Splendid Play Monday Evening.

The drama at the theatre Monday night was not only entertaining but it taught several very valuable lessons. M. G. Cooley seems to be very fortunate in his selections of companies as well as in his moving picture shows. One of the lessons taught very impressively by the play Monday was the unfairness of two standards of morals, one for men and another for women. Another lesson, and a very valuable one, was the awfulness of making mistakes and how hard it is for a girl to keep out of the clutches of white slavers after making one mistake. Another lesson was the difference between real righteousness and churchanity, and another the littleness and meanness of the character who has no higher aim in life than to destroy the reputation of people, with no thought of public good but just through shallow desire of gossip and hypocrisy. Surely the drama is being purified and Silverton is the great gainer by having such a company engaged for the season.

Those reading my ads will please remember I am in the business to look after your interests. If you want a home in the town or country, if you want timber or a stock ranch, dairy or fruit business, improved or vacant, if you have anything to exchange or sell no matter where, tell me your wants, give me a description of your property, what you will exchange for and where you want it. I will do the rest. I buy, sell, and exchange anything anywhere, write me. H. E. Brown, office over Journal office, box 145, Silverton, Ore. 50tf

Notice.

The report that H. E. Brown Realty Co., had bought the Cas Young property last week is a mistake. I didn't buy the property, says Brown, I only bargained for it. Antied and shoved the buck. The property was transferred to Mrs. F. L. Bullis, Mr. and Mrs. Bullis will move into their new home soon.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

pliotation, namely interest, rent, profit, would be to abolish the master class. It is foolish to expect such a thing from our industrial tyrants.

Nature has two methods of ridding a living organism of disease. One is to send fresh blood to the affected part to eliminate waste and build new tissue, or she amputates the rotten limbs to save what can be saved.

Parasites are no necessary part of the social organism. They have to go, and they have not much choice, either, between the two methods, for if they had intellect enough they would understand the handwriting on the wall, and know that Life must have its way.

But to the slaves, Babson's letter is glad tidings. They will now, in greater numbers, cease to be contented slaves, and commence to be men, self-respecting men, by joining our ranks for the final overthrow of the wage system.

Yours for industrial freedom,
FRED FREYR.

DEFENSE FUND.

Friends of Liberty and Truth, this is your fight as well as ours. We will never surrender, but we are up against a big battle in the form of a $50,000 damage suit, and a criminal libel suit by the Roman Catholics. We have been boycotted by law breakers, threatened with death by fanatics, and thrown into the street bodily for telling the truth, and are now where we actually must have help, or this very essential work for higher and better things can not continue. No one will ever know how much the few friends whose names appear in this "Defense Fund" have really helped us, for it is too long a story to tell here; but keep it coming, and the greatest thing ever accomplished in the United States by any little country newspaper will soon be recorded in The Silverton Journal.
