KILLING SHEEP.

THE NELSON BOY ACCUSED SLAYING SHEEP AGAIN.

Prosecuting Attorney Selph was called to the south end of the county last week to prosecute some malefactors and alleged malefactors.

Among them was the Nelson boy, who was convicted of sheep killing two years ago by the circuit court, and whose fine was remitted until he only had to pay $75 and costs.

He is a son of G. S. Nelson, of Dolph, and the history of his last trial is no doubt fresh in the minds of the people here. There was a very clear case against him, and it appears that he not only killed the sheep, but scalped them and otherwise mutilated them in a most horrible and bloodthirsty manner. The evidence really went to show that the boy was most vicious in nature and had a mania for blood. He is a fine looking, intelligent boy however, and he and his father always stoutly maintained his innocence, claiming that the evidence was a put up job, all for spite work.

The sheep killed belonged to A. B. Pollard, or his relatives, and it is alleged now that he has been again killing Pollard's sheep. The boy again maintains his innocence, but the prosecution claims to have a clear case.

It seems that the boy was seen with a gun in the immediate vicinity of the sheep, and that he was heard to shoot several times. The owners of the sheep immediately investigated and found several sheep killed, being shot through and through several times, indicating that he had kept firing into the sheep after they were dead.

The wounds were made by bullets that came from young Nelson's gun, there being no similar gun in the neighborhood.

He was brought up before Justice Jasper Smith, waived examination, and will have his trial when circuit court meets.

While Mr. Selph was down there he also prosecuted Marcellus Kellow, who was fined $20 and costs for an assault upon S. F. New.

It seems that Kellow had suspected that New had been poisoning his (Kellow's) hogs, and was on New's place searching for them. New ordered him away finally, and Kellow proceeded to give him a severe thrashing.

Harvey Scott's Sister.
Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, sister of the illustrious editor of the Oregonian holds different views from her brother. She said recently in a letter in the Oregonian:

"We are confronted by a condition, and not by a theory or theories—though, no doubt, you have heard something like that before. We all know that the value of every imaginable commodity, except gold, is away, away below par. the golden calf is the god of great commercial centers of the world, and I believe that all outside honest worshippers at its shrine are either blinded at its glitter or coerced by the pressure of its hoofs.

It seems to me that these United States have no more right to submit to the domination of the rest of the world in the management of our currency than we have to bow ourselves out of national existence at the behest of British guns.

I believe the demonization of the home product of our silver mines by the act of 1873 was a blunder worse than a crime; but I do not believe the unlimited free coinage of silver at any ratio will prove the cure-all for which we are grasping. We, as a nation, can no more reasonably engage to coin all the world's silver than we can contract to buy all the world's potatoes. But we can, and it is my sincere belief that we must, coin all the products of our own mines, both gold and silver, beginning with silver at the old ratio of 16 to 1. I believe that the seigniorage, or "toll" for such coinage, would go so far to relieve our depleted national exchequer that the Cleveland administration might get through with its remaining two years of financial floundering without borrowing any more millions or hundreds of millions, for our great grandchildren to wrestle with in despair."

Railroad News.
The following is an extract from a letter from A. B. Hammond to the HEADLIGHT:
"You can rest assured that the resources of your section of the country have not been overlooked and our articles of incorporation include an extension to Tillamook Bay. At present my time will be fully occupied with the Astoria and Columbia River, and the Oregon Central (formerly Oregon Pacific) Railroads. The building of the former is quite an undertaking, and shall not take up the building of any extension until that is completed.

However I hope to visit Tillamook this season if it is possible for me to do so, and believe that the time is not far distant when you can eat your breakfast at home and your dinner at "The Portland." Yours Truly,
A. B. HAMMOND.

CITY ORDINANCE.

ORDINANCE NO. 50.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND AN ORDINANCE:
The people of Tillamook City do ordain as follows:
Section 1. That section (1) of ordinance No. 47 is hereby amended to read as follows:
"It shall be unlawful to use for dances, dance halls, theaters, shows, or any kind of public gatherings of any name or nature, where to the public is invited or allowed to congregate, any hall within the city limits, or any room capable of seating over fifty people, unless the entrance to the building in which said hall or room is situated shall consist of a door-way not less than six feet high by four feet eight inches wide and provided with swinging doors so hung that they may be opened outward or inward with equal facility and by pressure of five pounds in either direction. This Section shall not apply to mercantile establishments situated on the ground floor."

Sec. 2. That section two of said ordinance No. 47 is hereby amended to read as follows:
All such halls shall be provided with not less than two methods of exit on opposite quarters of the hall, one of which may be a fire escape as mentioned in ordinance No. 47."

Sec. 3. That section three of ordinance No. 47 is hereby amended to read as follows:
"At least one of such methods of exit shall be by stair or hallway neither of which shall be less than four feet wide in the clear, provided said width shall only apply to buildings built subsequent to the passage of this ordinance."

