☞Copies of this paper are on sale at the store of C. H. Wilcox & Co., stationers and newsdealers Occidental hotel building, Portland, Oregon.

Astoria is the largest city in the U. S. without a railroad.

The normal school at Monmouth is a state institution now.

Oregon's railroad commissioners are G. W. Colvig, Robt. Clow and A. M. Hamilton.

The Astorian thinks it about time to begin practicing on the Australian system.

R. R. Hays has made an excellent record as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

County court proceedings will now be printed in full, a law to that effect having passed the legislature.

There is now, as should be, the best of friendly feeling between Yamhill and Tillamook counties. Their interests are mutual in many respects.

The Forest Grove Times has just found out that the road to Tillamook via Wilson river will open a route to a rich country and be of great importance to Forest Grove.

It is pretty generally conceded now that there is no hope of getting anything out of the wagon-road appropriations until after the next legislature considers the governor's veto.

A number of sample copies of this paper are sent out this week. If you are not a subscriber already and think favorably of the paper, we should be pleased to receive your patronage.

A man in Salem proposes to build a 25-mile wooden railroad from that city to a body of timber. He thinks that a road for the purpose of bringing logs to Salem can be constructed at a cost of $60,000.

Tillamook's charter provided [illegible] for annulling a liquor [illegible] because when he violated [illegible] the senate amended the bill, the house concurring, so that all offenses are finable instead.

Hon. Wm. D. Stillwell has done everything that could be done for his constituents in this county. The Democratic governor and a few scheming politicians in the senate prevented all good legislation and Tillamook suffers along with the balance of the state.

HIS NAME IS DENNIS.

The Telephone-Register, one of the best Democratic newspapers in the state, says that Governor Pennoyer's name is Dennis. It severely criticizes him for his inconsistency in approving the Portage railway bill and vetoing the wagon-road bills. That paper very aptly remarks:

remain in the hands of the people who built them, and the people who travel to and fro over them are taxed so much per mile for their pleasure. But when this section desires to open a landway of commerce—not a water way—and asks for an appropriation of $7,500 to build it with and thus make a free road to everyone at all times of the year, and by far the most practical route across the mountains, this crank which we as Democrats supported for the position he now holds, vetoes this bill and thus pays into the hands of a monopoly thousands of the hard-earned dollars of the honest and law-abiding farmers and business men of Yamhill and Tillamook counties, as well as the other indirectly benefitted counties of the state."

The Maxwell road is a free road but the governor refused to sign the bill which created it.

EXCHANGE NOTES.

Some time ago a survey was ordered of Tillamook bar, with reference to its improvement. No report has ever been made. Senator Mitchell stirred up the war department on the matter, and a report will probably be sent in at an early date.

Under the new ballot law a man will have to get up pretty early in the morning and stay at the polls all day if he succeeds in voting once, to say nothing about repeating.—Reporter.

Governor Pennoyer refused to sign any of the corporation bills because they contain a provision to license the sale of liquor.—Capital Journal.

In view of the governor's veto of the wagon-road and district fair bills, we still have the means of redress of the man who was kicked by a mule—we can consider the source.—Reporter.

CHANGED HANDS.(?)

The Watchtower has nominally changed hands again. About two months ago the creditors, thinking that L. J. Johnson was not managing the paper properly, and that his connection with the paper was a detriment to it, undertook to depose him, and his name was taken off the paper, though he remained in the shop and had as much control as formerly. He was forced to give a bill of sale as surety to the creditors, but with the alleged new management the paper gained no prestige and grew worse in financial distres, making a continual drain on the pockets of its backers to keep up expenses. So it is given out that the creditors have now effectually, absolutely and thoroughly deposed Mr. Johnson, not even allowing him to hang around the premises longer. The indebtedness against the plant, so we are told, was $747, (more than it is worth,) and Johnson was forced to give up all claim to the office, not getting a cent out of it, (unless he salted a few dollars down when he was neglecting to pay his employees,) and that he is now penniless. However, it is stipulated that he may redeem the paper in six months by paying $1,000.

The Following is a list of the present owners (?) as it appears in the files of the County Clerk's office, the amount of each person's interest being opposite his name:

L. Crenshaw (Democrat)	$72 75
James Quick	78 75
G. W. Blackwell	100 00
W. H. Cooper	72 75
J. J. Stoddard (boy)	100 00
M. W. Harrison	72 75
Eli Goodspeed	100 00
Mrs. Miller	100 00
J. W. Fearnside (Democart)	50 00
Total	$747 00

It is claimed that Eli Goodspeed and Mrs. Miller have no interest in the institution and several more whose names appear on the bill of sale claim to have no connection with it. J. C. Mason is the new editor.

It is the opinion of some that L. J. Johnson has been made the scape-goat for the mistakes and mis-deeds of the balance of the crowd.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between S. A Roberts and Wilbur J. Stillwell in the the hardware business, under the firm name of Roberts & Stillwell, is this day [illegible] consent. S. A.

THE LATEST AND BEST!

All Previous Offers Discounted. San Francisco Call Free!

The San Francisco Call is the best weekly paper published on this coast and is the paper for the home and fire-side. Until April 10, 1891, every NEW cash subscriber to the HEADLIGHT will receive the Weekly Call one year free of charge.

