C. Allen of McMinnville, is sojourning in the city. LICKNER to wed.—Edward Evans to Eliza F. Morton. The Band social to-night promises to be a lively affair.

The dance at Hadley's hall on Saturday night was well attended. A. C. Dimmick and George E. Gist, were licensed to wed, May 1st. A. P. Wilson is building a neat barn on his lots in Thayer's addition.

Bustles are coming in fashion again. Old papers for sale at this office. There is considerable travel over the road from Nestucca to Sheridan. David Hadley is running a sail boat on the bay. He knows how to handle a boat.

The regular monthly meeting of the Masonic lodge will be held Saturday night. C. A. Beardsley has gone to Aberdeen, Wash., where he will remain during the summer. F. M. Lamb has returned from Portland and Oregon City where he was on business.

H. Jackson representing a Portland Insurance Co., was at the Occidental this week. It is reported that L. Crenshaw has leased his toll road and will move to his farm in the valley. Who knows the origin of the name "Mt. Hebo"? It is said the name was "Hevo" originally.

A gentleman from down the river stated yesterday that steam schooners and a tug have recently been contracted for, and are now under course of construction in San Francisco, for the Truckee Lumber Company, of Hobsonville, Tillamook.—Oregonian.

Filling the mud-holes in the streets with saw-dust is a good thing, but it should afterwards be covered with gravel or disastrous fires are likely to result. If a fire gets once started here next summer, almost the whole of Tillamook will be wiped out of existence in a few hours.

The road from this place to Nestucca is getting in good condition and there is likely to be considerable travel over it this summer. The residents of Nestucca will find it to their advantage to trade in Tillamook. A good road from Big Nestucca to Little Nestucca should be completed as soon as possible.

The Democratic paper will be issued for this evening or to-morrow. Walter P. Swinton, we understand, is the chief quill driver, and it be published in the watchtower office. It would appear to us that one Democratic paper is enough, but we suppose the straight out Democrats know their own business.

There was considerable disturbance at the Odd Fellows speaking in the hall last Saturday caused by small dog barking. The custom of allowing a lot of yapping curs in every gathering should be dispensed with. It is not an uncommon thing to see small dogs trotting about the floor at church or Sunday school. Teach the dogs to stay at home.

Engineer Kane and Capt. Staples of the Str. Improvement, collided in a hostile manner last week. Both were badly wrecked and it was thought for a while they would prove a total loss. Prompt action saved them however, and Mrs. Gallow came to the rescue of the bold Captain, and took him in tow, but not until his starboard top-light was stove in.

Those who have large property interests and who are anxious to see the town and country settled and developed rapidly should take some organized move to bring about the desired result. Parties having real estate to sell should be most interested and call a meeting to organize a board of immigration or information, do some liberal advertising and have some one authorized to answer all inquiries regarding the country.

There will be a meeting Saturday at 2 P. M., in Hadley's hall, for the purpose of organizing a fire company for this place. It is proposed to organize a hook and ladder company or bucket brigade if nothing more, for the protection of the town in case of fire.

From reliable information, it appears that the Republicans have a very large and safe majority in this county at present, in fact much larger than at last election. There will, of course, be some bolting done by Republicans, but there is considerable dissatisfaction among the Democrats, and the result will most likely show the Republican ticket elected on the regular party vote with a large majority and little variation in the votes received by the different candidates, though some of the Republican candidates may run ahead of the ticket.

The complaint is quite general among newspaper men and county officials that they are annoyed by numberless circulars from the census bureau asking information on various subjects, such information to be used in compiling the census of '90. Of course it would be a good thing for the census department, and, perhaps, would give a creditable showing for our county if we should take the time and pains to give the information desired, but we are too busy generally to give the querulous attention and the circulars are lost. In some cases the questions have been answered, but it is our opinion that the results obtained by the census department in this manner will not be worth their efforts.

Justice's Court. On Monday, Samuel Tomlinson, Jr., was tried before Justice Wheeler, for cruelty to animals. The evidence for conviction was circumstantial altogether, but the defendant was adjudged guilty and fined $10 and costs. The case will be appealed to the circuit court. It is claimed that it is a case of malicious prosecution.

Crop-Weather Bulletin. Bright days, cool and frosty nights reported, though no damage by frost and good growing weather. Winter wheat good, though the want of rain is beginning to be felt. All fruit trees are in full bloom and peach and cherry blossoms are falling. The peach crop will be light. Sheep shearing will begin in the next two weeks.—Taken from report of B. S. Pague, U. S. Signal Service Observer for Oregon.

Potlatch! Potlatch!! We send bills to all advertisers who are in arrears this week. They are not "duns," but invitations to pay. We shall hereafter, in every instance, render monthly statements to those who have accounts with us, whether the bills are paid or not. This will save any misunderstanding. The firms who sell us our materials do this, and besides we are required to pay monthly. We have made improvements in our paper at considerable expense and wish to make further improvements, so we need all that we can collect. Our profits go towards increasing our plant and facilities; therefore pay up and you will get a better paper.

