Local notices, 10cts. per line; and sets, after the first insertion. Only sets per line for first insertion for regular advertisers.

Lost, Found, For Rent, For Sale, Wanted, and Special notices, in classified "ad" columns, at the rate of one cent per word for first insertion and half rates thereafter.

Legal notices, Nonpareil, 10cts. per line for first insertion and sets per line for each subsequent insertion.

All local notices will be "starred" or otherwise designated as advertisements.

No special position will be agreed upon for any advertisement, though we take especial pains to display advertising matter effectively and give as favorable position as possible, frequently changing the "make-up" of the paper.

We make a special effort to change or re-build advertisements as often as our patrons desire, but make no contract to that effect.

No cuts will be used, except out-line cuts on metal bases.

We reserve the right to reject any advertisement that we deem objectionable.

TERMS: Cash in advance for small advertisements, and payment is required monthly or quarterly on large contracts.

Correspondence on topics of general interest, invited.

All news all communications to THE HEADLIGHT, TILLAMOOK, ORE.

TILLAMOOK, ORE., May 11, 1893.

People should beware of life insurance companies. The mutual companies as the A. O. U. W. and other similar associations are the best, the cheapest and safest.

Newspaper men everywhere should combine against the type-founders' trust. The proper way is for the printers to stand together and patronize anti-trust houses exclusively.

Our sprightly contemporary, The Monmouth Weekly Record, which has been sent to West Side readers for two months, ceased to "go" the last of the month. Scarcity of gold in the country caused its demise.—Independence West Side.

If we thought Governor Penneyer's independent attitude on all questions was sincere we should like to vote for him for president of the United States, but we fear that some of his audacious utterances are made only to attract attention.

The governor of South Carolina in a white apron as principal bar-keeper of his state ought to be a picturesque spectacle, but his predecessor's famous remark to the governor of a sister state is very appropriate since the passage of the new law.—Astorian.

Notwithstanding that Oregon is strongly Republican, all but one of her ex-governors now alive are Democrats not to speak of having a Democrat in the executive chair at present. Z. F. Moody is the only Republican ex-governor living, while the Democrats name four—Hons. L. F. Grover, W. W. Thayer, John Whiteacker and S. F. Chadwick.

An exchange says: "In order to get an enemy lend a man a small sum of money for a day. In three months insist upon his paying you. He will get angry, denounce you, and ever after speak of you in abusive terms." Now if some exchange will tell us how to get the small sum of money to start with we will endeavor to avoid making enemies.

A Chicago paper in summing up the total of reasons advanced why it would be dangerous to visit that city this summer, says they include everything a man prays to be delivered from in the litanies, from thieves to sudden death or pestilence, and then adds that the whole thing is absurd, since 1,500,000 people live there, not now and then, but all the time, and are not troubled about these things. It intimates that it would be well for those who do not know enough to go in when it rains, to give a runaway horse the right-of-way, and not to lend money to strangers, to invest in green goods, cash checks and buy gold bricks, to remain at home and invest in wind-mills, lightning rods and Bohemian oats at their leisure. Others might come and take even chances for their lives with the 1,500,000 who live there.

How little people really know of the amount of wealth possessed by the so-called multi-millionaires. Erastus Winan has long been counted one of these and was widely known, owing to his position on important national matters. Yet this man fails for $1,000,000, and the only property available for creditors is 400 acres of land on Staten Island, which at forced sale will not bring over $300,000.

A gigantic conspiracy exists to flood the country with Chinese. Every Canadian Pacific steamer for months past has brought a horde of Chinese. It is found that the number publicly reported to be on the steamers was less than half the number actually on board. The Empress Japan reported 400 when she had 1,000. Many of these came to the United States by bribing the United States officials. The price is said to be $125 a head.

Chicago correspondents to the San Francisco papers are writing their papers advising the people of California to stay away from the World's Fair. The hoggish propensities of the hotel keepers, and of the rail roads will keep several hundred thousand people away from the fair. Unless the skinning process is discontinued people should give the place a wide berth. It is thought that better inducements will be offered to visitors later in the season.

It is stated that at Bellingham Bay, Washington, contract had been made for lumber and shingles, requiring 1,500 cars for transportation to eastern points. Shingle-mills on the bay and on railroads tributary to the bay are running full force, and the Cornwall Mill at New Whatcom, is running night and day in an endeavor to keep pace with its orders. W. A. Wooden, of Fairhaven, is loading a vessel for Australia, and the Cornwall Mill is loading two for foreign shipment.

