Large Stock of Latest Styles of Millinery Goods.

Mrs. Sturgeon has returned from San Francisco, where she went to personally select a stock of millinery goods.

She has a large and complete stock of latest designs and styles. Some of the latest French trimmed hats. Call and see for yourself. No trouble to show goods.

Fat Paupers Walk Out.

The Coda family, consisting of man and wife and eleven children, who lived on T. H. Goynes place on Beaver, took a notion to leave the other day and not having means to secure transportation, walked out, taking the trail up the Big Nestucca. The man bought seven pairs of shoes here recently to prepare for the journey, but they were not enough to go around, and some went out almost barefooted. It is said the family are confirmed beggars, that they could have made a living on the place easily, and that Coda was offered work by several parties, and that he left a good job half done. They are headed for Washington state. They sent their household goods out by steamer, a small trunk and a small box containing their entire outfit of personal property.

Mrs. Coda weighs 240 pounds, and it is probable she will reduce her weight some before she gets to the summit of the mountain trail. The whole family is fat, saucy and in good health, though a few of them are rather young to attempt such a journey.

Last and Gro. That

A good laugh is better than medicine and you can get it in allopathic doses at the entertainment in May's Academy hall April 20.

The cream of the local talent, professional and non-professional, will participate. Messrs C. E. Reynolds and Chas. Curtis, with their assistants will impersonate the old plantation negroes in song, music, dance and comedy, concluding with the laughable farce of "Fun in a Restaurant," where nail-kegs are dished up in the place of oysters.

Al Leitcher who was the world's greatest prestidigitator, who will appear in the most mysterious illusions. One hour in dreamland with the Professor and his assistants. He will perform the aerial suspension act a girl being hypnotized, and suspended in mid air without any support.

Reserved seats will be on sale, Monday April 15, at C. E. Reynolds's hardware store and at A. Leitcher's jewelry store. Reserved seats 35 cents, general admission 25 cents, children under 12, 15 cents.

C. Mills and W. T. West have been wrestling with La Grippe.

B. H. Bunn of Tillamook City was in our community looking after business matters.

Messrs. Chas. Hall and Fred Foland have been to the county seat. They inform us that the roads are in a deplorable condition.

Mr. Myers, having disposed of his property, moved to Anity where he will make his future home.

Our ex-commissioner W. T. West, has disposed of the most of his scrub stock and has gone to the valley to purchase several full blooded jerseys.

A. W. Bunn contemplates having a few acres of beets this season. This is without doubt a profitable industry which ought to be met with more encouragement in this county.

On account of there being several other Beavers in Oregon, it is deemed entirely proper that the name of this place be changed. It is encouraged and seems quite appropriate, that we name our future town Samantha or Millsville.

A '49 Building Boom

The following is taken from the Astorian:

Mr. James Fox, of the steamer Harrison, states that Tillamook city is having a regular old '49 building boom and that the number of new structures put up there during the past winter would really astonish one. A new creamery is being built within the city limits which will have a capacity of 1000 pounds of butter per day. The Alliance Creamery has increased its capacity 30 per cent. Last year they shipped about 100,000 pounds of choice butter, and received an average of 22 cents at the creamery. The City creamery has been unable to supply the demand for their cheese. Their shipments have gone to Portland and the Sound cities, but very little coming to Astoria. The creamery made an average of 1500 pounds daily during the summer months, last year. Before the regular steamer trips were started between Tillamook and Astoria, by the steamer Elmore it was impossible for the farmers and producers of that country to get any reliable returns from their shipments. Now they are beginning to realize on their production, as evidenced by the healthy growth of Tillamook and the surrounding country. Astoria should reach out for a more liberal share of the trade of this section of the coast country.

The Tillamook Bakery is building a first class, thoroughly equipped brick oven, and will soon be prepared to do baking in first class order.

on the bay. This place has daily mail, daily stages, ocean steamers every few days, and is general head quarters for tourists. Stage and boat office in connection. Tillamook has good churches, schools, fraternal lodges, large stores, social advantages and all the adjuncts of civilization. The telegraph office, connecting with Forest Grove and Portland, is across the street from the Alderman, and all the pleasures of coast life may be enjoyed here, yet parties can communicate with outside points regarding business interests on short notice.

The Alderman is a new three-story building, cosily finished, with pleasant verandas and light, sunny rooms. Those who desire to engage rooms for the summer months should write at once to,

The inspectors that we longed for never came. At least they haven't come at present writing, and Messrs. Cary, May, Roberts and Richardson and not in a good humor. The steamer Gerlie has been waiting for two months to be inspected, and for some unexplained cause the inspectors have failed or neglected to come here. It is extremely annoying to those interested, and seemingly unjust.

There will no doubt be a full house to see the entertainment to be given to be in the May academy April 20. The people here have not had a chance to see Mr. Leitcher in his famous legerdemain acts, and should not miss the opportunity. C. E. Reynolds and Chas. Curtis have quite a reputation as local comedians and will draw a large house.

Last Friday the new mail schedule went into effect. The mail now leaves Nehalem in the morning and goes through to Tillamook the same day, and comes through from Tillamook in one day. This is a big improvement over the old schedule when it took about 48 hours for mail to go either way—Nehalem Times.

Dr. Kinney says that it is the intention of Mr. Hammond to extend the Seashore road to the mouth of the Nehalem. This will be done just as soon as the Astoria-Goble road is finished. The survey, however, will be made this summer, and everything such as the right of way, maps, etc., got ready for an early beginning.

The public school and the May Academy will celebrate Arbor day, to-morrow (Friday) jointly at the Academy, at 2 P. M. All are invited to attend. An address will be made by Claude Thayer, and there will be recitations by pupils from both schools. Handley's orchestra will furnish music.

Mrs. Sturgeon has opened her millinery store next door to Leitcher's jewelry store (formerly occupied by Beals Bros.) temporarily. As soon as the buildings on the corner are fitted up her store will be moved into the G. A. K. building, and the drug store will be located in the corner.

At Mrs. Johnson's and Miss Ruggles millinery store you will find the latest styles in New York millinery. Fresh and new by last Truckee. Hat frames from 25 cents to $1.25. Trimmed hats from $1.00 upward.
