BREVITIES.

The roads in the timber are very muddy yet.

The steamer Truckee is expected in to-day.

The Tillamook Cornet Band is being reorganized.

Mr. Young, father of O. Young, of Bay City, died last Saturday

The snow is six feet deep on the North Yamhill stage road yet.

Encyclopoedia for sale at this office, very cheap, and on montly payments.

The farmers are bringing in large quantities of milk to the creamery of this place.

An Orctown correspondent states that Mr. Cutting has started a cranberry orchard.

Work has begun on the reconstruction of the telegraph line between here and Forest Grove.

Frof. C. H. Freas and Dr. T. H. Mesrole went to Garibaldi to fish for deep sea fish Saturday.

Correspondence should reach this office on Tuesday or Wednesday evening to insure insertion.

Homestead claim, covenient to road and near the bay, for sale very cheap. Apply at this office.

It is a common thing now to see farmer's wagons on the streets now with several milk cans on them.

Mrs. Emma Wilson is now ready to do dress making and cloak making. Enquire of Mrs Hadley.

We have heard it said that the county of Tillamook pays $4.00 per month rent for—well, we won't say what.

The Tillamook HEADLIGHT, one of the best paying country newspaper in the state, is for sale.—Salem Democrat.

W. N. Vaughn had seventeen sheep killed a few nights ago. Wonder if there is a state law regarding sheep-killing dogs?

We give away with every dozen of cabinets one life size crayon portrait for a limited time only, at HEINS, Art Gallery. 51-52

Price Triplet has quite a number of horses to train on the fair ground. People here are taking a great of interest in horses of late.

Some of those who took examination last week were not trying for teacher's licenses. They were doing it for practice and for a standing.

A pleasant social party was given at the residence of Dr. W. J. May last Friday night, quite a number of school teachers being present.

From some unknown cause the contractor for the work on Dry Stocking bar has not arrived yet. The government inspector is here waiting for the work to begin.

The steamer Augusta discharged a large cargo of freight at the wharf on Friday. She sailed for Portland Monday with a large cargo of cedar lumber for Cohn & Co.

The typos in this office have typewritten "copy" now. Those who have had experience with the manuscript usually furnished by editors know how to appreciate the situation.

The telegraph operator and the editor of this paper have bought a type-writer—one that sits on the table. It is an excellent machine, the same kind that is used in the county clerk's office.

In the excursion on Memorial Day a general invitation is extended to the distant schools to take a part in the exercises. Mexican and Indian war veterans are expected to be present.

The report that the interest on county warrants had been reduced to four per cent is a mistake, so far as we can learn. Those who have searched the session laws say they can't find any such law.

The steamer South Coast went out Saturday bound for San Francisco. She took out a small cargo of lumber for the Oregon & California Cooperage Co., and was piloted over the bar by the steamer Elmore.

At the city council meeting last Saturday night the bill of the city marshal was allowed and the contract for building the fire bell tower was let to J. A. Munroe. The tower is to be 20 feet square at the base and 60 feet high.

It is about time some of our prominent real estate owners are circulating a subscription to raise funds to construct the road from here west to Tillamook river. If this city is liberal the county might be induced to help a little.

A wedding will occur tonight at Yaquina bay, as a result of the recent meeting of the state legislature. Two of the clerks, Mr. W. E. Baxter, of Salem, and Miss E. M. Lewis, of Yaquina, will be united in marriage.—Albany Democrat.

Mrs. Underwood has purchased a half interest in the Tillamook Bakery and Restaurant with Mr. Wm. Knoll, and the business will be conducted as usual at the old stand. They will be pleased to retain all the former patrons of the establishment.

Capt. Brownlee has returned to Portland. Before going he expressed himself as well pleased with the route for the Cape Meares light house road. It is understood that work will begin at this end—the Tillamook river. Operations will begin as soon as the bids are let, and advertisements for same will appear soon.

