Do You Know!

that it pays to Advertise in the Headlight?

Why?

Because it Gives

The County News,
County Advertising,
Is Fearless in Policy,
Grants Free Discussion,

And, is bright, spicy, well-printed, and has attractive and artistic "ads"

This is why everybody takes and reads the HEADLIGHT. No other paper in the county can compare with it in circulation. It fits the Pioneer Paper,

and its subscription list is rapidly increasing.
Fine job printing plant in connection.

Texas made a mistake. She should have passed a law to make Corb. and Fitz. fight or shut up.

The Sheridan Sun was somewhat truthful last week. The editor was in Salem attending the fair.

Abigail Scott Duniway is editor of a new paper called the Pacific Empire, published in Portland. It is for woman's rights. The HEAD-LIGHT is with you, Aunt Abigail.

The Democrats are badly split up on the silver question, and it is safe to say half of them will vote the populist ticket next election.
Democracy is in hard luck at present.

Mexico will not allow the Corbett—Fitzsimmons fight on her soil, and Texas has passed a law to prevent such encounters. There are plenty of places left if they want to fight.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows has made a regulation debarring all saloon keepers and gamblers from becoming members of the order. The rule will not apply to those already in the lodge.

Mr. Hubbard has sent 100 pounds of his fine Nestucca honey to the Portland exhibition. His honey is superb, fine flavor and of excellent appearance. It is in frames, and he has a neat label on each frame. This is the first show of enterprise in that direction we have seen, and we warrant it will attract a great deal of attention.
Somebody will offer a fancy price for the lot before the exposition is over. There should have been a ton of fancy roll butter sent there, and a pile of Tillamook cheese as big as a house should have been exhibited. Let's resolve to do something next year, and keep kicking ourselves for not making a better showing this year.

Mrs. de Navarro (Mary Anderson) has now completed the autobiography of her stage career, and a series of the most interesting chapters from the manuscript will be printed in the Ladies' Home Journal. In these articles Mrs. de Navarro will tell of her first appearance on the stage, the experience of her theatrical life, and the famous people in America and England whose acquaintances she made. The Journal will begin the autobiography in an early issue.

A SARCASTIC LETTER.

James Lawless stops his paper and talks of finances as follows:

Ed. HEADLIGHT:—I must ask you to discontinue your paper and mail no more to me after my present subscription expires. But I desire to state that it is throughout personal motive, nor with any malice afore or after thought, but purely through conscientious motives. I might state reasons a yard long, but will not worry your fertile brain with them. I will merely state that I cannot support any paper which teaches the free silver doctrine, for I consider it a curse to our country and people.

I believe that nothing is or can be money without it contains within itself intrinsic worth, and this means its usefulness to man, for any and all purposes, and that this was the principle, and idea—thousands of years ago and has throughout stood, and ever will the last of time and experience of mankind.
And after careful study of the nature and quality of the metals, I am unable to discover an excuse for using silver at all. It is a "hanger on" to gold. Simply through experiment and blundering it has been used, and if it never had and the question should now be introduced, I feel that it would have no show whatever for these certain reasons. And if any silver howler can enlighten me with solid facts regarding this question his chance is wide open, but they must be facts, not the empty assertions that are now used and such as appeared in your paper on the 26.

Now if you can mention any purpose wherein the cheaper metals such as copper and aluminum are not just as good, and generally better than silver, where these metals now are, or ever has been used you will advance a step toward helping me out of the darkness. I know you will say, "see the millions invested in silver mining," very good, but I say see the amount invested in horse cars, yes even the old reliable steam locomotive. Are not they and in fact everything in its turn giving away to newer and better methods, and as they give way don't they take a tumble in value, and were not the millions invested in these enterprises just as honestly as those in the silver mines? In short, the old must inevitably give way to the new. Bear in mind that aluminum was not understood until the present time and only partially as yet. You say, "silver is the money of the constitution"—well was not the constitution an experiment.
Will you say even that it is not at this hour. Were they able to foretell as time rolls on from national to state, and have they not both read them? What about the slavery question? According to your theory would not the south be on the side of justice and equity?
Now you howl "gold bug". Have you forgotten the shekels, but for which we could not fight the South? Who paid for the soldiers hardtack, bacon and clothing?
But you never mention the silver shark, you try to make it appear that these beings are all angles, and that they are not possessed of a hungry crew. I have had years of intimate acquaintance with these animals, and I feel quite sure that should one of them catch you by the knap of your pantaloons you would receive an insight on the silver question.

