FIITAMMOOK ABSTRACT

| THE DOCTOR EUDOR.  Yas zen "roplial he mon trom his glowing    see, good woman, that I am busy," Busy!" roplied the old woman. "How do now what at! Trying to discover the  Wily tempting the devil, the poor dear Fis dylag." Tom socunda elapsa hors, et aqua inean  cente, camdem iterum injicies pulverem." bedoctor threw two handfuls of white der in the vase, and went on reading  be old woman drew a long and deep sigh. doctor was a young man, twenty eight rs of age, perhaps, but it was diffleult to  as at it from his pale and ernaciated coun- ance You could only see that hard study, perhapa grief, anything but years, had  premature furrow, and to look at his  that the bloom of health did not now hate his regular and beautiful featurea, owas bending over the vase; sometimes  lse interrupting his reading to throw ders and herbs into the water. fegreat secret-old gooso-better, much or than that. A right of life and death?" $\qquad$  d he, as if the old woman was still there your  iical preparation, a blue liquid which fuced a sweet perfume; he threw his dark tle over his disordered clothes, and laft $\square$  8, or to prescrve it frum the accidents long and rapld walk. is twenty minutes' fast walking from the de l'Horloge to $\square$  ome hotel, the walls that surrounded purtyard were high and thick, the door and bordered with iron-a precaution be forgotten-for all this took place in $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$  ount, after a moment's hesitation, the doctor promised to call him a ossible. $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$ |  |  |  |  | TIIE IIUNGER STRIKE. GRIM DETERMINATION OF POLITICAL PRISONERS IN RUSSIA. They Wanted Fermission to Work, to Hecelve Foal from the Outside, to Read and to Go to Church-Vietory Seeured The following morning-it was July 3-all the prisoness of the "right solitary" refused $\square$ $\square$ $\square$  gotten the taste of-was placed in the cells in the evening, but they wore not to betempted and took no notice of it. The same night they were jomed by the "lefts," or the ocel $\qquad$ $\square$  beg for food," he thought. He did not sleep that night. He stole on tiptoe from one wicket hole to another, wateling what the  pallets, gazing  of hobgot, corridor. Early in was broug    and to friend $\square$  plicating the primoners to eat, in the name of God, but bis prayers and entreaties received no attention from the half dead sufferent Their consition that night was of a most de- preasing nature. Mon of them could no longer stand on their feet; some fainted, others raved constantly, an I special warders  had to wat-is at their leds all night in order to prevent their subtlen expiration. The director did not sleep all night. The physi- cian and his assistants had never had such a  buny time before, Fifty-elght men were apparently dyimg slowly from voluntary starvation. They touched nothing but water, and mome alon alntainel even from this.   |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |

