

DO YOU WANT A LOAN?

Money in Any Quantity to be Had at 10 Per Cent.

It has been suggested that all who want to borrow money can get it at a very low rate, if they will take proper steps to secure it, and give good security.

Many banks and firms in the east now have more money than they know what to do with, and it is a very common thing to see them advertise like the following:

"Money to loan at 6 per cent no red tape, no commission, no bonus, no gold coin clause in notes, long time, three to six years."

Now, there is plenty of money offered like this in the East, and there is no reason why the same capitalists are not willing to take 10 per cent. here.

There is no outside capital here. What little money there is here is handled by bonus men at rates that run from 50 per cent. to 500 per cent. And the bonus men are out of money now. Those who had money to loan have it all loaned out and can't get it in. You can't get money by paying a bonus now, no matter if you are obliged to have it.

Many people are behind and must have money or lose all they have—a great sacrifice at least. Every time they pay a bonus, even if they can get it that way, they are much worse off, and it takes only a little bonus business to wind the borrower up completely.

There is a chance here for outside money, and $25,000 could be loaned here readily on first class security. Some say we are better off without it, and that the debt will be ruinous in the end. But we think a man can stand it to pay ten per cent. longer than he can pay fifty per cent.

Some outside capital at low rates would help many to pay long standing bills, give them a new lease on life, encourage them to do something, and help the men they owe. It would develop industry and help the country.

All new countries that have made progress have used outside capital for development.

There is plenty of good, valuable farms, timber lands, and town property here, that is perfectly reliable for security. It is not valued too highly, and loaning money on one-third of its valuation would be very conservative.

This country has magnificent resources, bright prospects, and values will increase here fast. There is no wild-cat boom or speculation about it. Taxes are reasonable and the county will soon be out of debt.

It isn't everyone that needs or wants money—only a minority who have been unfortunate, or who were pinched by the recent hard times, but a great many who would not care to borrow would like to see some money brought into the country.

Several reliable men, leading property owners and business men, also farmers, have agreed to assist in persuading some capitalist to put out some money here. A number have signified a desire to borrow money if they can get it at reasonable rates.

There is no doubt at all but what the matter can be worked successfully and all the money that can be loaned here secured in a short time if the leading citizens will join in representing to capitalists in the East the resources and opportunities in this county. We know of several firms who would come here with $25,000 if they knew they could loan that much on good security.

Those who are interested in securing loans, or who wish to see the circulation of money increased in these parts are invited to call at this office where further particulars will be given.

Tillamook to Nehalem.

The HEADLIGHT man made a trip over the northern part of the county last week and here are some of his observations:

It is a comfort to make a trip over the bay on the steamer Girtle. She makes the trip quickly, a little over an hour being consumed in going from Tillamook to Garibaldi, and the journey can be made comfortably rain or shine.

Mr. Theodore Parks, the genial merchant and post master at Garibaldi, has a word of good cheer for everybody, and understands human nature well enough to offer a cigar to country editors when they come along. He is doing a good business and has a well stocked store.

Mr. and Mrs. Squires have lately taken charge of the Garibaldi hotel and here are some of his observations:

It is a comfort to make a trip over the bay on the steamer Girtle. She makes the trip quickly, a little over an hour being consumed in going from Tillamook to Garibaldi, and the journey can be made comfortably rain or shine.

Mr. Theodore Parks, the genial merchant and post master at Garibaldi, has a word of good cheer for everybody, and understands human nature well enough to offer a cigar to country editors when they come along. He is doing a good business and has a well stocked store.

Mr. and Mrs. Squires have lately taken charge of the Garibaldi hotel and here are some of his observations:

ther, furnishing his own motive power.

All this is easier said than done. On the south side of the river, a short distance above the cannery, may be seen the new mill put in by Wheeler & Hinkle. They are just beginning to saw, and when they get under headway will cut 30,000 feet per day. This is going to help Nehalem a great deal.

The next place is Tohl's store. Henry Tohl has a large two-story building, and a good stock of general merchandise. He also has a commodious wharf, and has a number of other buildings in the town.