I could proceed thusly a long distance but my extreme modesty forbids. Yours with friendly intent. Tillamook Oct. 2, 1895.
JAMES LAWLESS.

[Well, Jim, we can't well afford to comply with your first request.
We shall not discontinue the paper but will cease mailing it to your address. One other man stopped his paper some time since because of our alleged free-silver tendencies. That man was a member of the legislature once, and before election he signed an agreement to support Senator J. H. Mitchell for re-election. It was well known then that Senator Mitchell was a strong free silver advocate and, the country had been flooded with his speeches on the subject. We mention this to show that people of all kinds are inconsistent sometimes. Jim, you are not inconsistent. You flatly and frankly acknowledge that you don't want silver as money. A good many gold bugs call themselves bi-metalists, but they don't mean it. They are not as honest as you are Jim, but they will benefit from gold bugism, whereas you will not. Another thing, Jim, in your letter you refer to statements in the HEAD-LIGHT as if they were made by the editor. The article you refer to was written by a Mr. Hansen, and it had his name to it. Just as well accuse us of agreeing with the sentiment in your letter, just because we publish your letter.

We are glad to give you a chance Jim, to express your opinion.
From beginning to end it is a little the best argument against your own cause we have seen.

LATE LITERARY NEWS.

Rudyard Kipling makes his last appearance as a teller of Jungle Stories in the Cosmopolitan for October. "Mowgli Leaves the Jungle Forever," and the curtain is drawn over one of the most charming conceits in literature. In the same number in which Mowgli makes his final adieu, appears for the first time before an American audience, the now-famed Richard Le Gallienne in a plea for religion under the title of "The Greatness of Man." A very important paper on "State Universities" is contributed to this number by Professor Ely. And among the story-tellers are Hopkinson Smith and Boyesen.
No more beautiful work has ever appeared in any magazine than the marvelous illustrations of Cab-rinity used as a frontispiece and accompanying the prose poem by Mrs. Cardozo. Drake—who is said to be Kipling's favorite artist for his Jungle Stories—Carter Beard, Osterlind, Demman, and Kemble, are among those who contribute a wealth of illustration to this number. The Cosmopolitan announces that it will begin the publication in January of the Agriculturist's Illustrated Magazine, to be fully the equal of the Cosmopolitan, but containing from sixteen to twenty pages by the ablest agricultural writers of the world, upon subjects of importance to the agriculturist, horticulturist, and stock-growing interests.

REGARDING THE CENSUS.

Statesman: The population of Tillamook county has increased 32 per cent. in the last five years.
The increase of the next five will be proportionately still larger if Salem gets her railroad to the sea, which she should have next year.
It ought to go by way of Sheridan touching salt water at three places within Tillamook county, in the bays of Nestucca, Tillamook and Nehalem.

Oregonian: Tillamook county now has a population of 3804. In 1890 the population was 2932. The gain is a little over 30 per cent, and is in excess of that for the state at large. Tillamook has great undeveloped resources. The county will easily sustain 50,000 people.

"Flunky" Lamont Swells Up.

General Miles is now at the head of the army, though a fellow named Lamont called him a "newspaper general." General Miles won his laurels by hard fighting in the rebellion, and by cleaning out the murderous Indians of Arizona.
He is not a West Point graduate, hence other officers were a little jealous. Gen. Miles was famous 25 years before Lamont was heard of. Lamont is a lawyer's clerk who has been advanced only by appointment, and it looks ridiculous to see a "flunky" like him criticizing an experienced and competent soldier.
