arts. Kindergarten through grade 12.

Joy, joy, the sun shone long enough last Monday that Jim was able to plant our garden. It is now swinging in the breeze. Tomato; 60 days. Zucchini; 55 days. Cucumber; 60 days. Who knows I may be able to bring the Golden Oldies zucchini bread this fall. With or without nuts?? Now, if you could only hang radishes, green onions and lettuce.

Weary, weary, weary – that's me – of the spring rains. I want to put winter in a box but it seems I'm stuck in winter weight clothes or I'm becoming fashionable by learning to layer my clothes, so when necessary I can 'peel' without doing a total strip tease or put some on when the weather chills. Strange thing though, I've had to shed my socks part of the time.

I passed another bridge in my treatment today (June 8). We started setting up my button hole treatment site (this means no more tracks on my arm). Yippee – it won't hurt so much any more.

P.S. As I file this I am becoming a great-grandmother (I think).

50 Years Ago This Month

The June 16, 1960, issue of the Vernonia Eagle included the following news story on the front page:

City residents will have the opportunity to present their opinions about the municipal budget for the coming fiscal year next Wednesday evening June 22, the date set for a public hearing on the proposed list of expenditures.

The new budget presents a figure for total expenditures that is considerable above the amount of the 1959-60 cost sheet, but there is a good reason for this increase. Also it should be noted that the item of most interest to taxpayers, the amount to be raised by direct tax, is lower than last year and does not exceed the six per cent limitation.

Several small increases and decreases in regular budget items are evident when the new budget is compared with the old, but none of them account for the sizeable difference in the amount of expenditures as compared with last year.

The big difference is contained in one item, the sewage lagoon project which must be constructed this year and which project the city has already taken steps to get underway. This one item of $65,000 accounts for the big increase.

Under the list of estimated receipts for 1960-61 most items with the exception of three are about the same as before, but those three account for a big difference.

First, the city will start the new year on July 1 with an estimated cash balance of $31,000 as compared with $3,000 last year, this big difference being accounted for in the sale of O.A. houses and unexpected funds from last year's budget. Money from the house sales has been put aside to provide part of the funds needed for the sewer lagoon project.

The second item is an amount of $19,000 from the sewer sinking fund and the third is the figure of $19,500 which will come from a federal grant to be applied towards the cost of the sewer lagoon.

These large items of estimated income provide the offset for expenditures, leaving the amount to be raised by taxes at a lower figure than last year.