Dr. W. A. Wise has a neat and substantial office building there, and Dr. Linton has his drug store in this portion of the town.

Andrew Klein has a large and commodious hotel which he conducts in a first class manner. The creamery here is well fitted and has a good plant, but through lack of enterprise and concerted action the creamery is not operated, and Nehalem thereby loses a great deal of prosperity which could be easily assured.

The ruins of the mill on the island are characteristic of the general state of affairs on Nehalem. When the mill burned there was a general suspension of business, and the fact is, little is doing in Nehalem at present. There is a well founded rumor however that the mill is to be rebuilt, and a millwright was recently on the ground making estimates. He expected to be at work on the new structure in about two weeks, and if the project goes on Nehalem will grow again faster than ever.

Near the plank walk, half way between Tohl's and Wist's towns is being built a new school house which is of sufficient dimensions to meet present needs, but which will be found too small in a short time.

The next place is Wist's, the ruins of Mr. Wist's store are sufficient indications that the glory of this place has departed to some extent until milling operations start up again.

The Columbia hotel here, by Mr. Larsen, is a large, well arranged building, and is in experienced hands.

Mr. Earside has a large stock of general merchandise, groceries, supplies, etc., and seems more than contented. He is doing a good business and carries most everything in stock that is desired by the Nehalem people.

Pape & Robbens have a well stocked hardware store, and keep stoves. Mr. Robbens is post master. They are doing what they can to build up the town.

Clem de Somers, who was married last Sunday, runs a barber shop here, and Sam Lundborg has a meat market.

The editor of the Nehalem Times is prospering, as is evidenced by a large pile of lumber and the excavations for a house which he is beginning to build on his property on the hill.

Another dwelling, and the new M. E. church, which is to be a fine building, will be put up at once along side of Mr. Johnson's new residence.

A little way above Wist's town site at the forks, is Krebs's place, and here too, is a fine town site. Mr. Krebs has done a great deal lately improving his saw mill, building wharves, etc., and has an excellent mill. The mill building is large and roomy, he has plenty of power, good machinery, and an excellent planer. He turns out good lumber, and with his planer finishes it in first class shape. He will at once add an edger, cut off, turning lathe machinery, and an outfit for making sash and doors. Mr. Krebs was only for the local trade, but may branch out later on. Mr. Krebs has an elegant and tastily finished cottage built near the mill, and he is patiently waiting for some fair lady to share the domicile with him.

Joe Effenberg is located here also, and he has a large, well finished hotel. His hotel occupies a slightly place, and is well managed.

Though times are dull at present, Nehalem has made a great deal of progress in the last three years, and has a good future. Three town sites stretch along for over a mile on the north side of the river, and what is needed is a good plank road or street from Tohl's to Krebs's, and at the latter named place there is a ferry, crossing the river, enabling anyone to ride or drive direct to Tillamook, something impossible for Nehalemites until the road spoken of is completed.

Camp Meeting.

The Free Methodists will hold camp meeting, D. V., on the farm of Mr. A. Harris, 4 miles south of Tillamook city, Oregon, commencing Wednesday, August 14, 1895, continuing until the evening of August 25, 1895. Everybody, of all denominations, and all, come prepared to entertain themselves. Tent poles and straw will be furnished on the grounds. Come one, come all. Come with your tents, bedding and baskets and let the name of the Lord be praised at this feast of tabernacles. By Order of Committee.

Taxpayers Take Notice.

We have closed the tax roll to make out the delinquent list. On and after the 15th day of July, 1895, we will be ready to receive taxes again, and on and after the 15th day of August, 1895, we will begin to levy on all delinquent property for taxes and costs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The road petitioned for by A. W. Fletcher and others was ordered opened.

The road petition of Felix Roy and others was rejected for irregularities.

Tax rebates were allowed to the following persons: Orville W Green, $5 81; Mary E Wood, $4 09; A P Wilson $14 40.

H. Lowery's bill for gravel furnished was rejected.

The court ground out another grist of road bills, but type falls us in expressing ourselves at such length. They were allowed as per the usual custom, however.

