FREE SILVER.

REPRESENTATIVE BLAND IS PREPARING HIS SILVER BILL.

He will present it to Congress as soon as practicable.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—As soon after congress meets as it becomes practicable Representative Bland, the leader of the silver forces, in the house, will introduce a bill embodying the views of the silver men. It will provide for the repeal of the Sherman purchasing act and substitute therefore the free coinage of silver, at the present ratio of 16 to 1. "That," said Mr. Bland today, "will be the ground upon which we will make the fight, although there has been no definite plan agreed upon." He recognized that the men could honestly differ as to the ratio, but that was a matter that should be settled in the party itself. Upon the use of both gold and silver as money, at a parity, the democratic party, according to his way of thinking, could not differ. If a compromise measure, increasing the ratio was reached, he said, he saw no reason why the present dollar should not be kept in circulation as it was now. He proposed, however, with all his power, to resist any increase in the ratio.

The Fire at Chicago.

Evidence of a startling nature concerning the cold-storage warehouse fire was taken by the grand jury Aug. 4. The witness was John J. Duggan, formerly a saloon-keeper, and the man who first told the story concerning incendiarism. According to him there are 150 men concerned in the conspiracy, and he declared he had given the names to the grand jury. He said that right from the opening of the exposition goods of all kinds were stolen by the wholesale from the warehouse, and finally an incendiary fire was set to cover up the crime. The people concerned in the plot were employees of the cold-storage warehouse and a gang that lives just outside the grounds. Duggan declares there will be a big sensation when the thing come out in detail. The grand jury will resume its investigation Saturday.

Blount's Report.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Minister Blount's report on the Hawaiian situation has been received. It is long and very comprehensive. The annexation plan is discussed in all details, and the conclusion drawn that Hawaiians do not want annexation. Minister Stevens' act in raising the American flag and landing the marines is referred to at length, and the report puts that individual in anything but an enviable light. The idea of annexation is shown to have been the desire, not of the people, who, according to the principles of this government, have the right to govern, but of the few. The report will probably not be made public until sent to congress. When published the popular feeling here in favor of annexation will, it is believed, be allayed. The result of the report, so those who have seen it say, will be that the government will permit the Hawaiians to govern themselves, and no other government will be allowed to interfere.

The Chinese Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—A few days ago District Judge Ross, of the southern district of California, rendered a decision deporting Wong Dep Kan, a Chinaman residing in Los Angeles. In rendering the decision Judge Ross maintained that the clause in the Geary act, ordering the persons deported to be also imprisoned at hard labor, was unconstitutional. The Six Companies, of this city, have interested themselves in the matter, and propose to test the decision. They will have Wong released on a writ of habeas corpus and a decision rendered by the circuit court. Should the decision of Judge Ross be upheld it is intimated that the court of appeals will be resorted to.

Tricks of Trade.

A very amusing story is told in the Toronto Mail by a famous story-teller about a harness maker who lived many years ago in London. He had a handsome saddle in his shop, occupying a conspicuous place therein. On his return from luncheon one day he observed that the saddle was gone. Calling to his foreman, he said:

"John, who has bought that saddle?"
"I'm sure I don't know, sir," said the foreman, scratching his head as if he were trying to think. "I cannot tell, and the worst part of it is it hasn't been paid for. While I was at work in the back part of the shop a gentleman came, priced it, and then throwing it into his wagon drove off before I could think to ask his name."

That was very stupid of you," said the harnessmaker, disposed to be angry at the man's carelessness. "Very likely we have been robbed."

"I don't think that, sir," said the foreman, "for I am very sure that the gentleman has traded here before."

"Well, I can't afford to lose the money," said the harnessmaker. "We'll have to find out who took it and send him the bill. Ah!" he added, with a smile, after a moment's reflection, "I have it. We'll charge it up to the account of everyone of our customers who keeps open accounts here. Those who didn't get it will refuse to pay, so we shall be all right."

The bookkeeper was instructed to do this, and the bills in due course of time went out. Some weeks later the harnessmaker asked if the bookkeeper had succeeded in discovering who the customer was.

"No, sir," he replied, "and we never shall, I fear, sir, for about forty persons have paid for it already without saying a word."

Turkish Superstitions.

If a pair of scissors are left on a table open it is a sign of quarrel. If they fall upon the floor and stick up it means a visit, and if an apple or other fruit falls from your hand just as you are about to put it in your mouth it is a sign someone envies you. If a loaf or a piece of bread falls to the floor it is a sign that some of your relatives are in want of bread in a strange place. To bite your tongue signifies that you are not telling the truth. The little white spots which come under the finger nails mean various things, according to the finger. The right thumb nail means money earned; the left, finding money or a present. The first finger means friends, the next enemies, the third journeys, and the little one fibs. When an eyelash falls off and lies on the cheek it means a present of a new gown or other article of wearing apparel.

Delinquent Tax Fight.

The fight over the delinquent taxes of 1891 in Clatsop county has been decided by the Supreme Court, who upheld Judge McFried's decision that the tax was collectable notwithstanding the irregularities in the assessments. The decision virtually frees the county from debt and places its financial condition at the head of every county in the state. The suit was brought by W. C. and M. S. Warren, Cancy Welch, G. W. Wingate, the Astoria Investment Company and Samuel Elmore, all prominent property-holders. They, together with a large number of others, will now have to pay to Sheriff Smith $18,000 within the next few days. The present debt of Clatsop county is $57,000, delinquent taxes now collectable amount to $54,000, and the value of county property and buildings is $40,160, leaving a credit showing of $37,160 above all liabilities.

