LOCAL NEWS.

County Court is in session this week. G. O. Nolan has gone to Portland on business.

There was a dance at E. M. Keys' Saturday night.

A substantial wooden awning has been constructed in front of the bank.

The steamer Augusta will probably leave Portland for this place to-day.

S. Scovell has been appointed postmaster at Union Peak vice S. K. Scovell, deceased.

Candidates are beginning to loom up now. They are shaking hands with the dear people.

J. P. Sherlock's and Henry Tohl's liquor licenses were allowed by the county court.

Go to the polls early on election day and work for the straight Republican ticket all day.

A teacher's association will be held in the school building on the 16th and 17th of this month.

The steamer Scotia, owned by the Truckee Lumber Company, came into the bay Monday.

Vote the straight Republican ticket at the coming election. The candidates are worthy of support.

A vote for R. R. Hays for County Clerk is a vote for a man who will keep the county books in good shape.

James Ryan reports being chased by crows a few nights ago. He took refuge in Mr. Bester's house.

Let every Republican turn out to the polls on election day. If a full vote is polled, there is no danger of defeat.

The Truckee Lumber Company sawed at their mills at Hobsonville 1,300,000 feet of lumber during the month of April.

G. W. Fearnside is making a business trip to Portland, and Theo. Steinhilber has charge of his store during his absence.

Full court proceedings will be given next week. Up to the hour of going to press much of the business was unfinished.

A vote for Hellenbrand for Sheriff is a vote to elect a man who will collect the delinquent taxes and lighten the burden of taxation.

Work has been resumed on the new church and it is proposed to have it finished and ready for dedication on the fourth Sunday in July.

A story of treasure buried in this county in an early day by the crew of a wrecked Spanish vessel, will appear in this paper next week. Watch for it.

Quite a number of the men about town have ordered plug hats. They will arrive on the Augusta. They will be black silk titles of the latest style, and all alike.

The Yamhill Reporter makes its Tillamook correspondent say that this county imports "cheat" from San Francisco for feed. It undoubtedly means "chop."

It is whispered a certain officer of the law is in the habit of catching law-breakers on the street and fining them without going to the trouble of giving them a trial.

Mrs. J. Grabel and Chas. Grabel, of Hillsboro, are coming to Tillamook to live. Grandma Grabel is getting very old and will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Squires.

Louis S. Abrams, traveling salesman for one of the leading shoe houses of the coast was in the city this week and sold large bills of goods to most of our leading merchants.

Don't "swap" your votes on election day for the benefit of one man. If every Republican votes the straight ticket, it will be elected without trading for the benefit of one man.

Mrs. Mary Smith, of Moore's Valley, Yamhill county, will commence a six-month's school at Netarts next Monday. She taught there last year and gave excellent satisfaction.

Capt. Staples of the steamer Improvement, refused to pay his poll tax and he was prosecuted before Justice Ralston. He will now have to pay his tax with $13 additional in the way of costs.

Everybody take notice of the Republican meetings to be held in this county. It will pay you to hear T. B. Handley speak, as he is one of the best posted men in the country on political questions, and can present them in an able and forcible manner. Turn out; a rousing time is expected.

Judge W. H. Cooper has just returned from Portland on a business trip. He has been laying in additional stock for his hardware store. He reports general confidence in the State Republican ticket.

The steamer Louis Olsen came into port Monday evening with a cargo of freight and twenty passengers. She left Wednesday evening loaded with lumber for Portland, from Barker & Smith's mill in this city.

Tom Nelson will make regular trips from this place to McMinnville, Sheridan and Lafayette carrying passengers henceforth. He arrives here on Saturday and leaves on Monday. At present he goes via Nestucca.

C. S. Clark, of the Sheridan Courier, made this office a call this week. Mr. Clark is a live newspaper man and publishes a sprightly newspaper. He was accompanied by C. Allison, one of Sheridan's merchants.

Subscribers to the Tillamook and Astoria Telegraph and Telephone Company will meet Saturday night in Surveyor Wilson's office. The articles of incorporation were received and filed by the Secretary of State.

A large number of strangers are arriving every week now, and as soon as traveling facilities are better there will be a great rush in this direction. Those who have come, report a great many coming in the near future.

The sheriff seems to have little confidence in the people of this county, as he selects a deputy who is unknown (?) here and who can claim but a short residence in the county. As to his standing and qualifications, comment is unnecessary.

Otto Heins the new photographer has arrived and will soon be ready for business. He will build a two-story building near the G. A. R. hall for his gallery. He makes a specialty of enlarging photos in crayon, and excels in this line of work.

Papers have been filed in the case of J. W. Maxwell vs. Tillamook county to recover wages for work in supervising the construction of the Nehalem and Nestucca road. The matter will come up in the August term of the Circuit Court before Judge Boise.

The Nehalem Journal of April 1st, says: The TILLAMOOK HEADRIGHT has been enlarged to a six column paper. It still presents its usual newsy and neat appearance, and gives the Watch-tower, the regular weekly allopathic dose of strong medicine.

The Republicans who are candidates to the various offices are all good men and if elected will be a credit to the county and inspire confidence in the party for future elections. If any of them are slaughtered it will be a hard blow to Republicanism in the county for the future.

Decoration day will be duly observed here under the auspices of the G. A. R. The procession will form at 1 o'clock at G. A. R. hall and march to the cemetery. The Odd Fellows and Masons are expected to attend in a body, also the Tillamook Cornet Band will be in attendance. Everybody is invited.