Court adjourned until August 1st.

Oretown.

J. B. Upton and family, of Portland, is camping on the old Cleveland place on the bay. They will remain there all summer.

Jessie Ley, of Portland, will spend the summer in Oretown, at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. H. Rock.

Mrs. Higgins, Amelia Potter and John Potter, of Oregon City, spent a week in Nestucca lately. They visited the Misses Mann in Oretown.

Mrs. Thomas and family are spending their vacation at the bay.

Henry Page is building a new hotel at Slab Creek. He expects to have it ready for accommodation of the public in a few weeks.

Our roads are singularly dusty, made so by the unusual number of campers coming in so early.

The Oregonian and HEADLIGHT, only $2.00 many are taking advantage of this rate.

Mr. M. K. Handy, an account of those observations regarding Mexico, appeared in the HEADLIGHT some time since, has been receiving many inquiries regarding the Tehuantepec country where he proposes to lead a colony. Mr. Handy is not speculating in land, but he wants company in the new country, and thinks there is a big thing in it for those who will go. He will be in Tillamook on his way to North Yamhill and Portland in a short time, due notice of which will be given in advance, and he will explain the colony scheme and describe the country to all interested. He expects a committee of those interested to go and see the lands first, and all negotiations will be carried on through the U. S. Consul at the city of Mexico in order to be safe in regard to titles. Mr. Handy's present address is Nehalem, Oregon.

It was reported by Henry Meldrum that in a cave near the mouth of Rounding river a petrified Indian had been found. The petrified archaeologist of the Courier deemed the find of sufficient importance for personal investigation. He found the rocky aborigine squatting on his heels with his back against the rear wall of the cave. His face is turned upward and eyes open as if he was transformed into stone at the moment when he heard some one tell the story of the dairymen in the foothills who put energy into the naturally lazy bull calf that forms the motive power of his churning by tying a muzzled coyote to his tail.—Oregon City Courier.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Selph, and Coroner Reynolds went to Nestucca last week to investigate regarding the dead man who was found there recently. There were no certain means of identification, but from the clothing and the color of the hair on the corpse, it was decided that it is the body of Christenson who was drowned last fall. The jury returned a verdict accordingly, and concluded that the man came to his death by drowning. Christenson had been fishing near the falls, and suddenly disappeared.

The Races.

The races on July 4th and 5th were well attended, and quite an interest was taken. The purses were nearly all won by Hadley's mare. The rain caused the track to be very slow and there was really no good running. Following is an account of the races:

JULY FOURTH

First—Running, one-half mile and repeat, $60, first money $40, second money $20, entrance fee $10.

Entries, Hadley's mare, by D. J. Hadley, first and second money. Sorral Frank, by Price Triplet, shut out, being distanced.

Second—600 yards and repeat, $25, first money $15, second, $10, entrance fee $5.

Entries, Insurance Jack, first money. Sleepy Tom, second. Bob Dailey, shut out first heat.

JULY FIFTH

Third—600 yards and repeat, $35, first money $20, second, $15, entrance fee $5.

Entries, Hadley's mare, first money. Sleepy Tom second. Insurance Jack, shut out.

Fourth—One-fourth mile and repeat, $25, first money $15, and second, $10, entrance five dollars.

Entries, Hadley's mare, first money. Steel Range, second money, though shut out. Sleepy Tom and Insurance Jack, shut out.

All photos reduced to suit hard times, from 75 cents per dozen upwards.

MARKETS.

Potatoes—There is no demand for old; new find ready sale at 75c to 85c if ripe and of good size.

Eggs—The receipts have been greater than the demand and stocks have accumulated. The market is weak today at 14c. Cattle all eggs before shipment so that quality can be guaranteed.

Flour—The market is strong with an upward tendency. Good brands of Valley and Eastern are held at $2.75 to $2.85.

Butter—Brine, 15c to 20c per roll for number 1; store, in rolls, 10c to 15c per roll; choice dairy, 18c to 20c per roll; creamery, 25c to 30c per roll.
