The Fairview creamery was started up for the first time last Thursday, and was found to work successfully. Regular operations will begin soon.

Mr. Robert Hicks a land locator of Tillamook came through last week. He reports being a hand of thirty or forty ck on the north fork of Wilson river.—Hills to Democrat.

A Clackamas County paper says: "The Tillamook HEADLIGHT, the most successful county weekly in Oregon, is for sale. It is good property for anyone who wishes to engage in country journalism."

Dr. J. W. Kiger from Cincinnati, Ohio, has located in Bay City. The doctor will be a valuable acquisition to the town and will probably become identified with a prominent business enterprise at that point.

Dr. Wise is here at last. He has been delayed by a large amount of work at Holosville, and says he has made arrangements to stay here until his work is completed. He has enough dental work here to keep him busy for some time.

At the meeting of the Fair Association last week the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Geo. Colin president, G. O. Nolan secretary, Claude Thayer treasurer, and W. H. Cooper, B. C. Lamb and Wm. Eberman directors. The president and secretary are ex-officio directors.

Following are the names of the teachers being examined: S. W. Jernan, Maggie Tone, Retta Schomp, Lena V. Prescott, Theresa Orr, Mrs. May Wiley, Winnie Bennette, Josie Petre, Dora High, Frances Smith, John Day Jr., Dora Mills, Arthur Frazier, and G. R. Huff. Miss Eva Ross and Mrs. E. K. Barnard are being examined for state certificates.

The steamer Elmore came in Sunday evening with considerable freight and eight passengers, among whom were: Dr. W. J. May, M. Feland, Miss Libby Feland, Capt. Brownlee, Mrs. Underwood, and Mrs. G. A. Edmunds and the wife and child of the first mate on the boat. The Portland passengers left that place Saturday night at 10 o'clock reaching this place at 6 P. M. Sunday, making very short time between Portland and this place.

Capt. Brownlee, of the U. S. engineer's office is here. He is going over the ground between here and the Light House, accompanied by A. P. Wilson, making estimates as to grades and bridges so that the contract for making the road may be intelligently let. Work will be begun about July 1st, no doubt, and pushed to completion as fast as possible. What do our real estate owners propose to do towards building the road from here to Tillamook river?

A certain fakir timberland speculator wrote to several parties in this town, asking for an abstract of certain lands. The parties uniformly declined to make the abstracts for the Chinaman wages offered, and as the aforesaid fakir does not enjoy a very good reputation for paying his debts, he couldn't get the work done at any price unless he paid in advance. He sent a man here to do the work, and an abstract (?) was made that is worth what it would bring for "old papers." The abstracting agent that came here understood one system of abstracting, however; he skipped without paying his board bill at the Larsen House. We have a good mind to mention names; in fact we are going to show up certain pretended capitalists for just what they are, one of these fine days.

The Keeley Institute is advertising on another page. We do not look upon the Keeley Cure as a fake, but as a remedy that is and has been of vast benefit to humanity. We believe that it has saved more men from drunkard's graves than all the preaching and lecturing that has been done. The great and unparalleled success of the Keeley Cure will come nearer reforming the habitual drunkards of the land than all the legislation that may be enacted by prohibitionists. Many good and able men in Oregon have been saved already by the Keeley Institution at Forest Grove, and many others are taking the treatment. Among them are some of the leading doctors and lawyers of the state. It is not the criminal and vicious class of dive bunniers that are taking the treatment, but men of brains, who really wish to shake off the dreadful habit and lead a better life. Some people imagine it is a disgrace to be obliged to go to such an institution to be cured, but on a recent visit to Portland we found the general talk among the best citizens of Portland such as to indicate that a man is not lowered in the estimation of his fellows by trying to better his condition at the Keeley Institute. Those who go from there do not try to disguise the fact that they are going to Keeley. They make a public thing of it, and on their return invariably take a great deal of pains to tell to the world what the Cure has done for them. And, why should a man be held in contempt for trying to lift himself from the gutter? Better be a reformed drunkard, with a clear conscience, a good appetite, a well fed family and plenty of friends, than to live in the gutter, revel in poverty and misery, bring shame on your family and friends, and finally die with the jim jams. A very small per cent. of those who have been cured have gone back to their old ways, but they had to cultivate the liquor habit again, the same as when they started on their downward career, and those who are possessed with any desire whatever to keep straight find no trouble, as all appetite for liquor is forever removed, unless deliberately brought on again.

