No news lately from "Tex."

Smith & Barker's mill is very busy.

Doctors and nurses are in good demand.

The city marshall is keeping a sharp lookout for stock running at large.

The Tribune, of Bay City, is whooping things up lively for that enterprising place.

There is no reason why tobacco will not thrive in the foot-hill regions of this county.

A gentlemen has leased the building next to the harness shop and will start a drug store at once.

Bay City is having quite a fight over the saloon question. Both sides have numerously signed petitions.

J. L. Barnard, the creamery man is aicflited with La Crippe, hence the delay about locating the creamery here.

Several parties have already contracted for advertising space in the special illustrated edition of the HEADLIGHT.

Tillamook City's population, according to Rand McNally & Co's pocket atlas just issued, is 760. It should be 1000.

Wm B. Smith and Wm. Harper had a fight a few days ago. A warrant was issued for Harper's arrest, but he has not been found yet.

There were 35 transfers of real estate recorded during the week ending April 29. A large share of them were for Tillamook City proverty.

"Sound the hewgag and beat the loud tomtom! The spirit of enterprise is upon this beautiful valley" says the Grant County News man. So it is here.

Mart Bush met with a severe accident while carrying the Nestucca mail a few days ago. His horse broke through a culvert, and he received some bad bruise.

The officers of the Steamers Truckee, Scotia and Laguna gave a ball at Hobsonville Tuesday night. A large number of Tillamookers attended and report a pleasant time.

According to the West Oregonian, sugar beet culture has been tested in Coos county and found to be a success. Tillamook possesses the same advantages for that industay.

The advent of a fair day gives things an animated appearance. Men can be seen going to and from their work, building are started, loggers start their teams, and every body is active. Business will boom here this yeur.

The school opened Monday with 95 pupils, and there will be a great many more as soon as the bad weather and La-Grippe subsides. There should be no delay about fitting up another room as another teacher is needed at once.

Why not run a campaign of energy, enterprise and public improvement for a while! This is no time for political bickerings. It is some time yet before the next election, and it is queer that political questions can't be laid aside awhile.

Hon. J. W. Maxwell has just returned from Oregon City, coming in over the mountains. He reports the snow nearly all gone and says that Mr. G. W. Sappington is keeping the road in condition, clearing out all obstructions as fast as possible. It will be all right for summer travel.

The I.O.O.F. fraternity of this place celebrated the 72nd anniversary of the order last Saturday. The members marched to the M. E. Church in uniform and engaged in the regular ceremonies. E.E Selp made an oration which was very appropriate and well received. The music rendered by the choir was good.

Whenever this paper has free advertising space to let, it will devote it to societies, churches, and to advertising the resources of the county. Cheap-john book publishers and patent nostrum men can't get space in this paper by sending us samples of their wares. Nothing but cash goes, and that at full rates. All our voluntary efforts will be to further the interests of this community.

D. P. Hathaway who had been suffering from LaGrippe and a complication of other diseases died Thursday evening. The funeral occured the next day in the M. E. Church, Rev. Wood preaching the sermon. The deceased had no relatives here and little is known of his history. He was a good citizens who always minded his own business and had many friends. It is understood that he willed his property, which is valued at $7,000, to Claude Thayer to be held in trust and devoted to charitable purposes in this county. He was about 50 years of age at the time of his death.

J. W. Maxwell has an excellent site for a summer resort town at his place on the beach at Netarts. This is without a doubt the finest beach on the whole United States Pacific coast. There is a fine drive five miles long, beautiful scenery excellent bathing, good fishing near at hand, and all kinds of shell fish in abundanc. This already popular resort will soon become far-famed and a beautiful seaside resort will soon be built there. Mr Maxwell is having a part of his place subdivided into large vill lots, and will sell them to those desirous of obtaining a home by the sea.

It is understood that Yamhill county will take action inregard to the Yamhill and Tillam ook wagon road, the appropriation for which was vetoed by the goverernor, that will throw the matter into the Supreme court and make a test case of it. It is thought that the governer had no constitutional right to veto this particular wagon road bill, and as Yamhill county has only a little over two miles of this road to build, the work will be done and a demand made on the Secretary of the State for a warrant to cover the expense. This will test the constitutionality of the wagon road bills passed by the last legislature and the result will be awaited with great interest by several counties in the state.

