

Banks Curves has specials for Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Throughout Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October, Curves fitness centers in the U.S. will focus on raising awareness about the life-saving importance of risk management, early detection and early treatment of breast cancer. Because women can help reduce their risk for breast cancer by staying in good health, Curves clubs nationwide, including Curves of Banks, are offering $0-joining-fee memberships from October 1 through October 14 to new members who show proof of a mammogram performed within the last year, or who donate $25 to The American Cancer Society (ACS). In 2011, Curves clubs nationwide raised more than $1.7 million for the ACS.

The ACS estimates that nearly 226,870 women will be diagnosed with invasive breast cancer in 2012, and another 63,300 will be diagnosed with carcinoma in situ (CIS), a non-invasive, early form of breast cancer. Breast cancer remains a leading cause of cancer death in women, second only to lung cancer. More than 39,500 women will die from the disease in 2012. One woman in every eight will be diagnosed with invasive breast cancer in her lifetime.

"Our annual Breast Cancer Awareness Campaign is an important part of the Curves mission to strengthen women," according to the staff of Curves of Banks. "We offer a supportive, fun, non-competitive environment that encourages women to take time out from their role as caregivers to take care of themselves."

"The ACS credits the decline in death rates from breast cancer since 1990 to earlier detection, increased awareness and improved treatment," said a Curves of Banks staff member. "While breast cancer is still the second leading cause of cancer death in women, there are now more than 2.6 million breast cancer survivors in the United States, including those still undergoing treatment. Curves of Banks is proud to be part of the efforts to educate and empower women that have contributed to these hopeful statistics."