World's Fair.

The jubulations of the advocates of Sunday closing at the World's Fair are destined to be short lived. Judge Stein in the superior court has decided the director and officials who were directly responsible for closing the Fair Sunday July 23rd had violated the injunction previously issued by him and has ordered that five of the directors be fined $1000 each for contempt. One director was fined $100 as he voted to close in the belief the injunction had lapsed. Director General Davies was fined $250. Anthony Comstock announces that he is in Chicago to lead the crusade against the dancing girls in the Midway Plaisance. Failing to have them suppressed by the officials of the Fair he will probably appeal to the city authorities.

Cable to Hawaii.

The work of surveying a route and determining the practicability of laying a cable between San Francisco and Honolulu is about complete. This work was done pursuant to an act of Congress of March 2, 1892. A practical route has been found and it now lies with some private company to lay the cable. The total length of lines surveyed by the two steamers, the Albatross and Thetis, engaged in the work was 6,785 miles and in the sounding operations 179,142 feet of piano wire, worth $600, was lost.

No Work for Them.

The number of men now out of work in Chicago is larger, probably, than ever before. Work with the building trades in the world's fair, as well as in the city auxiliary to the fair, has come to an end. The building in the city that continues is trivial compared with the rush incident to the fair. Laborers are being thrown out of work daily and factories are reducing their working force. No provision is being made by the Chicago authorities for caring for these unemployed travelers from other cities. If they continue to pour into the city, as Western dispatches indicate, in armies from 3000 to 6000, it may become a matter that demands serious attention.

NEWS NOTES

GATHERED FROM ALL QUARTERS OF THE GLOBE.

Domestic and Foreign News obtained from various sources.

An earthquake shock was felt at Leicester August 3.

In the rock of Gibraltar there are seventy miles of tunnels.

The use of cotton cloth was brought to Europe by the Saracens, A. D. 800.

The karat, used in estimating the weight of gems, is a grain of Indian wheat.

Lonis XIV., though a "fine gentleman," was noted for his want of cleanliness.

During the Franco-German war the Germans lost 263 men from smallpox; the French 23,449.

A prayer book was among the articles found in the stomach of an ostrich which was lately dissected in London.

WILMINGTON, I. T., Aug. 4.—Nine Choctaw Indians, who were sentenced to be shot today, have been granted a further respite of one month.

Farmers in the eastern and middle states are shipping large quantities of hay to Europe where there is a great scarcity of that produce.

The fifth annual exhibition of the Southern Oregon state board of agriculture will be held near Roseburg, commencing Monday, September 4th, 1893, and continues six days.

In Madagascar a dissatisfied husband has only to give his wife a piece of money and say, "Madam, I thank you," and according to the laws of Madagascar, he is divorced straightway.

Queen Victoria still takes great interest in her study of Hindustani, and has become so proficient in the language that whenever a rajah from her Indian dominion visits her she converses with him in his native tongue.

The Red Bluff News notices the arrival and departure of a tramp printer who was as deaf as an adder and dumb as an oyster, but after borrowing sundry sums of money, got heavily drunk, found ears and tongue, and skipped on the Oregon express.

A Wisconsin editor rises to remark: "The longer we run a newspaper and write about people and events the more we realize how utterly impossible it is to scratch every man on the spot where it itches the most. True, it is much easier to kick a fellow on the place that is most tender."

France is soon to adopt an interesting innovation in the postal card system. The cards will be issued in the form of checkbooks, with stubs. The sender of the postal card can make memoranda of its contents on the stub, and can have this stamped at the post office before the card is detached, so that a verified record of the correspondence can be kept.

The archives of the port of Southampton, England, contain a curious naval law of the fourteenth century. The document holds the captain of a vessel responsible for the value of the goods lost if his vessel is wrecked on any voyage begun in spite of the opinion of a majority of the crew that the wind was unfavorable.

The great strike of English coal miners is doing all the harm expected from it, and more too. More than 250,000 men are now out. Coal prices have risen despite all statements concerning an overstocked market. Many iron works and factories are running short of fuel, and must stop operations soon unless the supply is increased. A few factory owners have already given notice that they must close their concerns within a week or two.

Students at Yale are subject to an annual tax of $25 for "breakage." The students "get even" by illustrating their artistic abilities on whatever smooth surfaces they find at hand. On glass fronts of book-cases and cases for specimens diamonds are used and figures are cut with great care and in many instances with beautiful detail. All surfaces so decorated are being destroyed wherever they are found and unblemished surfaces put in their places.

A. H. Hinch, who was lying in the county jail at Empire City awaiting trial for the killing of Andrew Wikman in August of last year, died of hemorrhage of the lungs August 2. Hinch gave himself up after he had killed Wikman and was put in jail, but he broke out just before the convening of the circuit court and was in hiding in the woods for a number of months, but was finally captured by Sheriff Wieler. He then was very sick and had contracted a severe cold by exposure to the winter storms, which caused his death.