By means of our clubbing rates the circulation of this paper and the Call have been increased more than one-hundred copies each in this county in the past year, but during the next month we propose to eclipse all former records, and accomplish more than in the whole year just passed. The majority of those who accept this proposition will at the end of the year renew their subscription to both papers and we will regain then what we lose now.

Our subscription list in this county is now almost as large as it can possibly be made owing to the limited population, and we wish to add two or three hundred names to our already large out-side list and further advertise the resources of the county. Those who are already subscribers should lose no time in sending us $1.50 with the address of an eastern friend, ordering the Call to their own address. Don't delay the matter. The regular price of the Call is $1.00 per year. Sample copies at this office.

Remember, one yearly subscription to the Call is given with every new cash subscription to the Headlight, until April 10.

WHAT TILLAMOOK HAS.

Picturesque scenery,
Over 50 miles of coast line,
Clam-beds till you can't rest.
Streams full of trout and salmon.
Rich coal deposits on the Nehalem.
A climate as good as any on the coast.
A large and well equipped livery stable.
Plenty of game: water-fowl, deer, elk, bear, etc.
Good prospects for a railroad in the near future.
Natural harbors at Tillamook, Nehalem, Netarts and Nestucca.
Open hill land valuable for grazing and fruit-growing.
One of the prettiest and thriftiest towns, Tillamook, in the state.
An enterprising, prosperous, contented and hospitable class of people.
Tide-land and bottom land, the richest and most productive in the state.
A rapid, but healthy growth and most promising prospects for the future.
Many quarter-sections of fairly good government land which may be had for the taking.
Fine ocean beaches at Netarts, Nestucca and Nehalem, which are already becoming popular resorts.
Vast bodies of accessible timber which is said to be the best and most valuable in the Northwest.
A harbor which will be one of the best on the coast, when a few thousand dollars are spent improving it.
Half-a-dozen fine rivers, which with their tributaries, are of inestimable value for navigation and floating logs.
Beautiful and productive prairies which contain many farms suitable for dairying, stock-raising and general agriculture.

The Oldest Paper. The Leading Paper. The Largest Circulation.

THE HEADLIGHT

Publishes the Most County News and is recognized as the Representative Paper of Tillamook County.

RESOURCES.—The HEADLIGHT is devoted to the resources and advantages of Tillamook City and County. It treats every locality alike, and is the paper to send to inquiring friends. It already has a large circulation outside the county.

PROGRESSION.—The HEADLIGHT is progressive in every way and is constantly endeavoring to promote the interests of the community by advocating the establishment of railroads, harbor improvements, mills, factories and other industries, roads, schools, churches, and endeavors to secure a desirable class of settlers in the county.

TILLAMOOK CITY.—The HEADLIGHT will continually strive to advance the interests of the business men and residents of this place by advocating all kinds of improvements and enterprises that will make a prosperous and beautiful city.

INFORMATION.—The HEADLIGHT will keep you posted regarding lumbering, dairying, farming, stock-raising, fruit-growing, bee-keeping and fishing in Tillamook county.

CHARACTERISTICS.—The object of the HEADLIGHT is to give a full resume of all local and county news, and all county official affairs, social and educational matters receive full attention. We have an excellent corps of country correspondents.

REPUBLICAN.—Politically the HEADLIGHT is uncompromisingly Republican, and will always be found using every honorable and legitimate means to uphold the principles of the Republican party, believing that party has done the most good for the country in the past, and that it is safest to trust it in the future. We shall advocate straight-out Republicanism, however, as we have in the past, not engaging in factional or personal quarrels.

AN AGGRERSSIVE POLICY.—The HEADLIGHT will, as it has heretofore, handle county political questions without fear or favor and in a vigorous and aggressive manner. Those in public positions will be held strictly accountable for their official actions, but petty private quarrels and escapades will find no place in its columns. The paper will champion the causes of the people in a bold and fearless manner, as that policy is the most remunerative to the publishers, as well as an enjoyable duty.

HERE TO STAY.—The HEADLIGHT is conducted on purely business principles, and expects to receive pay for what it does and give full value in return. It does not ask patronage for charity's sake, and if you don't feel that you are getting the worth of your money, do not patronize it. This paper runs no "dead ad's," has no "dead-head" subscribers, pays its way as it goes, and expects those who have business transactions with it to do the same. This is the only way in which to conduct a newspaper and make it permanent and successful. The HEADLIGHT has a flourishing business and is on a sound financial basis, hence it is under no obligation to anybody and is free to cut as it pleases. Yet, it has a deep sense of appreciation for the patronage it enjoys, and continue to try to merit all the favors bestowed upon it.

ADVERTISING.

Our home advertisers will find that they get as good rates as foreign advertisers, and that all advertisements are made as attractive and effective as possible. They are not crowded into remote corners of the paper by free advertisements. We do no free advertising except for churches and for the resources and advantages of the town and county. Our subscription books are open to the inspection of our advertisers.

JOB-PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The HEADLIGHT job-office is prepared to do all kinds of plain and artistic job-printing at very reasonable rates. Letter-heads, note-heads, bill-heads, statements, envelopes business cards, visiting cards, ball programmes, tickets, invitations, hand-bills, posters, placards, tress-pass notices, horse bills, legal blanks and every thing in the printing line, executed promptly, and satisfaction guaranteed. Fine color-work, a specialty. This office does nine-tenths of the job-printing done in the county and no botch-work is allowed to go out of the office. Call and see our line of samples and get prices.