It is thought that at least $2000 more will be collected within the next few weeks.

The I.O.O.F. dance Saturday night had a fair attendance considering the rain. The supper was prepared by Mrs. Larson, the mention of which is commendation enough.

County Court meets the first Monday in January and every two months thereafter during the year. Commissioners Court is in session each time as soon as the County Court business is transacted. This information is given to allay a series of inquiries.

In making filings on homesteads before the County Clerk, it is necessary to begin actual settlement. Several parties have come to the Clerk's office to make filing and have been obliged to return to their claims and begin actual residence before they could make the necessary oath.

The Klamath Star pays a Jacksonville girl a peculiar compliment, saying she received the prize as the most awkward skater, at the skating carnival in Yreka, and the prize was a cake-basket. Her name is Miss Estelle Maria Overset, and when she stubs her toe it takes her a week to find out she is lame. When she has an agonizing pain in her side, she can't roller self a cent's worth, but she's a nice girl.

Fishermen living on the north side of the Columbia river complain about the fishing laws, but it is just as fair for them as the fishermen on the Oregon side of the Columbia. A Washington paper says: Salmon are not permitted to be taken from the Columbia before April 10th, and by that time the spring run has passed from the Columbia into the warmer waters of the Willamette where they are taken out in great numbers by web-footers while the Washington fisherman folds his net, baits a pin and goes fishing for minnows and brook trout.

The special edition of the HEADLIGHT to be issued soon will be entirely devoted to matters pertaining to the resources and advantages of this county. In addition to the descriptive matter now in preparation everything in the New Year edition relating to the county will be republished. This matter was thoroughly explained to the Board of Trade and there is no kick coming except from one man who has an interest in a paper that he expects to use in "boosting" himself into the legislature. Nobody ever suggested or intimated that the portraits of our leading citizens were to appear in the descriptive edition, and any man with a particle of sense wouldn't have let his jealousy and envy worry him so much without first finding out the facts in the case.

S. A. Roberts will receive a large lot of new hardware as soon as the Augusta gets in.

Letcher and Stillwell have ordered a fine linet of watches, jewelry and fishing tackle.

Good beef cattle are getting more plentiful. L. H. Brown keeps the choicest cuts of steak.

Jones Bros. will add new rigs and turnoats to the livery stable as soon as the roads get good.

C. E. Reynolds will have large additions to his stock of furniture when the Augusta arrives.

Uncle Wesley Smith is fast closing out the Edmunds bankrupt stock of goods. He expects to sell it all in a lump before long.

This office will soon receivr a fine stock of envelopes, cards, letter-paper, note-heads, bill-heads, statments, wedding invitations and other printers stationery. Call and inspect our samples and specimens of printing if you need anything of the change in the HEADLIGHT says: "The change is a good one." I wish to inform the old gentlemen and the biscuit juggler also, that this is exactly why it was made, not owing to old age, or inability to pay my debts, as were said of your cotemporay when the changes were made in that office. At the same time I should like to call the attention of yourself and readers, to the fact that should Postal Inspector Monroe make another trip to Tillamook this summer there is apt to be an excellent change made in the Watch-tower managment, and I think it behooves the supposed Sixty-thousand Dollar backers to have another man on hand in case their present figure-head should want to take a vacation when the snow gets out of the mountains and travel gets better.

DONT'S FOR TILLAMOOK PEOPLE.

Don't wait for your neighbor to make a move in the direction of interesting people in locating in Tillamook. Do something yourself: write to your friends about it, talk about it, work for it.

Don't put off until to-morrow some improvement which you have in view. Remember—"Procrastination is the thief of time," so said Solomon, or some other wise man.

Don't discourage any prospective enterprise, by openly recommending some other location as a better place, or by indifference force its projectors to the conclusion that they are not wanted.

Don't hold on like "grim death to a nigger" to the money and property which chance and your neighbors have made for you, in the hope that their enterprise may yet cause a boom which will make you still richer.

Don't think that "natural location" alone will build up a city, but "the gods help those that help themselves," as has been demonstrated in towns less favorably located than Tillamook.

Don't kick and grumble at the "moss-backism" of other people all the time, but stop long enough to do alittle practical work yourselves, and thus convince a patient public that you are not what you accuse others of being.