These ships are to be established at Portland, Me., Portland, Or., Boston, Baltimore, New Orleans, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Cleveland and San Francisco. The bill provides that each naval school ship shall be under the command or instruction of an active and retired regular naval officer, but all the balance of the officers and crew shall be made up of young men and boys who may be enlisted for said militia service between the ages of 14 and 25 years, for terms of three years, and who shall receive instruction and drill in all the ordinary branches of the naval school and be subject to such regulations as may be proper.

$200,000 U. S. $25,000.00

TILLAMOOK COUNTY A SOURCE OF PROFIT TO THE U. S.

Why We Should Have a Large Appropriation.

About $25,000 has been or probably will be expended in life-saving stations and harbor improvements for Tillamook county, and, as shown by R. R. Hays in a letter in the HEADLIGHT some time ago, the government has received over $200,000 from the sale of timber lands and Pre-emption in this county. Over 425 timber claims have been taken in the past year, for which the government has $2.50 per acre, making $170,000, and the amount received on pre-emptions will swell the total amount to over $200,000, to say nothing of what has been done before and what will be done in the future. A conservative estimate will show about 2,500,000,000 feet of logs on this land which is valued at $1,000,000. An appropriation of 50,000 would almost double the value of this timber and of other property in Tillamook, besides vast sums of money would be expended here in constructing mills and other enterprises.

Mr. Hays, in his letter adds: "The government is supposed to act as collector of public moneys and pay them out upon the order and good will of the people for just purposes. The collection has been duly attended to, in the amount of $200,000, and Tillamook now asks for a disbursement in her favor of only 25 per cent of the amount which she has paid." It seems to us that such argument in our favor ought to be convincing and bring the necessary results, even if there were no other reasons. But, there are many other reasons why Tillamook should receive liberal attention, and her claims on general principles are as strong as many places which have received large appropriations. The idea, that the enormous sums of money obtained from Tillamook county should nearly all be expended elsewhere, is preposterous.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

BEAVER.

Fred Buhrow and Henry Ely sat up four nights last week, watching for beaver which come to feast on some dead cattle. They shot several times, but bruin walked off as if he was not much frightened. Mrs. Mart. Bush's health is much improved since her return to Beaver creek. Her children are up and playing out of doors, but the eldest boy looks quite pale yet. They have had a siege of whooping-cough. Last week Mrs. John Bush's daughters saw a large wildcat cross Bear creek road near where they were fishing—about the same time a lamb had been torn to pieces near the Beaver creek bridge, belonging to Bud Wallace. Wish some "nimrod" would find his way out here before more lambs are killed.

NESTUCCA.

By the silver falls of East creek, which rises up in the coast range and wending its way through mountain and glen, empties into the Nestucca some miles east of Beaver. How bright the miles are above the falls, as in the creeks wide shallow bed myriads of ripples dance in the sunbeams, until the gray walls of ground are reached, and then with a rush, a roar and tumble, down comes the water through a narrow gorge, boiling and seething down again through a chasm, scarcely one yard across, molten silver in the falls and emerald green in the deep basin beyond. Soft as falling vapor is the spray which bedews the mossy crag, and grand as the Oceans break is the monotone of falling water. When the shadows fall and the moon rides high in the heavens, the scene is glorified. What a study for the artist. What a wealth of beauty lies hidden in the mountains fastness. When winter's wind sweep inland and the windows above are opened, then the silver stream becomes a swollen torrent and mountains reverberate with the rushing, roaring river, and the leafless firs sing a weird song in unison. Poets have sung of other lands and given just meter to our own, but westward the crown of grandeur takes its way even to the coast of Tillamook.

Hebo.

The school is progressing nicely. J. A. Hill passed to-day, moving a family to Woods. Miss Olevia Lowrance has gone to Idaho; where she will probably remain. Fine weather still continues and grass, grain and early vegetables are growing nicely. Trout fishing is becoming a popular recreation again as the weather grows warm.

George Kellow has his new house about completed, and when finished will be quite an acquisition to the neighborhood. Immigrants are beginning to make their appearance this spring, and the prospects are favorable for a land boom this summer. Mr. Carey I understand has taken charge of the general merchandise store at Dolph, which was formerly owned by J. A. Hill. James Sloane is cooking in Mr. Landingham's road camp, which is as good as to say their grub is put on the table in first-class shape. Uncle Dave Lewallen while chopping a log a few days ago, struck his shin with the axe inflicting a slight wound, also slightly dulling the axe. Mr. Landingham has his road all in good condition from Big Nestucca to the beach and will commence on the other end of the road next week, and work through to Grand Route. The work so far has been done in a manner which bespeaks enterprise, and we have no doubt but it will be amply rewarded before the traveling season has passed.