C. E. Reynolds has a large lot of Spanish hair mattresses, the best made. He received a stock of fine chairs per last steamer. Call and see him when you want anything in the furniture line, as he has everything of that kind usually found in a first class furniture store.

Capt. Philip G. Eastwick, of the U. S. Engineer's Corps, is here to inspect the work on Dry Stocking bar, which is expected to commence at an early date. Capt. Eastwick has leased the Elmore fishing station mess house for the men that are to work on the improvements.

Mt. Hebo is still crowned with snow, and the old settlers say that there is no hope for settled weather until the snow is gone from the mountains. It is supposed that presence of snow has the tendency to condense the moisture in the clouds, whereupon it is precipitated in the form of rain.

Those who ship packages to this place should beware of shipping by Express via North Yamhill, as it is almost impossible to get anything over that route at present, and very slow at any time. You can get packages here by boat promptly most any time, and the charges are very much less.

The HEADLIGHT will cost you only about three cents per week by the year, and if you cannot get that much satisfaction out of it, reading the county news, we don't ask you to subscribe. You will often save enough to pay for the county paper by being posted as to what is going on in the locality.

We have some accounts that we will sell very cheap; some for 25 per cent. discount, some for 50 per cent. off, and some that will sell for 5 cents on the dollar. Any downright mean man who has the facility of worrying money out of deadbeats should call at this office and see what speculations we have to offer them.

The regular price of the Oregonian is $2.00 per year; the Examiner is $1.50 per year. You can have the Oregonian and HEADLIGHT for $3.00 per year, or the HEADLIGHT and Examiner for $2.60 per year. This rate applies only to new subscribers to the Oregonian and Examiner. Other paper are supplied to our subscribers at reduced rates.

The steamer Elmore, having a cargo of freight for E. G. E. Wist and others, of Nehalem, started to go into that place Tuesday, but as the captain was not acquainted with the bar, it being changed considerable of late, the boat went ashore on the spit. She got off safely, however, Wednesday morning, no damage being done, and discharged her cargo. She is expected here today.

The Tillamook Lumbering Co. is busy sawing all the time now, and has a market for all the lumber sawed by the mill for some time, and no doubt the market will get better henceforth. The only trouble now is to find shipping facilities to get it to Portland. The Augusta can't carry it fast enough and the Harrison can't be secured at present. However, it is encouraging to know that there is a demand for the lumber.

The county clerk is making a copy of the delinquent tax roll and it will be completed the last of this week, when a warrant will be issued and placed in the hands of the Sheriff for collection. The Sheriff has to make return by July 1, and he will proceed to enforce the collection as fast as possible, as soon as he gets the warrant. The notice of levy will be posted on the real estate, after which the land will be advertised for sale.

Mr. J. E. Howard, who has the construction of the government work at Gray's harbor and at Tillamook, has arrived at Portland from the latter place. The dike at Gray's harbor will be completed in a short time, and Mr. Howard is now making arrangements to commence the work of building the dike at Tillamook. He has engaged the steamer Toiwo and will use her in connection with this work.—Astoria Budgett.

Our Pleasant Valley correspondent should try again, sending his letter two days sooner, and avoid mentioning the state of the weather. Send items of interest only, even if there is only one or two of them. We look over all such work patiently and when possible give encouragement to young people who try their hand at sending us news items. The first letter written by the editor of this paper for the newspapers was not published.

The steamer Elmore makes connection with the San Francisco steamers, which arrive in Astoria every four days. Hence the Elmore will make trips here every four days during the summer months. Through freight rates are made to Portland or San Francisco the same as by other routes. Passengers can leave Portland on the night boats and after a good sleep wake up in Astoria, ready to take the Elmore for Tillamook. When in Portland, the days of sailing for the Elmore may be ascertained by consulting the time-table of the U. P. Co.