A party is being organized in this city to start for Tillamook county to take up timber claims. It is their intention to take a surveyor from here to locate and survey the land for them. A portion of the party has already gone and they will be joined by the balance in a few days. —Yamhill Reporter.

The latest political gag is the announcement of Bill Smith as an independent candidate for Sheriff. He can probably count his votes on his thumbs, yet his candidacy is not as much out of place as that of McDermott for Treasurer, as he was not a candidate before the Republican convention, and McDermott was.

Don't forget that this paper publishes three times as much local and county news as all the other county papers put together. New subscribers and those who pay a year in advance can get the Call or Free Press for 35 cents extra. So you can supply yourself with all the reading matter you want for $1.85 per year.

Bridges are needed very much across the Nehalem and Big and Little Nestucca rivers, and the county should build them as soon as it is able. With three or four good bridges in the different sections the county would be connected so that it would be possible to travel the full length of it at any season. The county will be more prosperous when this is done.

A certain paper published in this county that claims to be Republican, is working in the interest of the Democrats and is doing everything it can in an underhand way to defeat several of the Republican nominees. Beware of its fabrications. It is moved by personal and private interest altogether and does not care a fig for the dear people, which it feigns to take such an interest in. It wishes only to break out spite and revenge on a few men in order to force them to show it favors.

Notwithstanding the poor transportation facilities, the arrivals in this place will average forty persons per week for the past month, and it is safe to presume that one-half of them will remain here permanently. At this rate the population of the town and county will be materially increased during the next six months. There is no doubt, however, but that the number of arrivals at the present time will be insignificant in comparison to what will come in the future.

A. J. Gaylord, Thomas Colgate, and Francis and Joseph Cronen are making a canoe trip down the Nehalem to salt water. Their boat is a 20-foot canoe with water-tight compartments and everything ship-shape and ready for the numerous rapids they expect to shoot. This is a trip, says the Nehalem Journal, the dangers and beauties of which are enough to set a sportsman's blood boiling. The river runs through some of the finest scenery in the Northwest and winds around wild and majestic mountains upon whose fire-clad sides are to be found all manner of game. If the sportsmen of the large Eastern cities only knew what they are missing the river would soon be full of capsized canoes. Plenty of elk reported in the unsurveyed district.

Mt. Hebo.

I noticed in your paper an article regarding the origin of the name Mt. Hebo. It was named by Mr. J. Lamson, an old pioneer of Oregon and a respected citizen of Willamina. He named it Hebo, and when we petitioned for the postoffice, the papers came for Hebo instead of Hebo. So the change in the name is my fault in not being a better quill slinger.

J. M. KNIFONG.

Water Works.

V. B. DeLashmutt, Claude Thayer and G. O. Nolan, on Tuesday, filed articles incorporating the Tillamook Water Co., which has, for its purpose the establishment of water works to supply the town with needful protection against fire and do away with the use of wells which always become unhealthful in a town. Stock has been all taken and immediate steps will be taken to ascertain the most accessible place from which water can be taken, obtain rights-of-way and push the project to a completion. Electric lights will be the next thing in order.

The Columbia river is rising three or four inches a day and the Willamette is rising from back water.

Water and Land Pets.

The steam schooner Louis Olsen, Captain F. A. Johnson, arrived Monday evening from Tillamook, says the Astorian. Dr. W. W. Green and family, of Portland, were passengers. They have been at Tillamook and vicinity for two or three weeks and are homeward bound. Friday morning while in a small boat at Tillamook Dr. Green saw a young sealion which had evidently lost its mother, and was making piteous cries. The boat was headed towards the little fellow and as soon as he saw them he swam for them at once and was picked up and taken on board. He is evidently not more than three or four days old, but has a thick, soft fur of a silver gray color, has no teeth, but will suck and try to chew fresh fish, and takes milk from a nursing bottle like any well regulated baby. The doctor will try and raise him, as the little fellow seems fond of people, likes being petted, will lie down with children and follow them around. On the vessel are two more pets, which belong to the captain. They are two young black bears or cubs, one of which was found afloat on a log, and the other, which is younger, was captured when his mother was killed a few days ago near Tillamook. During the day the cubs play on the deck, seemingly perfectly contented and at night they are confined in a coop where they quarrel and fight in regular bear fashion.

Basket Social.

The basket social given for the benefit of the band last Friday night was a success in every particular. The band gave some excellent selections, and the different members favored the audience with songs and instrumental music. The German duet by Mr. and Mrs. Smith was excellent, and the best feature of the evening. A barjo solo by Willer Stillwell was received with deafening applause. Dr. Patchen sang a song which created great merriment. Various others deserve special mention. After the musical exercises were over, the sale of the baskets began. D. T. Edmunds and A. Letcher acted as auctioneers and there was great excitement and enthusiasm during the bidding. The baskets sold well, bringing on an average nearly three dollars each. One basket sold for seven dollars first, and was resold, until over fifteen dollars was realized from it. After deducting all expenditures, the receipts of the evening amounted to more than $90. Each of the baskets contained a dainty lunch prepared by the fair damsel or dame whose number was on the attached tag, and after all were sold, the gentlemen took their places on the floor and the ladies who held the corresponding numbers took their places in order along side, which was followed by a march and the devouring of the viands in the baskets. Good natured hilarity prevailed all through and everybody went home happy.
