he owes a Tillamook physician for curing him of the delirium tremens.

Important Suit.
A number of the land owners on the upper part of the Tillamook River have united forces and employed T. B. Handley Esq. to bring a suit against the Tillamook Booming Company.

The suit is brought in the name of the State of Oregon on the information of Truman Harris and about twenty other persons who allege that the company has placed obstructions in the River and are preparing and threatening to obstruct the public navigation. They ask that the company be enjoined from interfering with navigation.

This will settle definitely the respective rights of the settlers and of the Boom Company, and will set a vexed question at rest.

It is important to the public that our streams be improved and every facility given for logging and lumbering and also that the private rights of every individual should be protected.

Telegraph Line.
A gentleman is here soliciting subscriptions for stock to form a company to build a telegraph line from here to Forest Grove, also to Bay City. Everyone who can should give the enterprise aid.

The Fair.
Extensive preparations are being made for the Fair. The stables for cattle, horses and other stock are completed, and the general exhibition hall is being erected. There are several horsemen

The way of the Transgressor is hard—Vengeance is mine, quoth the Lord.

The Davis-Bird combination were to have given a concert for the benefit of the Hook & Ladder company; but Deacon T. H. Goyne had the key to the church door and prevented it. The concert is refused and respectable in every way, and the people in the party are ladies and gentlemen, and were willing to do something for our fire company.

Peter Brant and Claude Thayer, church trustees, were seen and gave their consent for the use of the house, but Deacon Goyne said "no" with a vengeance. There was no disposition on the part of the concert people to make trouble, and the concert was abandoned, the acoustic properties of Hadley's hall not being good for singing, as was plain to be seen at the concert on the evening before.

Some of the local comedians, with the assistance of Guy Bird, being determined not to be totally disappointed, gave a free entertainment in Hadley's Hall, which was well attended, and which seemed to be appreciated from the thundering applause.

C. E. Reynolds and A. W. Severance kept the audience in a continual uproar with their outlandish comical hits. They are full of fun when they get started.

Several witty allusions were made regarding Deacon Goyne, and the entertainment ended with a tableau, representing an enraged man beating his wife and child. The applause was deafening at this act. If Deacon Goyne had been there he would probably have seen the point.

It is to be hoped that the members of the M. E. Church here will not be blamed for Deacon Goyne's action, as they are nearly all in sympathy with the firemen, and many of them have expressed themselves as regretting the action of Goyne, and saying that they appreciated the fact that the church was built and is supported to a great extent by outside help, and that Deacon Goyne has less money invested in the church than many of the firemen who are not church members.

Goyne has shoved himself forward, and in his obstinate brutal way proposes to rule everything.

It would not be thought that Goyne would object to a respectable concert, and considering his past record, we should think he would not object to a prize-fight in the church. Deacon Goyne is something of a pugilist himself—that is when he has nothing but an infant to oppose.

The story of his chasing his wife away from home, following her up and beating her and their little child, is fresh in the minds of the people. Had it not been for the timely interference of E. F. Lyster, no doubt he would have killed them both, and his little babe came near dying from its injuries, as it was.

He was arrested and fined $10 for this, getting off easy by throwing himself on the mercy of the court and promising to do better, but it is generally believed he has reformed but little, and judging from the rantankerous rage that he flew into the other day, one who did not know him would think it dangerous for him to run at large. But he is not apt to strike any one except a defenseless baby—something soft that will not hurt his fist. He should be forced to live in Maryland where the whipping-post is still in use.

Alvin Phelps.
Nothing definite is known yet regarding the whereabouts of Alvin Phelps, the Woods merchant who disappeared so mysteriously about a year ago. His creditors are engaged in getting what they can out of the property he left at Woods. It is rumored that he had about $4,000 with him when he started for Portland to buy goods, and it was supposed for a long time that he had met with foul play, but later on it was learned that he had called on some of his relatives in Minnesota, as if he were making them a visit. It is supposed by some that he went to South America, and it is thought that somebody in the vicinity of Woods knows of his whereabouts.

A woman of questionable character, who disappeared shortly before he did was suspected of enticing him to his death, but there is no evidence to that effect.
There are some mysterious phases to the affair.

Local Shakespeare.
A theatrical club was organized Tuesday night with the following named officers: W. F. D. Jones, Manager; J. J.
Stoddard, Secretary; A. G. Reynolds, Treasurer, and C. E. Reynolds, property custodian. An initiation fee of $2.50 was paid and the members go into the enterprise with the expectation of furnishing good entertainments for the people of Tillamook, even if it costs something.

Good equipments and scenery will be secured and the company will make an effort to give first class entertainments.
Prof. A. W. Severance and Col. C. E.
Reynolds are capable of doing some scientific work in the theatrical line and will make the venture a success.

Preparations for an entertainment are being made, and the time will be announced later.

A Little Sensation.
On Saturday evening H. S. Naylor and Blanche Underwood arrived here, coming on the N. Yamhill stage. They went to the Larsen House where Mr. Naylor registered for both as if living in N. Yamhill. On being questioned, he changed the register so it appeared that they hailed from Portland.

They were assigned separate rooms and retired saying they wished no supper, but Mr. Naylor procured some oysters and beer which they were found enjoying a little later on in the evening, both in the same room. Mr. Naylor seemed slightly intoxicated, and from some of their actions the hostess became suspicious that something was wrong and had been treated at the other house.

The girl is a good looking brunette, apparently 16 years of age, and said her parents would come shortly. They came on Monday and the whole party went towards Bay City. Parties who claim to know them, say they all reside at Forest Grove.

There may be nothing wrong, but their actions were rather queer to say the least, and Mr. Naylor's conduct was such that it threw suspicion on the girl, however innocent she may be.