Parties who send timber notices to this office for publication are respectfully reminded that payment must be made in advance, or the amount for each notice, $10.00, deposited in the bank here, to be drawn by us, when publication is completed and affidavit of publication made. We send affidavit direct to the Land Office. This rule is made in order to prevent any delay in parties proving up. We do not fear losing the money as a general rule, but as we have had some trouble in getting what is due us we are obliged to make the same rule for all.

Announcement.

I wish to sell a half interest in the HEADLIGHT to some competent man who will assume active and entire management of the paper. None but responsible parties, who mean business, need apply.

My reasons for making this offer are that I have other interests that demand my time, and I desire to remain in the East for six months or a year.

Terms and other particulars will be given on application, to those who think of buying.

W. F. D. JONES.

The steamer R. P. Elmore came into the bay Thursday evening with a cargo of freight and several passengers. Among the passengers were G. W. Fearnside, a merchant of this city; W. W. Ridehalgh, of Astoria; P. G. Eastwick, Government Engineer for Dry Stocking Bar, and two ladies who landed on the lower bay. The Elmore sailed for Astoria again Saturday with several passengers.

G. W. Fearnside has just received a very large and complete assortment of dry goods, boots and shoes, clothing and Gents' furnishing goods. Mr. Fearnside has the largest stock of dry goods in the city, and makes a specialty in that line. He also has the most complete line of clothing and shoes to be found in the town, and he is going to enlarge his shoe department room so that it will be, in reality, a complete shoe store. The people are invited to come and look at his new goods.

A representative of the HEADLIGHT visited the Fairview creamery on Saturday, and found everything in working order. At present the patrons are bringing in about 5,000 lbs. of milk per day, but it is expected that during the summer the daily supply of milk will reach 20,000 lbs., which, at a very low estimate, will make a weekly shipment of about two tons of butter. The manager, Mr. Mosier, is an experienced batter maker, and there is no reason why the product of this creamery should not command a good price. The revenue derived from this source will be a welcome addition to the income of Tillamook farmers, and will demonstrate in an unmistakable manner that the dairy interests of Tillamook are well worthy of encouragement.

The pleasant countenance of Mr. George Hyland fell across the threshold of this office last Wednesday morning, and in a cheery tune asked "how's the Transcript?" Being informed that it was "O. K." Mr. Hyland unbosomed to us the information that he is still with the Holton House, the very popular hotel of Portland. This house has lately changed hands, having been purchased by Messrs. Markley, Hays and Roche, the two former being two of Oregon's most prominent men in politics, while Mr. Roche has been no less prominent in Nebraska. The Holton is situated right at the point where the train stops as it goes into Portland and people of the West Side will find it largely to their advantage to stop there, as the house is at the starting and stopping point; is close to the business center of the city; its rooms are light, airy and comfortable, and its proprietors gentlemanly and accommodating. Mr. Hyland has friends in this section (as he has in all parts of the Northwest) and will be out on another visit before long.—Dallas Observer.

An outside paper that publishes sensational matter, reached this place Tuesday and an article in it caused a little excitment. It contained some very racy reading regarding the escapades of certain parties in this town and some people expect serious consequences to follow. We have no means of knowing whether the allegations are true or not, and in fact it is none of our business, though we believe such articles are productive of no good, even if they are true, unless the writer signs his name to them, or in some way shows that he is not afraid to father his own articles. The thing that the attacked parties would like to know most now, is the name of the correspondent that sent the articles to the outside paper, and they will not find out, perhaps, unless they bring suit against the paper that contained the article. If we ever say anything against our neighbors, we will say it either over or under our own name, so that the aggrieved parties may know who to lick.

