The reports we hear from outside parties indicate that there will be a very large number of people visiting the coast at Netarts and Nestucca this year.

Quite a crowd gathered at Fairview Tuesday night to hear Mr Haudley speak, but were disappointed owing to a mistake in advertising the meetings.

A man who is prominent among the populists claims that Mr Handley will not grant the populist orator, Mr Fleming, a chance to meet him in debate.

After you pass through Cohn & Co's well filled store, you will find in the rear a shoe department, which is a veritable boot and shoe store in itself. A full line in all styles and the most reliable goods.

This warm weather is having deleterious effects on politics the hot sun is withering the ground leaves and unless there is a rain pretty soon the political field will look yellow prematurely. The farmers have as a general thing, however, laid their politics by and are attending to their other crops.

Another dime reading was given by the Ladies guild of the Presbyterian church in Bay City last Friday evening. The entertainment was every thing that could be desired. Their entertainments are refined and elevating and should be more liberally patronized. The receipts for the evening were $4.45.

Some vile miscreants took a boat out of the slough Monday night, put it in the middle of the street, hoisted sail, and manned it with a straw man, marked with various legends, inferring that it was going up salt creek. A card on it read "Take a drink with Mills," and on the sail was "Who said harmony." Some time in the night two strangers drove up alongside the layout and enquired the way to Bay City, and wanted to know which was the best hotel. Getting no response one of them got out to fight the apparition, before he discovered the mistake. The affair has caused much merriment. However, such pranks as these are uncalled for and are apt to have the opposite effect intended.