The Sacramento Bee exposed the wrong-doings of the last California legislature and heralded the adjournment with a great flourish, but the legislature was just winding up a night session and passed a resolution to submit to the people the proposition of moving the Capital to San Jose. This was in retaliation. The people of Sacramento have tried to boycott the Bee, and every paper in California has been geying the Bee for killing the goose that laid the golden egg. However, the fight against the Bee for telling some unpleasant truth is all wrong, and the proposition to move the Capital will be voted down as it should be.

GETTING IN THE WRONG PEW.

There is a pious drummer traveling for a San Francisco house, one of those truly good men who will sell you bean coffee with one hand and point you to the golden streets of Jerusalem with the other. Passing by Olsen's auction store yesterday, the drummer heard an organ pealing out the tune, "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me," and Martin Olsen yelled out, "Come in, services will commence in a few minutes." The pious drummer noticed the crowd in waiting, and turned to Frank Travers who was standing by the door in his shirt sleeves, he asked him what was going on in there, Frank said it was the afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. The drummer set down his sample case, went in and took off his hat and sat down in a cane seat chair, and as Olsen, who was at the organ, which was for sale, played the beautiful tune, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," a sweet peace seemed to steal over the audience, and the pious drummer placed his handkerchief to his face and closed his eyes. Brother Jim Christie noticed the strange conduct of the man and said to him "My friend, you seem to be in trouble, can I help you?" The man sighed and said, "I am a miserable sinner, from San Francisco, and I feel that it is good to be here. Christie told Capt. Hallock to watch the man and see that he didn't steal any of the furniture. Pretty soon Olsen got on the counter, and his Wesleyan countenance drew every eye, as he snickered in the Swede language. He soon broke the stillness by saying, "Shentlemens' you have heard our organ. It was oure ger sighen. It has eight stops and you can play anything on it from church music to dancing tunes, (snicker.) It is a lock stitch, stem winder, and how much do I hear for it. After I sell the organ we will sell a mule and some furniture. Bid lively." The pious drummer opened his eyes and saw he was in the wrong pew and he went out. Standing on the sidewalk, he pulled off his coat, spit on his hand, looked up and down the street, and said to the policeman, "I am a meek and lowly follower, and don't want no muss, but by the great mug wump I can whip the son of a tinker in his shirt sleeves that played an auction on me for a prayer meeting. You hear me." Captain Hallock told him the boys in Astoria were all that way, and cooled him down and he took his sample case and went into Carnahan's store.—Astoria Herald.

WAS A BRAVE WOMAN.

The lady who permitted the publisher of this paper, while on his return from McMinnville on foot Saturday, to take a seat in the conveyance in which she was riding, has our thanks and best wishes.—Dayton Herald.

LOOK OUT FOR THE NEXT.

The Populists are passing resolutions commending Gov. Penneyer's recent actions. He'll tell them to mind their own business first thing they know.

NOT APPRECIATED.

The following from the Lafayette Ledger implies that the paper is going out of business: "Those mossbacks that say a paper does not do our town any good will now have a chance to see whether it does or not. The Ledger has always spoke a good word, and labored hard for the best interests of Lafayette. Have the citizens of Lafayette done that much for the Ledger?"

We see but one ad. from the merchants of Lafayette in the paper and don't blame the Ledger man for getting desperate, yet the failure of many of the country papers is due to the lack of energy or ability on the part of the publishers.

PROPERLY IN IT.

The following is copied from the Washington dispatches in Saturday's Oregonian:

Murphy and Markley had the following postmasters approved today, and they will be appointed in a few days: V. H. Coffey, at Hare, Clatsop county; T. G. Worth, at Sunnyville, Multnomah county, and G. K. Quine, at Riddles, Douglas county.

It would seem from this and other announcements heretofore made that the above named gentlemen have not been ignored by the president.

THE MOSS-BACK.

Who is the moss-back ye's allude to
Yer fellers dead stuck on the make?
Please let us a moment delude you
And a fair little squint at ye take.
Yer biznis is wigglin a dollar
Or writin yer name with a pen
Or perhaps yer just hired to holler
Or warble ye's part now and then.
We moss-backs is gittin hard neckings
The dollars we don't git we airns,
We's wares gum boots without stockings
Ye's fellers had cornered the yarns.
In this wonderful Oregon kintry
Yer eatin the spuds that we raise,
The timber now housin ye's ginty
Was marked long back by our blade.
Yer perposin to send us to Chekarger
To be piled up for Oregon moss,
By the way there aint no embargo
Gint our taxes goin there to dead loss.
I suppose if 'twould pay legislatures
That rote as the plutocrats say,
Would exhibit us, worn out old creators,
And make us foot their bills on the way.
Yes and fire the old man cos he's mossy!
Yes and kick out the old pioneers!
And worst of it all treat us saucy,
But we'll go in a very few years!—Ex.