The town of Bay City is not booming at present, but the prospects for the future are getting much brighter. The boom was slightly overdone two years ago, and the place is just beginning to recover from the relapse. The people there have learned one thing, and that is to not push things too fast. Bay City is just the place for large milling industries, and they will come soon, but no great growth can be made until they do come. The lumber market is getting better now and the prospects are that it will be good enough to warrant starting up the mills generally on this coast, and the Williams mill at Bay City will no doubt be started this fall or next summer. Then the town will boom whether the people there want it or not. It is claimed by some that there are a few moss-backs there who work against all enterprises in town. The alleged moss-backs claim that the other fellows killed the town, but these bickerings are the natural results of hard times. It is so in every part in Oregon at present. Let good times come and factional strife disappears. In the rush the people forget about their prejudices.

There are indications that work will begin within a year on the Nicaragua canal. The work of construction there will consume millions of feet of Oregon fir. It will keep the mills on this coast busy during its construction. Trade all along the coast will get much better as the work progresses and there will be more building in California. This will take lots of lumber, also. In fact the Southern California lumber trade is looking up now. The anticipation of the Nicaragua canal is strengthening the confidence of business men on the coast, and the good effects will be felt before work begins on the canal, to say nothing of what it will be when the canal is opened and the billions of feet of Oregon and Washington lumber going through to an eastern market. Competition among the railroads is already begun, and when the work is done, times will be lively on this coast. The lumber regions will get the first benefit of these good times. Big cities will be built in a short time, and Tillamook bay will in a few years present a scene of activity equal to that of Saginaw bay perhaps. Bay City will get the full benefit of these things, and is destined to become an important manufacturing city before long.

The cooperage works and saw mill are running now, turning out about 20,000 feet of lumber per day, besides making boxes and staves. There is no waste at this mill. All the scraps are sawed into lath or boxes, and timber that can not be used at other mills is utilized to good advantage here.

Comer's mill will be running soon and will cut about 20,000 feet of lumber per day. Mr. Comer is making arrangements to utilize the excellent water power he has at hand.

J. H. Bridgeford, the manager of the Bay City Land Co., is doing everything possible to induce capitalists to invest in the place. W. S. Cone, proprietor of the Winfield House, is also encouraging any enterprise that is proposed for the place.

The Methodists have just finished an elegant little church, making two churches for the place. It is understood that a large school house will be built this summer, and it is expected that a newspaper will be started there soon.

In the great development that will be made in this county in the next two years, Bay City will no doubt be in the lead.

Was Here Once.

Lorenzo, the contortionist, got pretty well loaded up on essence of rye, etc., yesterday and his actions on the street not being entirely proper, the marshal put him in the cooler to sober up. It cost him $10 to square up with Recorder Roberts this morning.—Heppner Record.

EDUCATIONAL.

Mrs. May's pupils will pass final examination this week.

Miss May Surgeon has renewed and placed on record a First Grade State certificate.

Lester P. Smith teaches at Woods. He is a popular teacher in his part of the county.

We hear good reports from Bay City schools. Mr. Brooks is evidently doing good work.

Common School Diplomas have been granted to Madeline Wade and Bertie Perkins of Fairview school.

Query—May a pupil who has finished the course of study and secured the diploma retain enrollment in the public school. Ans—Certainly. Pupils of school age are entitled to all of the privileges of the school. A diploma is only an encouragement—not the end.

To School Clerks.—We are in receipt of a number of letters inquiring why the apportionment of school money was less this spring than last. We will answer them all in this: In the spring of 1892 Ex-Supt. White found in the hands of the county treasurer $4,94.80 and apportioned it to the several districts. At the present time taxes become delinquent at a later date and at the time for making the distribution we found only $2611.13 school funds in the treasury. Some may be disappointed in the spring funds, however, there is nothing lost as the fall apportionment will be correspondingly larger.

WOODS.

The Nestucca dust continues deep as usual.

The honey market is solid, and prices firm, with prospects of an advance.

The drought has not affected our crops as yet; we expect to continue seeding for some time.

The Nestucca creamery has commenced operations; there is no reason why it should not be a success.

Messrs. John and Albert Malaney of Washington are here surveying and making improvements on their farm.

BOYS—To the wife of W. J. Compton, a fine ten pound boy. The doctor says Mr. Compton is getting along nicely.

Dr. Linton has been quite busy for some time, but we are sorry to learn that he intends to quit the practice of medicine. We need a doctor here very much.

