

News and Comment.

Fun! Fun! Saturday night. See bills giving programme.

The Elmore has about completed repairs and will sail for this place Saturday.

Dr. Wise will leave for Portland next Monday. Those wishing to see him will please call at once.

How is your sole? How are your uppers? If they are bad you can get them mended by Harry Grose.

The caravan returned from the south Tuesday, and will swoop down upon Nehalem next. They report showing to good houses.

William and Frances Steinmetz wish to express their thanks to the Ladies Aid Society and all friends who so kindly assisted them during the recent sickness in their family.

The man who cuts meat at the Central Market knows how to fix a nice roast, can slice a steak for you that is sure to please, and he studies the particular wants of every customer.

Dr. C. E. Linton and R. T. Weatherly of Woods were in the city yesterday. Dr. Linton is making arrangements to start a paper in Woods. The Doctor is a rustler and will no doubt succeed in the project.

P. F. Browne advertises his shoemaking establishment in another column. Mr. Browne has done work for the people here for a long time, and needs no recommendation from us. He is a first class workman.

W. J. Smith, Tom Coates and Wilbur Stillwell have been appointed appraisers of the estate of Jos. Green, deceased. As the estate consists of several thousand acres of timber land, scattered all over this county, and elsewhere, the gentlemen named will be gone for some time cruising over the land.

Voters, call at the treasurer's office, the books are public property, and see if they don't confirm what is said in an article in this paper entitled "Public Funds." Before you make up your mind, consult the school law, also, and go to the school superintendent's office and note how much has been received on teacher's examinations last year.

Harry Grose is now making boots and shoes in his shop next door to the Dr. Johnson drug store. He makes a specialty of honest hand-sewed work. Harry is a hard working young man, understands his business, and will be pleased to do work for his friends. You ought to see some of his handi-work. He makes a specialty of mending.

There will be a general democratic rally at the court house on Thursday, May 24, at 8 P. M. Hon. J. K. Weatherford, democratic candidate for congress, will address the people. He will address the people of Bay City on Friday evening May 25. Later.—The meeting is declared off, as the speakers found it impossible to be here.

The friends of this paper will do an act that will be fully appreciated if they will, after the count is made in the various precincts after the election, send marked tickets showing the exact vote of all candidates for all offices, as quickly as possible. This office will be kept open all night, if necessary, after the election, and all election news will be posted here and else where. When impossible to send full returns, send majorities for one or more candidates as far as possible. Generally, some one is coming to town after the count is made, and reports sent by them, addressed to this office, will be made public in tabulated form.

Arthur Provoost, one of the firm of Provoost Bros., who are starting in to manufacture brick here, concluded it was well to have a helpmate—One who could conduct the affairs of the household. Having prevailed on a young lady to assume the name of Provoost some time since, he went to Portland last week and the two were united in marriage. Arthur returned here with his wife the first of the week. They have set up housekeeping. Long and happily may they live together.—Dayton Herald.

No one need say the HEADLIGHT is prejudiced. Its fight is open, and all who differ in opinion are invited to use its columns free of charge. Get in and oppose the editor's political policy if you like. You can have all the space you want, and we guarantee you fair treatment in answering you. Nothing would please us better than for some man to state his objections to our policy over his own name. This is the only fair way to fight, and the only kind we use.

Obituary.

William Thornton, an old and highly respected settler of this community, died at his late home two miles east of town, Sunday night, May 20. Mr. Thornton was born in Cincinnati, May 25, 1821 but went to Illinois in 1826. In 1852 he crossed the plains to California, and in 1870 came to Tillamook.

Mrs. Thornton, one brother and one sister survive him. He had no children.

The funeral occurred Tuesday at Johnson cemetery, Rev. McLaughlin conducting the religious ceremonies. A very large number of friends and neighbors assembled there to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Hard Times.

The prices of all commodities have dropped. The HEADLIGHT realizes this and will give the people the advantage of a hard times price on the paper. Until June 15, 1894, the price of this paper will be only $1.00 per year. This applies to all new cash subscribers, all old subscribers who pay a year in advance, and to all who are in arrears and pay up until the present time and for a year in advance. This arrangement cannot last longer than stated, as $1.00 per year barely pays for the actual cost of the white paper, but we make this offer in order to give those who are in arrears a chance to pay up regardless of hard times, and get our books square. Do not delay this matter too long.