Good Drawing Card.
We clip the following from the Jacksonville Times:
"The Readick Co. will probably play at Medford during the first week in May. Mr. Readick is well known to the people of this town, having appeared here with the Evans-Sontag combination and also with the Stutz Co. He was married last week on the stage at Red Bluff Calif., to his leading lady."

We have noticed items in various newspapers at various times stating that Mr. Readick had just been married to the leading lady. It is a good way to draw a crowd.

When Mr. Readick was here the leading lady was known as Mrs. Readick, and it is probable that they thought the customary marriage ceremony here unnecessary, as they had a full house. Readick has considerable ability as an actor, however.

Better Yet.
A misunderstanding has caused some misleading statements to appear in the newspapers regarding the wages paid at the Truckee mill, at Hobsonville, and the HEADLIGHT finds that it made an error also.

The company has never paid less than $1.00 per day and board, even for common labor, and this is fully as good as is paid by any mill on the coast.

We cheerfully make this correction.

Advertised Letter List.
The following letters remain uncalled for in the Post Office at Tillamook, Oregon, and will be sent to the Dead Letter Office in thirty days:
Mr. Frank Barrows.
Mr. J. S. Kirkley.
Mr. Frank Norberg.

A Difficult Trip.
It was with great difficulty that the remains of J. H. Maddux were conveyed across the mountains to North Yamhill. It was necessary to carry the body for quite a distance on the summit of the mountains, and a sled was used part of the time. The melting snow makes the road quite bad for such a trip just now.

Ripans Tabules purify the blood.

SAD ACCIDENT

WM FITZPATRICK KILLED IN A RUNAWAY.

Wm. Fitzpatrick started to drive from this place to his home on South Prairie last Friday evening, and his team became frightened at something when near C. R. Hunt's place, and ran away, striking the wagon against a log which projects into the roadway.

The wagon was broken in two, and the team ran on with the tongue and fore wheels, which caused someone to investigate the damage done.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was found where the wagon was wrecked, and was unconscious. Dr. Wiley was summoned, but the injured man died in a few hours, never regaining consciousness.

Not a bone was broken, and no bruises were visible. His death was caused by concussion of the brain, the force of the fall producing a jar that caused death.

Deceased was a native of Canada, about 60 years of age, and has resided here the past few years. He was highly respected.

The remains were buried in Netarts cemetery.

Will Not Incorporate.
The people of Bay City on April 27, decided by a vote of 38 to 24, not to incorporate. The vote on city officers was as follows:
Mayor,—W. C. Morton, 42; W. S. Cone, 20.
Recorder,—James J. Pye, 39; J. H. Bridgeford, 23.
Treasurer,—Wm. Ward, 38; Alfred Dean, 24.
Marshal,—Chas. Patterson, 40; Theo. Jacoby, 22.
Aldermen,—James Fuller, 38, M. B. Pettys 38, O. Young 38, S. A. Brodhead 38, Miles Warren 24; C. H. Hicks 24, Alex Finlayson 24, S. G. Custis 24, F. Long 24, A. M. Hare 24, J. C. Bewley 24.

Produce.
Speaking of the Harrison arriving in Astoria recently, the Astorian said, "she had a cargo of miscellaneous farm and dairy produce among which were the following: Forty boxes of cheese; 60 boxes butter; 25 cases eggs, and 60 sacks potatoes. She had fourteen passengers. Passenger travel is picking up between this port and Nehalem, and Tillamook, quite a number of people are going into that country to locate. The dairying interests of Tillamook county are becoming well known to the outside world and are doing much to attract settlers that way."

There are farmers in the Nehalem valley and other portions of the county who have lived on their ranches from ten to twenty years, and have not cleared over an acre of ground during all that time. They are the class of people that are opposing the Cross road law. A trail is good enough for them, and is all the county court ought to give them. These lazy and shiftless silurians don't want to pay a cent toward building good county roads and ought to be compelled to go without any at all. Clatsop county is infested with some of the laziest and shiftless farmers on earth.—Astoria Herald.

Anderson's Mill.
A. G. Anderson has his mill on Killam creek, South Prairie, completed, and will soon be ready for business.

The new planer, which is a fine piece of machinery, is being put in place, and Mr. Anderson will turn out dressed lumber, mouldings, brackets, etc.

He has developed a fine water power, and has built his mill in a very substantial and workmanship like manner. It will be of great advantage and convenience to the people of South Prairie.

Married.
C. S. Robbins, the popular post-master and hardware merchant, of Nehalem, and Miss Lillie Wilson, an estimable young lady, were married at the residence of A. P. Wilson in Hobsonville last Sunday. Rev. Morgan performed the ceremony.

The happy couple make this start in life with favorable prospects, and the best wishes of many friends.

Notice.
We wish to inform the public that the North Yamhill and Tillamook stage line is now making daily trips on schedule time, making connections with the 3:30 P. M. train for Portland.