Teachers' Examination.
The following named persons were examined as applicants for teachers' licenses last week: Misses Lillie M. Wiley, Ida Pagenkopf, Alice Thacker, Lillie Lawrence, Alma Lawson, and Minnie Cobb.
Misses Pagenkopf, Lawson and Cobb were granted third grade certificates, the others failing.

In this connection we wish to point out some of the weak points of the Oregon school law. An examination of itself is not a sufficient test of a teacher's ability at any rate, and the school law of this state is positively unfair and does not meet the purpose intended by any means.

The clause in the law requiring a teacher to raise the grade of his certificate every time he is examined, is the objectionable feature. In the examination referred to, Miss Lillie Lawrence raised her average percentage quite largely and lacked only a fraction of having an average of 80 which is required for a second grade. As it is she is debarred from receiving even a third grade, while teachers just beginning, having little or no experience, with a much less average and less advancement in the average, are granted third grade certificates and turned loose on the community to "teach the young idea how to shoot."

The law requires an average of 70 for a third grade, 80 for a second grade, and 90 for a first grade license, and when a third or second grade certificate expires, the applicant must raise the grade or be shut out, so the injustice to the teacher as well as the community can readily be seen. For instance, if a teacher holds a third grade with an average of 79 and raises the average to 80, a second grade is granted, or if it is the first examination and the average only 70, a third grade is issued, while on the other hand, a successful teacher holding an average of 80 and raising it to 89½ is not allowed to teach any longer. But this does not debar inferior teachers from going from one county to another and engaging in the profession over good teachers unjustly shut out.

This law should be changed at the next session of the legislature.

SCHOOL NOTES.
Examination closed Friday August 14th.

Miss Mamie Means of Bay City, made the school a call Monday.

The exercises in the intermediate department were very successful, and much enjoyed by all, who were present.

Banisters on the stairs are greatly needed, some serious accidents are liable to occur at any time.

Older pupils are expected to do as near right as possible, and set a good example for younger ones to follow, instead of daubing them with ink or mud and making them go home crying, and having their parents condemning the teacher when, he, or she is not to blame.

The "School-Bell" ceased publication last week, there being too much work for the editor to edit it and teach school at the same time. The proceeds which were $10.55 were handed over to the board of directors to help pay for the library which they are working to get in the school.

BAY CITY.
Prof. E. K. Barnard has gone to Nehalem, to teach school. Mr. Barnard will return to Bay City, in about two months. He will then teach a private school here for a term of three months.

H. F. Kirby, our village blacksmith, who has been dangerously ill for the past three weeks is now convalescing.

Thos. Murphy, of the Bay City Cooper-age Co., started Friday for San Francisco, by way of North Yamhill; he will return on the next Steamer with engine and remainder of the machinery for their mill.

Geo. F. Williams, has returned, from his trip to Portland.

Wm. Barker, made a trip to Tillamook, on business, last Monday.

Robert Oakes, of this place, who has been ill for sometime is reported no better. It is thought, that he cannot survive, much longer.

Mr. Weaver, of Forest Grove, has moved to Bay City.

It is reported that the next steamer will land at W. S. Cone's wharf.

A. M. Hare, will open up a store, in the old Tribune building, south of W. S.
Cone's Hotel.

W. H. Bean and Mr. Murphy have returned from their trip to Nehalem.

George Jacoby and wife have gone east, to visit friends. They will go first to New York, then they will make a short visit in Ohio, Mr. Jacoby's former home.

Two of our Bay City sports went out a few days ago, to dig some clams. They piled their boat up on the mud flat, leaving their shoes in the boat; then proceeded some distance and began to dig for the ill-fated clam. Being so busily engaged, they did not notice the incoming tide, presently they looked up and to their dismay their boat was several hundred feet out in the channel. It was better than Barnum's Circus, to see the two youths trotting up the mud flat in their bare feet to keep out of the way of the tide; by wading and swimming, they with their clams, they said "to—with the clams," it was higher ground we were looking after.

GARIBALDI.
Mr. A. Anderson and family came in on the Augusta.

The Augusta came in on the 15th, bringing the Chinamen and fishermen for the cannery.

Once more the bay will be dotted over with fishing boats.

Means & Co. have finished repairing the Elmore cannery.

F. P. Hobson will soon commence work on the road from Garibaldi around to the ocean beach.

A flock of forty fine tame ducks belonging to Messrs Hobson and Johnson went over the bar, one night last week and were found two miles down the ocean beach. Eight were missing.

Mr. Frank Murray came back on the Truckee from San Francisco, very little improved in health. He says he suffered terribly while down there and could not eat anything for over a week.

The expedition that started from the Miami in search of the hidden treasure on the Nehalem have returned without it.
They say however that P. H. M. Smith is still digging for it.

Garibaldi can now represent nearly every nationality of the human race.

NEHALEM.
Mrs. Handy closes her school in the Union Peak District next Monday with a picnic. The Chs. Pye district is invited to attend and cooperate in the program of exercises.

Clarence Dougherty while standing too near the ball ground's was struck in the face with a bare ball. He was not seriously injured, but at present is unable to attend school.

School in Pye District commenced Monday with fourteen pupils in attendance.

The cannery will be in full operation in a few days. Boats and supplies will be brought from Astoria by the Augusta.

A pleasant little surprise party and dance at Mr. Wist's last Saturday night.
All had a good time and were cordially invited to come again.

Sheriff Steinheil was in our neighborhood Saturday serving notices on jurymen.

Mr. Roy was kept quite busy with his ferry-boat last Sunday.

S. J. Chapman of the firm of Chapman Bros., Seattle was with us one day last week.

School District No. 28 has purchased for the school a fine tellurian globe.

Walter Beckner and family were visiting friends on the South Fork last Sunday.