There are some young men in Woods who are gaining considerable notoriety of late by their Sunday night sports. During several weeks past there have been a number of harmless "tricks" played on different parties, and some that were not so harmless. A little sport occasionally is alright where no damage is done; but there are parties here who mean something more than sport. Several residences in town have had their windows broken with shot and stones. A T. Weatherly's drug store was entered one night by burglars bursting in the double doors at the rear of the building. The store has been entered twice by burglars during the spring, once at a back window. No one has been accused yet, but the parties are advised to not try it again. Perhaps some of these parties will conclude to leave town in a short time.

NEHALEM.

Captain Gates and A. J. Cloutrie came in from Astoria Sunday.

The six months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Klein died on Monday.

The creamery commenced operations Thursday. They are making fine butter and are well satisfied with the quality of the milk obtained in the Nehalem valley.

The Harrison went out last Saturday through what is known as the north channel. This is the first time this channel has been used for seven years and it is now the better of the two.

Hugh McCourt came down the South Fork Sunday with a fine string of logs and his pile driver which he has been using in logging the past few months. We understand he is to drive a number of piling for the Nehalem Mill Co., J. B. Pape and others.

[Nehalem Times.]

Jos. Effenberger's steam launch came in with the steamer Harrison, and was given a trial trip Monday. Capt. Effenberger has gone to Portland to procure his license and on his return will collect milk for the creamery. The little steamer will also carry freight, passengers, take out excursion parties, do towing, etc., at reasonable rates.

The steamer Harrison leaves to-day with a cargo of box shooks, from the Nehalem Mill Co., for Astoria. Captain Crim will take her to Portland and have her overhauled. The engine will be compounded and a new house will be built on her with passenger accommodations. As soon as she is completed she will make regular trips between this city and Astoria. She will also do the towing for the Nehalem Mill Co. It is expected that she will be ready in about three weeks.

OCCIDENTAL SOLD.

G. W. Pettit has sold the Occidental Hotel to A. L. Alderman of Garibaldi, and after June 1st, Mr. Alderman will take charge of the hotel. It will be refitted and made as comfortable and attractive as possible for the traveling public. Mr. Pettit has made a success of business, but desires to take a rest from the arduous duties of hotel-keeping. There is no doubt but Mr. Alderman will be successful in his management, also, and retain for the house its long-standing popularity.

BEAVER CREEK.

E. F. Lyster lost a couple of lambs by a wild-cat, but he caught the cat.

Gardens are backward, still we hear of potatoes six inches above ground. We have radishes of good size to eat.

The bears seem to keep some of the ladies pretty steady at home; therefore it is hard to find any news to send out.

The tracks of two different sized bears have been seen about Daniel Nichols place the past few days, fresh every morning.

E. B. Ely has lost one lamb this year, no trace of it can be found; we wish some good hunters would come this way bear-hunting.

All the neighbors have noticed with pleasure the improvement in Mrs. Otto Walther's health since her visit to the city of Tillamook.

Enquiries are coming in quite frequently from both Michigan and Pennsylvania also Illinois as to the prospect of making a fair living in Tillamook as photographers or "the stage," or getting employment on steamboats, or in stores. The HEADLIGHT is sent to all those who ask questions about the country.

ORETOWN.

The Nestucca Creamery Company has commenced business.

Born to the wife of Vincent Sutton, April 25, a girl; to the wife of J. R. Shaw, April 3, a son.

John P. Gage of Clackamas county is visiting his sons who reside near the Little Nestucca Bay.

William Gardner has gone to Salem to bring home his daughter Lottie who has been spending the winter at that place.

Mr. Rogers who started from Newberg about a month since with a team bound for Nestucca has not arrived yet. We suppose he is in a mud hole somewhere.

Miss Lewis, a former teacher at this place, has recently, in company with Will Baxter of Dolph, taken on the matrimonial yoke. Many wishes for their future happiness.

DIED.

Helen C. Reynolds, wife of M. M. Reynolds, at her home on Wilson river, May 4, 1893. The remains were interred in the Fairview cemetery, May 6. The deceased was born in Wayne county, N. Y., Dec. 24, 1838. She, with her husband and family, came to Pierce county, Wis., in 1867, where they lived until the fall of 1891; when they settled in Tillamook county, Ore. At the time of her death she was 55 years and 10 days old. She leaves a husband and five children, four boys and one girl, to mourn her loss.

"Dearest Mother, thou hast left us. And thy loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God that has bereft us. He can all our sorrows heal."

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

There is a man the printer loves, And he is wondrous wise; Whenever he writes the printer man, He dutteth all his 's.

And after he has dotted them With carefulness and ease, He punctuates each paragraph And crosses all his 's.

Upon one side alone he writes, And never rolls his leaves, And from the mass of ink a smile And snark "insert" receives.