Don't think that manufactories, mills and labor employing industries are forced to locate here. Past experience has proven this theory to be untrue. Land owners must learn, and the sooner the better, that it pays to give liberal property bonuses to these enterprises. If you don't do this you don't get the industries and other towns profit by your lack of enterprise and business acumen.

Don't do like McCawber, and wait so long for "something to turn up," that every opportunity will be lost. Such old time proverbs as "the early bird catches the worm," and "now is the day of salvation; now is the accepted time," are applicable here.

Don't fail to send in your petition to the council for street improvements early in the season, so that the work may be done before the next rainy season begins.

Don't sleep while the people of other towns are rustling. It won't pay. Arrive at the determination at once that you will give liberally to any industry that will give employment to men and let it be known. Result: A live manufacturing town, and great prosperity.

The Siletz Country.

The Toledo Post chronicles the arival of Mr. Mayhughes, a special agent of the Government, whose business at the Silets at this time is to allot to the Indians of the Siletz reseration, in severalty, the land to which they are entitled. This will de done as expeditiously as possible, of course, in justice to the Indians, if for no better reason, as they have long and patiently awaited this, to them, most important event. After the Indians have received their full share, there will be over 200,000 acres of land to be disposed of, embracing agricultural, fruit, grazing, coal and timber lands. There are great forests of splendid timber on the reservation to be utilized, coal fields to be developed, immense water powers going to waste, grand salmon fishing interests to be secured and developed, in addition to trout fishing, fine hunting, grassy glades and sunny slopes, and to complete and make a perfect whole, a delightfully pleasant and healthy climate.

A BARFACED SWINDLE.

The Aberdeen Herald publishes the following copy of a contract used by sharpers to obtain money from unsuspecting tenderfeet. A man who will bite at such an ill-disguised snare ought to be duped:

MICHIGAN AND MAIN LUMBER AND MILLING COMPANY,
ABERDEEN, WASH., April 14, 1891.

Received from Mr.—— ($25) twenty-five dollars, for which we are to locate him on 160 acres of timber land within sixty days from date, on the following conditions.

We are to pay all expenses incurred, and as soon as Mr.——gets his title to said land we will procure for him a purchaser who will pay him $1,000 for the said land. All settlements to be made within seventy days from date to-wit; April 14, 1891. Should we fail to fill any part of this agreement we will return the amount of money paid by Mr.——to him. And Mr.——agrees that upon the payment to him of $1,000 over and above all expenses, he will transfer the said land to the parties designated, and that he will not, under ano consideration, make known the condition of this agreement to any person without the consent of the company, and that if he does he will forfeit all right to the money advanced by him.

WOODS.

Every one is down with La Grippe.

Post Master Booth is dangerously ill.

Dr. Linton has moved out on his ranch near town.

Joe Wood is slowly recovering from the Grippe.

John Belleque moved in from Grand Ronde last week.

Mr. Steele has his house about ready to ocupy. He intends to move in this week.

Krebs Brothers' logging team arrived from Gervais last week in charge of Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Ray has rented his ranch out for three years. He will reside in Wood here after.

Mr. Virgil has been building a good side-walk. from Findlay's store to the drug store.

The mill has been shut down two weeks. The whole crew has been down with the La Grippe.

Mr. Caldwell is very sick with La Grippe and Mr. Miles is down with the same complaint. "Nabob."

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

Dr. Linton has moved to his farm.

Miss McFee of Dallas will begin school next Monday.

We hope the county court will build a bridge across Little Nestucca soon.

The bad weather is detrimental to bee-keeping as the bees haven't a chance to make honey or to swarm.

The weather has been quite stormy lately. It interferes with our farming operations. Too much at this season of the year is not best as now is the time to get our spring work done if we expect good crops.

For some time we have not seen our correspondence come rolling up from the Nestucca as usual. There must be some cause. Personally it is La Grippe. We have all had it, or are having it at present—some rather severely, but others not so badly. About all the town has been down with it, and all at about the same time. It seems to be no respecter of persons. It has stopped the saw mill for two weeks. It has almost closed the stores. All carpenter work was laid aside for several days, the carpenters living in the country returning to their homes. But we are getting better now. Dr. Linton has been very successful in his treatment of this disease.