A paragraph went the rounds of the newspapers, stating that the legislature had passed a bill giving a bounty of $3.00 each for sea lion's tails. The HEADLIGHT re-published the item, thinking it all right, but when the session laws appeared the alleged Law could not be found among them. The worst of it was, James Wilson and the Hauxhurst Bros. had braved the mighty deep, going in small boats through foaming breakers, to the Netarts rocks to kill sea lions for the bounty on their tails. After using about $10.00 worth of ammunition, and risking their lives, they got about 175 tails, which were supposed to be as good as $525.00 in cash. Being in need of some money, the sea lion hunters offered some of the tails as collateral to secure a loan. It is said that a certain party advanced money on them, expecting to get it back as soon as the session laws were out. But the session laws disappointed them. It is said that the sea lions destroy salmon, so the hunters deserve the thanks of the community, if nothing more.

There is a young Fallstaff in this place who pretends to be a business man, though he doesn't pay his debts or even try to. We had a book account against the aforesaid Lothario, which he neglected to pay, and we sold it to a man that is in a position to collect it, receiving ten cents on the dollar—amounting to 15 cents cash, which we would rather have than a note on the blooming dead-beat for one-hundred dollars. Suit would have been brought against him, but everything he has is under attachment now. We may have occasion to expose him for the benefit of the public yet.

There was an interesting trial before Judge Maulsby Tuesday. It was the outgrowth of the old quarrel about the location of the road on Wilson river, just north of town. L. G. Freeman had J. Svenson arrested for obstructing the roadway with some logs. T. B. Handley was attorney for Mr. Svenson and Deputy District Attorney A. W. Severance conducted the prosecution. Some of the testimony was very amusing. One witness was asked how he removed the log. He stated that he hitched his team to the big end of the log and pulled it around. He was then asked how he moved the other end. He promply stated that "The little end followed the big end." A witness could not understand or speak English, so an interpreter was necessary, and there was a demand to have the witness sworn in Swedish fashion. A bible was necessary, and a messenger was despatched to the HEADLIGHT office to procure one, it being deemed that this office would be the most likely place to look for one, after which the oath was administered and the trial proceeded. The jury, after hearing the evidence, gave a verdict of "not guilty." Such neighborhood wrangles are to be deplored, as they result in no good to any one, and put the county to needless expense. Nobody but the lawyers reap any benefit. It is said that the end of the quarrel is not yet. We have no idea who is most to blame, but we think it is time to stop it before there is serious trouble.

EDUCATIONAL.

In the regular teachers' examination certificates were issued as follows: 1st grade, G. R. Huff, Miss Lena V. Prescott; 2nd grade, Miss Maggie Tone, Miss Retta Schomp; 3rd grade, S. W. Jerman, Miss Theresa Orr, Miss Francis Smith, Miss Winnie Bennett, Miss Dora High and Mrs. May Willey.

Common School Diplomas were issued May 15, to Misses Myrtle Reynolds and Dora Mills.

A fine grade of school work is being done in the Latimer district, Mrs Kane, teacher.

We are very glad to welcome teachers from neighboring counties who come in with State Certificates. The laws of this state make it an easy matter for teachers to get state papers. Every teacher that can possibly do so should make an effort to secure the higher grades.

A petition is on file in this office for the division of district No. 31 (Bay City).

Districts No. 34 and 17, Trask river, have been consolidated.

Last Friday evening the teachers were received and royally entertained at the residence of Dr. May. A pleasant program was rendered, consisting of instrumental and vocal music and recitations. Short addresses were delivered by Dr. May, T. B. Handley and E. K. Barnard.

In a recent school examination the students answered as follows: Locate the stomach. "The stomach is a little north of the intestines." [EDITORIAL NOTE:—We always supposed that the stomach was about Sou'-by-Sou'-West of the left-hand vest pocket.] What should be the result of a careful study of physiology? "It destroys the health." What is meant by the poles? "A pole is the end of a sphere."

We have a long list of teachers that are looking for schools.

PERSONAL.

Miss R. A. Huse has gone to Seattle.

