Preschool story times and after school reading programs will not take place during the months of June, July and August. Staff will be busy with Summer Reading programming and will then take a break during August. This summer's theme of Dream Big – READ! will provide the opportunity for various fun-filled activities including a puppet show, tie-dying event, movies, stories, crafts—all things nocturnal. Youngsters 0-13 are encouraged to join their friends in the fun while keeping their brains active by reading during the summer. The first of the summer activities will take place Tuesday, June 26th at 10:00 in the library. Prizes, including passes to the Oregon Zoo, Bullwinkle's, Sky High Sports, and Out of This World Pizza, will be awarded to youngsters based on the amount of time spent reading. The out of town fee for students living outside the city limits will be waived during the summer allowing any student to check out up to three books at a time.

In response to a question regarding fines on overdue materials, an attempt to clarify the matter follows:

Fines on overdue materials are $.50 a day for movies, $.10 a day for books (both audio and print format), and $.05 for magazines. A maximum total of $2.00 is the limit charged on any one item. When items are returned late, the computer registers the amount and computes the total due. These fines remain on a patron's account until they are paid. They do not magically disappear. Keep this in mind and be responsible in returning your materials on time and paying any outstanding fines.

It has recently been brought to my attention that Craig Johnson's novels featuring Walt Longmire, sheriff of Absaroka County, Wyoming are being televised Sundays on A&E. The series stars Australian actor Robert Taylor as the charismatic, dedicated and unflappable Longmire and Lou Diamond Phillips as Walt's Cheyenne sidekick, Henry Standing Bear. Johnson has written eight of these novels with Cold Dish being the first and As the Crow Flies (released in May 2012) being number eight. I hope the television adaptations faithfully portray Johnson's novels, which realistically paint the story told in each one. The reader can feel the wind blow, hear the snowflakes fall and see the endless beauty of Wyoming while becoming intimate with gruff, likeable Longmire, eccentric Henry Standing Bear and smart-mouthed deputy Victoria Moretti. I hope the television adaptations do them justice.

Recent acquisitions include XO by Jeffery Deaver, Stolen Prey by John Sandford, The Girl Giant by Kristen den Hartog, and Newport Blues by George Byron Wright.

Book discussion will take place Monday, June 25 at 5:30 with Heather Lende's, Take Good Care of the Garden and the Dogs, being the topic.

Monthly movie night will be Thursday, June 28 at 6:30.

Books are now being accepted for the annual book sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library. This sale will take place Friday, August 3rd and Saturday, August 4th.
