Anyone who has turkeys for the holiday trade should put a notice in this paper. They will sell readily at big prices if people know where to get them.

What would be more appropriate for a Christmas present for your wife than a fine mirror, hat rack, rocking chair, or bed lounge. A new carpet would please her. There are also at least 100 other articles at Thompson's furniture store that would suit the old lady.

Levi Stillwell, the genial Tillamook liveryman, was in town Wednesday. He says times are fairly good over there. The dairying, lumber and fishing industries make the money circulate. He came by North Yamhill and says the road is still good.—Yamhill Reporter.

It has been discovered that there is one Chinese pheasant which makes his abode on Mark Harrison's place, often feeding with the chickens there. It is the only one known of in this part of the county, except the five that James McCain sent over recently. Mr. McCain has requested that the five be sent to him and that the one here. Woe be unto him who takes a shot at them.

J. H. Hecker and wife arrived from Wisconsin this week. Mr. Hecker is an expert creamery man and will take the management of the Tillamook Creamery.

After the holidays our columns will not be overrun with paid business locals. Let us prosper for the time being, and maybe the paid locals will give you information where you can get what you want cheapest.

Christmas is coming and everybody likes to receive and give a few presents. The editor of this paper and his family are no exceptions. We should like to have some who owe us settle before the last of next week, that we may enjoy the holidays with the rest of you.

W. Walls and family started to leave on the Elmore this week, intending to return to Colorado. C. E. Reynolds and the Alliance Market had claims against him, and Walls was arrested before the boat got out of the bay, being brought back to Tillamook. The case is pending.

A. King Wilson, attorney for Schermerhorn, of Portland, was here this week trying to compromise with the Fairview Creamery. He had poor success. It is understood he was trying to get Fred Schonberg out of the Association. Mr. Schonberg may go out of the association on his own accord in order to facilitate matters, but it will not help Schermerhorn much.

Dr. Wise will be at his office in Tillamook during November and December, except the first week of December, when he will be at Nehalem. On the first of January he will leave for Portland, to meet appointments there during January and February. Those who wish to see him will please call without delay. 1-f

A full line of silver ware, table services, spoons knives and forks, all warranted first class goods, at Sturgeon's. Also a complete line of jewelry, pins, cuff buttons, rings, badges, watch charms, necklaces, chains, watches, etc. Come in and look at the albums, plush frames, scrap books, games and toys. More goods coming.

B. R. Daniel, an old pioneer of Tillamook, died Thanksgiving morning, aged 66 years. The funeral occurred Saturday, and was largely attended. The remains were interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. We have a long and interesting sketch of his life, which owing to its length and the late date of receiving it, is delayed until next week when it will be published.

This season's work on the harbor improvements on the bay is about completed. The engineer and the men who worked on the improvements speak well of Mr. Ewing, the contractor, who has done good work and paid his men. This is somewhat remarkable from the fact that many people condemned Mr. Ewing from the start, judging from the experience with previous contractors. Really something has been accomplished this year.

Three thousand ardent Christians in Cleveland, Ohio, have formed a pool, and are going to pray incessantly until the first of next year for the salvation of Bob Ingersoll's soul. They say it can be done, and they think it would be a big thing for the Lord if he could get Bob on His side. Poor old Pagan Bob is plodding along in his evil ways just the same however, though it is rumored he is negotiating for a job lot of prayers to pull himself out of purgatory when the proper time arrives.

W. E. Martin writes from Hobsonville Tillamook county, that he is enjoying himself and that Am Shadden does nothing but yell at his good luck with a gun. There is plenty of game, ducks being in the bay by the thousands and the tide lands covered with snipe. He gives Tillamook bay credit of being the best duck ground on the coast, far superior to Sand Lake and Nestucca. They have not yet settled themselves to duck-shooting, but have killed in the neighborhood of 200. Mrs. Martin has killed six ducks and is rapidly becoming expert. Mr. Martin says he never has seen as great a run of salmon in his life as there was this year. The canneries have closed and the bay is fairly alive with fish. Some of the fishermen made as high as $150 per week during the season.—Telephone Register.

Rain, rain, rain.

Congress convened Monday.

If you have anything to sell, advertise it.

Still you can find bargains, bargains, bargains, at Bixby's.

There is likely to be a clean-up next June in—well, there are some needed reforms that will come.

When you pay for space in which to say something, see that you say something that will pay.—Printers' Ink.

A collecting agent for the steel range outfit has been in the county recently. While fording the Nestucca he got a good ducking. We are blamed sorry.

Mrs. Smith, of Iowa, who is visiting with her sister Mrs. N. McMillan, at the mouth of the Nehalem, gave birth to a fine baby girl a few days ago.—Nehalem Times.

R. D. Sales and daughter Daisy, left this morning for Portland. Mr. Sales recently received word that his eldest daughter was dangerously ill in that city.—Nehalem Times.

Warren Daugherty was tried before Judge Mansby Tuesday charged with larceny by embezzlement. A. B. Schoonover, of Nehalem, was the complainant, and it appeared that he gave Daugherty a note of forty dollars for collection, that Daugherty collected the money and did not turn it over until after prosecution was begun, when he 'rustled up' money and paid Mr. Schoonover. Judge Mansby turned Daugherty loose to the surprise of the prosecution.

B. C. Lamb & Co.

Orestown.

On the Monday preceding Thanksgiving day an interesting shooting contest took place at the home of C. Christensen. Being possessed of more turkeys than he could possibly use that day he gave a turkey to the best shot of every round, there being eight rounds fired to dispose of the eight extra turkeys. There was a large attendance, some to shoot and others to see the fun. Each shot cost the holder of the rifle 10 cents. Quite a number shot several rounds and failed completely to win a Thanksgiving dinner while others won the prize without apparent effort. The successful contestants were as follows:

Mr. Durke, 4 turkeys during 4 rounds.
S. H. Rock, 2 " " 2 "
A. Commons 1 " " 8 "
Will. Penter 1 " " 7 "

Thanksgiving day was celebrated here by the old regulated custom of a big dance which was held in the old store owned by Capt. Crim. Despite the stormy weather there was an attendance of over forty persons who all seemed to enjoy themselves unusually well on this occasion. A bounteous repast was served at midnight. Capt. Crim was kept very busy weighing out the candy and nuts which the young men and (the old boys, too) deemed necessary to bring the fair damsels up to their ideal of sweetness. The Christmas dance will be held at the same place.

Albert Plank is visiting in Portland.

Born, to the wife of V. Sutton, Sunday Nov. 24, a son.

Rev. J. Faulconer delivered a sermon at the Orestown school house Nov. 24. The house was filled to crowding.

Beaver.

Owing to the limited number of ladies Thanksgiving ball proved but a fair success.

It is thought by many that a physician would do well if located at Beaver.

Mr. Wilson and partner who have rented Mr. Bixby's ranch realized from $60 to $75 per month during the fall season.

Bev. C. Mills and wife are now in the Golden Gate city on business as well as pleasure.

Having foreseen the increase of trade, our enterprising merchant has enlarged his establishment and is adding to his present supply of stock.

The people of Beaver can boast of having five ministers of the gospel among their number, and as near as your correspondent can learn each represents a different faith. Notwithstanding the many clergymen the conservative proclivities of the lay fraternity manifests itself as in a recent instance, when Fitzsimmons knocked Corbett out in the first round.

Notice.

We wish to inform the public that the North Yamhill and Tillamook stage line is now making daily trips on schedule time, making connections with the 3:30 P. M. train for Portland.