J. H. Bridgeford has gone to Salem on business.

C. & E. Thayer are expected home next week.

J. F. Reeher, of Glenora, was in this town this week.

D. C. Pearce went to Portland per steamer Elmore.

Robt. Crawford, of Nehalem, was in this town yesterday.

W. W. Conder, county clerk, made a trip to Nestucca last week.

G. W. Phelps, of Netarts, has gone to Portland on business.

W. W. Ridehalgh, of Astoria, was in the city on business last week.

C. T. Hills, the horseman, is living at Geo. Elliott's place on the Sand Spit.

J. E. Sibley, of Hobsonville, and H. E. Nelson, of Nehalem, were in the city yesterday.

G. W. Fearnside has just returned from Portland where he has been purchasing a large stock of dry goods.

Hebo.

Rev. Barrett has returned from Seattle.

What has become of our Nestucca bridge?

Will Bodyfelt and Wm. Butt, Jr. go to Walla Walla, Wash., this week.

Rev. Wm. Butt will preach at Three Rivers school house Sunday, May 21, at 11 A. M. All are invited.

Yamhill County.

[Telephone-Register.]

On Monday F. Wright began to excavate for the new brick block at the corner of Third and D streets.

G. A. Douglas, of North Yamhill, was in the city last Friday. It is his opinion that C. A. Martine did not carry away any money when he left that town so abruptly.

Al. Hussey, formerly a resident of this city, and well known throughout the county died in Portland, Monday, and was buried at Sheridan yesterday. The funeral was held under the auspicies of the Masonic fraternity.

[Reporter]

F. M. Lynch and Roy Wells went over to Tillamook one day last week. Lynch will practice dentistry over there.

W. A. Howe, on his return to Carlton from the east recently, brought with him two fine bird dogs for which he paid $250.

Editor Phelps of the official paper at North Yamhill, was in the city Saturday. He came down to get his pay for some county printing, but found, to use his own expression, that the "damned county court" had continued his bill.

[Sheridan Sun.]

John Moon located Fred Tuhn on a homestead on the Big Nestucca river last week. James Patterson went to his homestead over there to do some work, last Tuesday.

Unless we miss our guess, Yamhill will yield a crop of grain, fruit and hops this year that will surprise the natives. Never was there a more flattering prospect at this time of the year.

Al. Southmayd caught a genuine Eastern brook trout in the Yamhill river one day last week. It is one of the thousands turned loose a year or two ago in the Willamette river from a government hatchery in Michigan. The Michigan fish is more bulky and lacks the lithe, shapely build of the gamey native.

Nehalem.

[Nehalem Times.]

Assessor Chas. Pye is working in this part of the county. He reports that he is progressing nicely.

The Nehalem Mill Company have completed their repairs and will now run regular. They changed their saws so they can saw the larger logs without blasting.

Wm. Russel brought in a pair of elk horns which will be shipped to Geo. W. Bartley, of Astoria. They have seven prongs on each side and are a perfect pair of horns.

G. B. Johnson and J. B. Pape are repairing the telegraph line this week. They are giving the line a thorough overhauling and expect it will be in good shape all summer.

South Prairie.

The crops are growing rapidly.

Chas. Wells and family are visiting here this week.

Our old neighbor, Mr. McMillan, was here on business last week.

There is every indication at present for a good fruit crop this year.

A tramp came into this neighborhood recently but as he met with a cold reception he did not remain long.

Mr. John Marolf returned from Portland last Friday. He came via the Wilson river road and reports some snow on the mountains.

Preparations are being made for the South Prairie and Pleasant Valley Sabbath schools to unite in the observance of Children's Day.

The Louis Olsen Condemned.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—United States District Judge Morrow has condemned the schooner Louis Olsen. There was practically no defense. The attorney who appeared for the owners admitted that the vessel had landed Chinese. Olsen is under bonds of $5,000. District Attorney Garter does not seem satisfied, and he proposes to continue in the work of prosecution and Olsen will be called on to stand a trial on a criminal charge against him.
